Comments on Amazon's sale of toxic and illegal skin lightening creams

On behalf of the Sierra Club and the Beautywell Project, we submit the following 24,496 comments from individuals regarding Amazon's sale of toxic and illegal skin lightening creams on its online marketplace.

Founded in 1892, the Sierra Club is the nation's oldest and largest grassroots environmental organization. The Sierra Club works to communities from toxic chemicals that impact our health and the environment.

Commenters generally signed onto the following petition:

Stop selling illegal mercury-laden skin lightening products!

I'm writing to ask you to immediately remove illegal and toxic skin lightening products containing mercury from your marketplace. Despite repeated warnings from advocacy organizations that such products exist on your site, I'm appalled that no appropriate action has been taken.

Consumers shouldn't bear the responsibility of having to discern whether the products sold on your site are legal or toxic. Amazon and eBay must do a better job of regulating skin lightening products sold on the site through third-party sellers. Too often these products are mislabeled and there is little recourse for advocates or consumers to have suspected toxic products flagged for removal.

Amazon and eBay must be proactive about ensuring third-party sellers follow appropriate laws and that their products aren't harmful to consumers. This would mean implementing the actions your companies have agreed to take voluntarily in Europe, which include tracking government warning lists and providing a way for people and governments to notify your companies to remove illegal listings.

Mercury-based skin creams are among the most hazardous products available for sale online. Please take immediate action to remove these harmful products from your marketplace and put in place stronger safeguards to see that similar abuses cannot happen again.

We call on Amazon to immediately take the steps listed above to ensure these toxic and illegal products are not available on its marketplace.

Sincerely,

Sonya Lunder MPH

William Brewington, Anchorage, AK	Stop
Kristine Hutchin, Eagle River, AK	Taking advantage of women who are already oppressed individuals plain and simple stinks. You can't go much lower. I would suggest you attempt to find these products that are safe from toxic ingredients. You can make that part of the advertising. Then it's a win win situation.
Susan Vogt, Fairbanks, AK	disgusting
Robin Arnot, Ketchikan, AK	I simply can't believe that these products are legal! Remove them from sale immediately!
Faith Moeller, Kotzebue, AK	Mercury-based skin creams are among the most hazardous products available for sale online. Please take immediate action to remove these harmful products from your marketplace and put in place stronger safeguards to see that similar abuses cannot happen again.
Edith Crowe, Wasilla, AK	The color of one's skin is not important -- their hearts are what matters!!
Carol Thomas, Albertville, AL	Stop selling anything that is hurting anyone.
Susan Lyons, Birmingham, AL	Big companies need to be leaders for the environment and the health of their clients. Please take action and remove these products.
Paul Youngblood, Brownsboro, AL	Come on, folks. You can do much better than this. Use a bit of your substantial resources to treat your customers to safer products, please.
Rebecca Titford, Fairhope, AL	Black lives matter! All life matters!! Please do the right and moral thing. We look to your companies (Amazon & Ebay) to lead the way with new business models, so please do so with the highest ethical standards.
Dale Wood, Fairhope, AL	This is another way to make money

Stephanie Monticciolo, Huntsville, AL	..the Souls on this planet matter!!
Ethel Anne Keeble, Mobile, AL	Internet sales should not include items known to be dangerous to health when used as directed.
Desean Freeman, Montgomery, AL	These products are especially detrimental and dangerous to black and brown people around the world, who 'suffer' from the stigma associated with the media narrative that "what is white (caucasian) reflects what is beautiful." Amazon and eBay are but two of many businesses and corporations that take advantage of, and profit from, racial/racist tropes and images.
Barbara Eckes, Pell City, AL	Please
Amy Hagan, Prattville, AL	You are poisoning people who trust your marketplace!
Angie Kelly, Vestavia Hills, AL	Please choose people over money and do the right thing.
Andy Winger, Bella Vista, AR	C'mon, don't you make enough money without having to peddle poison?
Carolyn Knaus, Eureka Springs, AR	My mouth was poisoned from mercury tooth fillings and I developed a tumor right there. ..Mercury is toxic to the human body. Please get it out of skin products. THIS IS NOT ETHICAL . It has to be far from the human body.
Trella Laughlin, Eureka Springs, AR	THIS IS RACIST ! All colors of skin are beautiful. No lightening. Celebrate diversity!
Fred McLane, Fayetteville, AR	Please stop marketing questionable products that could seriously impact consumers
Lisa Hassell, Jerusalem, AR	If you want my business to continue with you do the right thing and clean up your act.
Tom Trevathan, Jonesboro, AR	Leaders should lead toward good. Please choose this direction.
Rebecca Tisdalelove, Pearcy, AR	Please listen. These products are dangerous and support ignorance based on being ingrained with racism. You should never sell products that cause physical harm. Thank you.
Jeff Wyant, Rogers, AR	Don't sell products that harm people!
Spencer Julien, Cave Creek, AZ	We need to protect our environment ASAP! Please!
Thomas Sonandres, Cave Creek, AZ	This is a no-brainer. No mercury in skin-creams. When no longer offered, announce with some fanfare.
Justin Crawford, Chandler, AZ	Allowing these harmful substances to be sold promotes false beauty standards and harms those who buy it
Malikah Shakir, Chandler, AZ	As a God Believing woman of color I find it abhorrent that was ever a dangerous product as this ever made. I am grateful of the rainbow of colors God Has Created humans in. His Creations of the variety of human hues is one of this world's greatest miracle. STOP in an effort to cause havoc in one of the world's greatest masterpieces STOP! Please take your damaging products off the market.
Barbara Bishop, Cottonwood, AZ	This is completely abusive and downright wrong! Please take these mercury laden products away. People have a right not to be poisoned. Stop harming people!!
Linda Moser, Cottonwood, AZ	I believe these products are used predominantly by women. Another product that adds to body shaming women and girls. Don't sell any product that poisons anyone.
Mary Sojourner, Flagstaff, AZ	Do your job. Respect your customers.
Fredric London, Gilbert, AZ	Mercury is a toxic and dangerous substance. Nothing containing mercury should ever be sold if it involves the skin or consumption of this deadly substance.

Ryan Nielsen, Gilbert, AZ	There is simply no need to provide these dangerous and toxic substances! Please remove the sale and promotion of these products from your marketplace!
William Shaheen, Gold Canyon, AZ	My wife, with her red hair, freckles and melanoma, frequently laments, "I don't know why people think white skin is any better". Again, she has melanoma. The use of such products should not be encouraged. Does EVERYTHING have to be about $$$.
Ola Cleon Jones, Green Valley, AZ	Bad news!
Sandra McMahan, Green Valley, AZ	I am an Amazon Prime member and I am insisting that you act responsibly and be a leader in this.
Waid Reynolds, Green Valley, AZ	Please do the responsible thing!
Yolande Van Burk, Marana, AZ	Please! Please, take action to either discontinue selling the highly toxic or poisonous products that have been banned from store shelves for that reason! Or at least please provide a prominent Warning on these products listings so that uninformed prospective buyers are aware what these products contain and can do to their health. Please!
Elaine Balgemann, Mesa, AZ	You must stop selling illegal mercury-laden skin lightening products on their websites!
helen Dunn, Mesa, AZ	This matters to me because i care about humanity.
Shelly Gordon, Mesa, AZ	There is no need to sell toxic products that hurt people's lives. There are many alternatives. It's not just about profits. Please stop selling these products!
Diana Heintz, Mesa, AZ	Please!
Joan Jones, Mesa, AZ	It is important for consumers to trust that you only choose safe products for consumers . Your biggest strength has to be trust . It is important that All products are reviewed prior to being available to the consumer . Number one rule > Do No Harm !
John Ulaszek, Mesa, AZ	These products are people killers.
Vania Black, Phoenix, AZ	I am a very happy Amazon Prime member, however, this is tarnishing my impression of Amazon. Please remove illegal & toxic skin lightening products containing mercury from your marketplace, now!
Karen Dedonato, Phoenix, AZ	You will be responsible for the damage this product causes- financially and professionally. Do the responsible thing and refuse to sell these products that you are now aware damages your users health.
Rom Doer, Phoenix, AZ	Seriously you sell products with Mercury in them? Get these off your sites!
Tom Edwards, Phoenix, AZ	Take some personal responsibility for this.
Harvey Fox, Phoenix, AZ	the use, sale and shipping of these dangerous products need to be stopped... Voluntarily jf possible, by legal force if needed.
Charlotte Gandee, Phoenix, AZ	It's true that you provide a great service in the fact that you have made anything and everything available to consumers, thank you. However, tighten up guidelines and scrutinize the products you are offering for sale. Consumer safety over profit!
Dustin Glass, Phoenix, AZ	By making these products available, we encourage and condone their usage. Times have changed and we must change with them!
Karey Haj, Phoenix, AZ	As someone who cares greatly about what products I use and how they impact my health I am appalled to learn Amazon sells products which are illegal! Amazon clearly produces enough money for the company to better monitor products to ensure their customers won't be poisoned. That Amazon hasn't already taken action is very disturbing, and I hope to see the company take better steps in the interest of protecting their customers. I strongly question doing business with any company who takes such little interest in their client base, and wonder whether this behavior of Amazon will cause other customers to question their business relationship as well. I sincerely hope Amazon will do what is best for the health and wellbeing of their customers, and take swift action to remedy this terrifying business practice.

Surya-Patricia Hood, Phoenix, AZ	With all the money you have, you still need to be told how to act correctly. Or is it because you know better but your greed gets in the way of you acting the way you should?
Robin Madison Hilfinger, Phoenix, AZ	Do the right thing!
Margot Mahlmann, Phoenix, AZ	If these items are sold thru your website, I can't in good faith "trust" that the items that are SOLD, & that I may order are "safe & also not fake or fraudulent"... then I have no choice but to refrain from purchasing from your website. Please ensure that products SOLD are legitimate & safe. Thank you for reading my concern about illegal and/or toxic products being SOLD TO CONSUMERS thru AMAZON &/or eBay.
Nancie Malin, Phoenix, AZ	STOP
Joan Mason, Phoenix, AZ	Please do not participate in the poisoning of women and harming of our environment. Amazon and EBay must not sell these harmful products to their customers. We expect a sense of responsibility from you: do not fall short!
Suzette Pesce, Phoenix, AZ	Too much toxicity in our world. I'm hoping you will help lessen the chemical ones. I can't imagine the people working in the plants that make these are safe from its harmful effects either. I know it's a bigger issue of vanity but every little bit helps. Thank you for listening. And FYI I am a huge Amazon shopper so this hits home.
Harold Pickering, Phoenix, AZ	I'd heard about these "skin lightening" chemical's decades ago. I thought by now that this dangerous stuff would be off the market. Nope!
Dorothy Roeder, Phoenix, AZ	selling this poison is unconscionable and immoral.
Dorothy Ruiz, Phoenix, AZ	Please help people to live in a cleaner, less deadly world!
Richard Schoenberger, Phoenix, AZ	Please don't give the old "we are just a platform" story, if you know something is wrong then basic morality says you should act.
Suzanne Vyvyan, Phoenix, AZ	It is unthinkable that this is a reality for your business. How can these perpetrators exist in the first place and how can you support them by allowing them to do business with you? Now that you know that you are actually supporting poisonous products and the killers (yes!) behind the products, your decision must be swift to stop selling these products immediately. There is no justification whatsoever to support profit over healthy lives and planet. You're a huge part of this effort one way or another. Do the right thing and cease trafficking (yes!) in these poisons. Our planet, its humans and other creatures demand no more poisons now, especially with something as truly tragic and shamefully superficial as these skin lightening products. Thank you sincerely.
Margaret Zamora, Phoenix, AZ	Together we can make a better and safer world.
Barbara Boyd, Prescott, AZ	What goes on our skin goes into our bloodstream. Protect the health of US citizens.

Mary Ann and Frank Graffagnino, Prescott, AZ	AS A PHYSICIAN, AND AS TWO CARING PEOPLE, FOR THE HEALTH AND WELL-BEING OF ALL CURRENT GENERATIONS, STOP SELLING ILLEGAL MERCURY-LADEN SKIN LIGHTENING PRODUCTS! !!! THIS IS THE HEALTHY, RIGHT, FAIR, JUST, AND HUMANE ACTION TO TAKE!!!!
Lisa Olson, Prescott Valley, AZ	Selling something hazardous to the consumers health in the name of profit is unconscionable. There has to be a regulation to keep this under control.
James Pitre, Queen Valley, AZ	Time to use some common sense !
Peter A. Hovis, San Tan Valley, AZ	Please tell Amazon and eBay to stop selling illegal mercury-laden skin lightening products
Tammy Bosse, Scottsdale, AZ	Do the right thing. Business is important and it important that we hold business accountable for making profits with safe products.
Judith Diamond, Scottsdale, AZ	Killing in the name of vanity & $$$$. We need to rethink our priorities.
Cathie Ernst, Scottsdale, AZ	Shameful
Margaret Gallagher, Scottsdale, AZ	You are responsible for the actions of your businesses. You certainly take the profits.....you should also take the responsibility to do no harm to your customers.
Ejay M, Starvalley, AZ	I'm always shocked by the cavalier aspects of GREED. This is just one more facet of it that is appalling and shameful.
Kitsy Horsley, Sun City, AZ	Do the right thing for others rather than just for your capitalist selves and stockholders.
Bonnie Boyce-Wilson, Sun City West, AZ	It is important to me that skin care products are safe!
Margret Schreck, Sun City West, AZ	I find it unjustifiable to knowingly provide any toxic product to the public. When you add to toxicity the fact of illegality, it becomes a crime in the literal as well as figurative sense. Stop it!
Nancy Heintz, Sun Lakes, AZ	You need to stop this practice that endangers customers
Robert Herzog, Sun Lakes, AZ	I doubt that this will impact your bottom line (the driving force of your businesses.
Michael Beyries, Surprise, AZ	I'm an Amazon Prime member.
Michelle Bichsel, Surprise, AZ	People often Don't read ingredients. Eliminate the sale of these lead filled products for safety.
Rosann Lassman, Surprise, AZ	Consumers should be able to trust that the products they purchase in your "stores" to be safe and legal.
Janice Santella, Surprise, AZ	Greed is a spiritual disease of the heart affecting all areas of a person's life.
Guillermo Hinojosa, Tempe, AZ	I usually buy from you guys and really worries me that you are selling things that harm people, I would appreciate you stop selling these products and verify that what you sell is 100% safe for the people.
Jessica Adams, Tucson, AZ	This is crazy. We have know about the dangers of mercury for 100 years.
Nancy Bailey, Tucson, AZ	I have had several melanoma sites on my face in part due to some of these companies using questionable ingredients to detriment of the general public. Please won't' you help us? Nancy Bailey
Clarice Bales, Tucson, AZ	Racism, since it's creation by white people hundreds of years ago, is still killing people of color all over the world. Your continuation to allow these products to be sold through your website is just another act of violence against marginalized people who already constantly struggle to survive. By selling these products you uphold white supremacy and are part of the problem. Don't like the truth? BAN lightening creams/products from being sold via your platform or face a boycott. I already do not shop from Amazon or Amazon affiliated businesses, would hate to add Ebay to that too.

Coco Bopp, Tucson, AZ	I'm a health professional! Do the right and healthy thing!
Barbara Cain, Tucson, AZ	Please take the time to check out products you sell or plan to be investigated and possibly sued. This is a dangerous time for all of us and folks should be able to feel "safe" when they order from you guys.
Sarah Chandler, Tucson, AZ	Is the money you make by selling these toxic creams really worth people's lives? Or are you so selfish you don't care?
Carl Englander, Tucson, AZ	Thank you in advance for changing your practices!
Susan Finsterer, Tucson, AZ	It's disgusting when the almighty dollar is worth more than peoples lives
Deborah Gessaman, Tucson, AZ	Amazon CEO Jeff Bezos and eBay CEO Devin Wenig, stop selling illegal mercury-laden skin lightening products on their websites! You're businessmen who make corporate decisions on behalf of your consumers Do the right thing!
Mary Catherine Habeck-Leighou, Tucson, AZ	Personally, I think the darker the skin, the more beautiful. Let people embrace who they are, including the color of their skin!
Rosemary & William Hallinan, Tucson, AZ	I am a frequent on line purchaser but I also have way too much mercury in my body. Mercury is a very bad poison and I do not want other people to have what I have
Penelope Halpern, Tucson, AZ	Please care about your customers. In a time when the government does not care, we need the companies we shop with to take a stand for health. Thank you in advance.
Lilian Jewell, Tucson, AZ	As our nation continues to fight for a more inclusive and mixed culture, we must also fight for the celebration of people however they are created. Skin-lightening products marketed as 'safe' sends the message that they're okay, when in reality they're toxic both chemically AND socially/emotionally. Stand UP for people of all skin tones!!
Camille kershner, Tucson, AZ	online sales platforms should never be a runaround of the standards expected in a physical marketplace.
Steve Ketchel, Tucson, AZ	People who buy these products assume they are safe without investigating them. That is why you need to protect them.
Greg Parston, Tucson, AZ	Racial and gender equality and social justice are important elements of environmental sustainability. Please make the connection.
Yolanda Perez, Tucson, AZ	Your actions can make earth a better safer more environmentally better place.
Michele Reese, Tucson, AZ	Where have you been in the last, say, 20 years. You KNOW that these components cause cancer and other nasty things. Yet you continue to put your shareholders profits before customers, with out customers you won't have the need for shareholders, perhaps that what should happen?
Melba Rivas, Tucson, AZ	Please do not sell us things that will hurt our health. Thank you
Katherine Trimm, Tucson, AZ	Unbelievable that these products are on the market.
Warren Whitehead, Tucson, AZ	You are exposing consumers to mercury by allowing mercury-

	laden, skin-lightening creams to be sold through your website without ensuring consumers receive the legally required warnings. Testing of skin-lightening creams purchased through Amazon.com shows that they contain dangerously high levels of mercury ? thousands of times the legal limit set by the U.S. FDA. The creams are so toxic that they must be disposed of as Haz. Waste. Use can also result in contamination of household air & personal items. ?Amazon has effectively created a black market where products are being sold without full compliance with U.S. laws,?. Amazon's business model allows sellers to avoid critical health & safety compliance. I am a retired Chemist who used to manage the Household Hazardous Waste Collection Facility in Tucson. We recycled waste paint, used motor oil, many cleaning products & gardening chemicals. You Can NOT Recycle Mercury.
John Cygan, Wittmann, AZ	We need your support and action on this important issue.
Cary Meister, Yuma, AZ	Selling harmful skin-lightening products with mercury is you commercial giants should be setting a good example for others and not give a well-known outlet to smaller companies that are selling mercury-containing products through your portal.
Paul Forder, Aliso Viejo, CA	Any cosmetics containing mercury should be banned outright from the market.
Darienne Hetherman, Altadena, CA	Skin lightening products are dangerous and unethical.
Joanne Katzen, Aptos, CA	Known to be harmful products should not be sold. Once information is received that a product, especially a skin-care, or consumable one, has been determined to include ingredients which have toxic chemicals in them, they should not be allowed to be sold.
Leonard Moore, Aptos, CA	Any product containing mercury for self-treatment of any problem should be banned. People will dependably over-utilize.
Margaret Smith, Aptos, CA	This is just disgusting.
Pat Wolff, Arcadia, CA	I'm astonished that you would sell anything containing openly available mercury at all! Even enclosed mercury, such as that inside old fashioned thermometers isn't safe because they do get broken. Don't you screen what you sell at all?!
Bonnie Macraith, Arcata, CA	Do the right thing...do not sell toxic skin care products!
Chelsea S, Arcata, CA	They are toxic and influence white privilege ideologies. By eliminating them, people are forced to embrace who they are. Color is beautiful. Please stop the sale of skin lightening creams!
Erica Brown, Auburn, CA	It makes a personal feel genuinely sick to think other people sell them toxic products for profit. I always say America is a free market and a free market to kill sometimes. Please be good people and do not poison people purely for profit.
Etta Robin, Bakersfield, CA	Poison is poison!!
Steve Sketo, Bakersfield, CA	HOW LOW MUST YOU GO TO ENRICH YOUR BANK ACCOUNTS ???!
Denise Featherstone, Beaumont, CA	Toxic ingredients should not be allowed in any product, including skin lighteners and other cosmetics.
Christopher Hamilton, Berkeley, CA	I have heard the horror stories of effects of such creams from a close friend working on these very issues for the California Dept. of Health. Individuals buy these creams for skin spot lightening, but they have no idea the harm. Companies like yours can't claim such ignorance.

Sweet Grass Longhouse, Berkeley, CA	Hope you do the right thing in all the issues that come up. We Need Leadership.
Gail Wechsler, Berkeley, CA	It's your responsibility to keep these poisonous -- and racist -- products off Amazon and eBay. What are you waiting for?
Rebecca Zeitz, Berkeley, CA	It important that businesses put every effort to keep more toxins out of our environments.
Marc Harries, Beverly Hills, CA	Please generate your profit in less harmful ways
Laurie Schick, Beverly Hills, CA	I have already had skin cancer and other skin medical issues. I know what it is like to suffer from life threatening skin problems. Which is one reason why I need to use natural sun blocks without poisonous chemicals.
Jacqueline Reynolds, Bodfish, CA	As a loyal customer, I ask that you please stop selling these toxic and illegal substances.
Nancy Bell, Boulder Creek, CA	Are you telling me that you cannot AFFORD to do the RIGHT thing? We know you pay no taxes on your ENORMOUS profits!!
Anne Woodworth, Brea, CA	Why do you allow this? I am a Prime subscriber and this makes me want to cancel my membership. Is money more important to you than people's health?
Elaine Capogeannis, Burbank, CA	EUROPE HAS BETTER SAFETY MEASURES THAN THE US - !!! AND AMAZON / EBAY HAVE RECENTLY BEEN CUTTING EDGE ... ADDING MY NAME TO BRING THIS TO YOUR NEXT ATTENTION...
Michele Mills, Calistoga, CA	You know better. Be responsible - to yourselves, the rest of us and the Earth. It's way past time for these kinds of things to still be happening.
Elizabeth Barraza, Camarillo, CA	Colorism affects us all and poisoning our culture with hazardous materials is reprehensible.
Patricia Little, Camarillo, CA	As a dermatology nurse for 40 years, I am imploring you to get these skin-lightening products off your website and do not understand why you aren't. Certainly you make enough money without selling products that poison the people who are trusting you.
Avril Allan, Cambria, CA	As a customer, I want to be sure that any and all of the products that I buy from you are safe. Please remove these products as soon as possible. Thank you/
Carolyn Radliff, Capitola, CA	As a Dermatology RN, mother, friend and advocate for human rights and public health I must admit I am absolutely abhorred to hear that Jeff Bezos and EBay would allow this! I will take measures to avoid buying products from these companies if they do not make a change and encourage and insure others to do the same. Please ...do the right thing!
Mc Hagerty, Carlsbad, CA	Mercury is one of the most toxic substances known to man. How cah you sell something so horrible without concern for your customers?
Megan Hidy, Carlsbad, CA	Skin whiteners are toxic for our skin and the environment. Boycott selling them!
Ann Parkinson, Carlsbad, CA	Please refrain from tempting people with these odious products!!!!
Amber Archangel, Carmel, CA	The hazards of mercury-based skin creams are well documented. In some cases women using these skin creams suffer from severe neurological and skin damages. The harms are more serious if they are pregnant. And there is enough mercury in the creams to expose other people living in the same home. Corporations like Amazon and eBay must take responsibility for keeping these

	illegal products off their sites. I am an American voter; I vote in ALL of the elections. I am an active member of Indivisible Monterey Bay Volunteers and this issue is important to me. THANK YOU
Donna Charlton, Carmichael, CA	Please STOP hurting our environment...pay attention to what your selling PLEASE
Peggy Ruiz, Carmichael, CA	Stop putting the dollar before the safety and concern for all consumers!
Barbara Hill, Chico, CA	This is disgraceful! Please act now.
Susan Mcmanus, Chico, CA	Please make our products safe.
Susan Plummer, Chico, CA	I would hate to see the younger, naive population, including my daughters, suffer from such products being available on the market.
Travis Watson, Compton, CA	Stop poisoning people. You already make enough with your legitimate retail.
Mary Franceschini, Concord, CA	The color of a person's skin has nothing to do with anything. In this case, a woman. Please stop thinking of your pockets!
Carol Lane, Concord, CA	No one should be unwittingly be exposed to mercury. Please help us get this out of our beauty products. Thank you for considering this request.
Robert Pound, Concord, CA	It's NOT OK to sell toxic crap just to make money! That is the definition of sociopathic capitalism! And racist to boot! Stop it!!
Margaret Lirones, Corcoran, CA	If it is illegal or toxic, why are you selling it?
Cara Calvert-Thomas, Corona, CA	As an Amazon Prime member, I want to know that my money is being spent with a company that possesses at least somewhat of a moral compass. Willingly selling products that have been known to be highly toxic for many decades now is irresponsible to both the consumer purchasing the products and the environment as the products eventually end up in our wastewater and landfills.
Jan Hansen, Corona, CA	Please put people's welfare above corporate profits!
Kristin Younglove, Corona, CA	Do the right thing, not the profitable thing.
Anandamayi Baker, Costa Mesa, CA	Come on! Really??? Do the right thing here, please!
F Reuscher, Costa Mesa, CA	It's time to put people's health ahead of corporate profits.
Noreen Ford, Cottonwood, CA	No more.
Elizabeth Coombs, Culver City, CA	You don't regulate the sale of toxic and illegal personal care products on your sites? What makes your companies above US law? This is another reason why I will do just about anything not to shop with either of your networks.
Anne Stowell, Culver City, CA	Just Do It!
Karen Grenetz, Danville, CA	Bad business!
Heather Mcdougal, Davenport, CA	I have known people who were affected by mercury poisoning. It's not a thing to be taken lightly. Amazon needs to be responsible for what it allows on its website, so that people don't unknowingly buy items that are poisonous to them.
Sherrill Futrell, Davis, CA	Why poison people?
Sherri Venezia, Davis, CA	Mercury kills people and harms unborn children. Thus cannot be allowed in consumer products.
Dean Vogel, Davis, CA	What is the point of selling something toxic to the unknowing public? Oh, I know, making money for yourselves while poisoning others.

Jon Hammari, Desert Hot Springs, CA	What is wrong with you?
Deborah Walden, Diamond Bar, CA	If you would not use it on you or your kids skin DON'T Sell it to anyone!
Maria Munoz, Downey, CA	As a Cuban-American, targeting minorities for profit offends me. Businesses lose their credibility when they do this. They will lose my business, and I will share this information with everyone I know in the hopes of contributing to a international boycott.
Gloria Kilian, Duarte, CA	I will not order skin crimes that are so hazardous to my health.
Deborah Watkins, East Nicolaus, CA	Do you need to wait until you get sued? That's what will happen if people start getting sick from creams you're selling.
Lourdes Best, East Palo Alto, CA	It's time to take a stand against toxics products!
Marda Buchholz, East Palo Alto, CA	This is unconscionable. You should permanently remove those sellers from selling on your sites.
Sadie Sullivan-Greiner, El Cajon, CA	I think it would be wise for you get ahead of this issue...I think you would lose in court.
Howard Meyerson, El Cerrito, CA	Sell only safe products!
Anjuli Sherin, El Cerrito, CA	These are toxic, racist products. They need to be banned.
Lee Robinson, El Dorado Hills, CA	Mercury is toxin any form.
Martha Booz, El Sobrante, CA	I care about this issue majorly! Many people want lighter sign. These products MUST BE REMOVED from our shelves. Sales must be cut. Maybe enact a special tax on such product.
David & Susan Link, Elk Grove, CA	Why include a dangerous chemical for simply economic and vanity purposes, when it can cause DEATH?
Madeleine Hengge, Encinitas, CA	I shop on amazon weekly, and this is not acceptable. I expect amazon to have the highest interest of their clients, to keep them safe and do not expose them to such toxic products. We all know by now that mercury based products are not safe! Do not provide us with such crap, as it shows me that you do not care enough about us as clients, but are only money driven. Unacceptable. Please change that, and keep us safe! Thanks!
John Pham, Encinitas, CA	No mercury product.
Brenda Koenig, Escondido, CA	My sister has been diagnosed with mercury toxicity
Ken Sanford, Escondido, CA	Once again we have a major corporation seeking a problem for their proposed solution. I am requesting you stop isolating people via the color of their skin. As a leader in this nation, your mission should be to promote acceptance of who we are, as individuals, and acceptance of others as they are. This nation has more than enough intolerance coming from the white house, please consider changing some of your marketing hype to benefit the people of this country and try to ignore your bottom line.
Ella Craig, Eureka, CA	You should not be selling harmful products.
Elizabeth Zenker, Eureka, CA	We need to ALL be working on the self-loving of who we are -- skin color included -- over poisoning ourselves in ANY way, shape or form -- especially for sale!!
Richard Hill, Fair Oaks, CA	Selling harmful and toxic "beauty" products is disgraceful. It is illegal. Stop it!
Martin Iseri, Fair Oaks, CA	So,will you act?
James Franzi, Fiddletown, CA	Do your best to eliminate sale of these products. Thx
Cinda Johansen, Folsom, CA	These mercury laden products are toxic to the user that applies it to their skin and to the environment which acquires the mercury when it has been washed off during bathing. Stop selling these toxic chemical products. Our planet ? needs this to stop. STOP!!!

B Dudney, Md, Forestville, CA	Hopefully liability economics will fix this if you are incapable of being responsible.
Shinann Earnshaw, Fortuna, CA	This is disgusting. Persons of color are natural, normal and vital in our country. Stop poisoning them with fake skin lighteners.
Patricia Matejcek, Freedom, CA	I'm appalled that you would stock products that don't have either the Good Housekeeping seal of approval or FDA approval or are missing from the EWG approved list.
Pat Cook, Fremont, CA	Remember how our moms let us roll mercury from a thermometer around in our hands? Not good.
Ray Lorenson, Fremont, CA	The fact that you would take certain actions in Europe but not the U.S. to keep these products out of consumers' hands speaks volumes about whether you care more about money or people.
Lowell Young, Fresno, CA	The health and well being of the people and our environment must always take precedence over the profits of any entity.
Rosalba Cofer, Galt, CA	Please take immediate and responsible moral action to remove these harmful products from the marketplace and put in place stronger safeguards to see that similar abuses are not repeated.
Teni Hakopian, Glendale, CA	Killing consumers will Kill business
Carolyn Johnson, Glendale, CA	How are we to know which ones have it? Rerun A. ? Let's use the power reputable companies like Amazon and eBay To fix the problem when our government won't!
Susan Lilly, Grass Valley, CA	As a former cosmetologist, I have personally seen the damage some of these products have done.
Victoria Oliver, Grass Valley, CA	Just because your company in BIG doesn't mean you can't be GOOD for your consumers and the earth. Shame on you if you don't fix this issue.
Darrel Smith, Grass Valley, CA	Is money so important that you'll poison animals to make it?
Violet Noranbrock, Hacienda Heights, CA	Please, please help and do the right thing. Thank you!!
Christopher Evans, Healdsburg, CA	Health is paramount.
Helen Mcallister, Hidden Valley Lake, CA	shame on you. You already profit. Do not poison your customers or the Earth!
Kevin Wever, Ione, CA	do the right thing. everyone deserves safe products!!!!
Elliot Gordon, Irvine, CA	This is important.
Colette Dupont, La Mesa, CA	Seriously, you are selling this stuff?
Margo Devany-Dale, La Puente, CA	Stop selling mercury in face cream!
Mark Bartleman, Laguna Beach, CA	Thank you.
Mary Franz, Laguna Beach, CA	Overall health is much more important than appearances.
Susan Christopher, Laguna Woods, CA	What is the matter with you that you would try to sell people something that would injure them. What's wrong with you!!!!!!
Roger Tierney, Lake Forest, CA	Enough toxic chemicals. Please make your products healthier.
William Lundeen, Lee Vining, CA	Quit profiting off our health!
Janet Milder, Livermore, CA	Rules that apply to brick and mortar stores, should apply on line as well. Safety for all!
J Eiser, Long Beach, CA	Please do not overthink this. ?Just do it! Thanks
Karen Graham, Long Beach, CA	This is a crime.
Sara Hayes, Long Beach, CA	This would be the responsible thing to do. Not doing so threatens the well being of those who may be prone to buy it. Do the right thing for a change.

Supporter Unknown, Long Beach, CA	Why you sick son's of B's.
Sonia Brunner, Los Altos, CA	If you don't want your platforms regulated by government, why won't you regulate them yourselves? Seriously, there should be some standards for products on your sites. Please remove sellers who sell items with mercury.
Richard Youatt, Los Altos, CA	I see sensitivity to health and environmental issues by Amazon and EBay as critical, and commend Amazon's recent commitment to reaching or exceeding the Paris Climate Accord goals.
Pat Lang, Los Altos Hills, CA	Consider the lives of the people your greed is making ill.
Renee Chanon, Los Angeles, CA	Please pay attention to what is happening in our world. There is no place for Mercury in the products you sell.
Diana Crispi, Los Angeles, CA	Let's do the right thing.
L.L. Dored, Los Angeles, CA	IT'S POISON
Kenneth Hardy, Los Angeles, CA	Do the right thing!
Wolfram Hartwig, Los Angeles, CA	The world is poisonous enough without mercury in skin products. As a prime customer and a scientist, I urge you to stop selling these products.
Lauren Lynley, Los Angeles, CA	I don't know how many remember when Amazon was this awesome little website selling books. Who would've thought they would turn into be an evil Empire. Doesn't surprise me at all that you're selling toxic chemicals passing a skin care. I canceled my prime membership a while back and have not bought anything from Amazon in ages. Shop locally whenever possible and pay attention to what goes in the food and the things you put on and in your body. Amazon is not our friend.
Tom Norris, Los Angeles, CA	Hear our voices.
Suzanna Regos, Los Angeles, CA	I really hope you will take this seriously and remove these products from your sites. Thank you.
Nichole Schwab, Los Angeles, CA	You can help protect people who trust your brand. Do the right thing.
Bhavna Shamasunder, Los Angeles, CA	Mercury is harmful and being added as an ingredient to these products. It is harmful to those using it and can have long-term health consequences for an unborn child. Amazon is a large company that has the capacity to better screen and enforce products sold. They should be held to make sure products they sell don't break the law or harm their consumers.
Tracey Thomas, Los Angeles, CA	You need to take responsibility for what is being sold via your sites!
A.F. Unknown, Los Angeles, CA	a public relations disaster...
Sherry Vatter, Los Angeles, CA	There is NO excuse for selling products that contain hazardous mercury.
May Toepfer, Los Gatos, CA	Time to quit this dangerous practice and stop the sale of these products.
Vanessa Valdovinos, Lynwood, CA	Amerikkka
Don Kreuter, Mammoth Lakes, CA	Make America Green Again!
Maurice Robinson, Manhattan Beach, CA	Just stop it!
Jill Adler, Manteca, CA	If you poison your customers, they stop buying (because they're dead!!!).

Mary Correro, Manteca, CA	Health FIRST!!
Fiorella Russo-Jang, Martinez, CA	Dangerous items should not be for sale on your website.
Susie Foot, McKinleyville, CA	It's time to change the way we label people's strata in society according to the color and shade of their skin. It's big business, but by profiting from these sometimes very harmful, sometimes deadly, products you're not only putting people's lives in danger, you're also perpetuating the mythology that lighter and whiter is better.
Valerie Ralston, Mi Wuk Village, CA	Health & safety should always be first - before profits.
Sandra Mardigian, Mill Valley, CA	Don't poison your customers.
Sandra Smith, Mill Valley, CA	This is unconscionable and criminal to take advantage of the consumers. Sandra Smith
Kristina & Michael Golden, Mission Viejo, CA	Please think about at the unsuspecting consumers who will use toxic products, and who don't think about the fact that you are too big to stand behind what you sell. There is still trust in the market place, but it's really up to you to bring up. your standards. Thank you.
Barbara Hosmer, Mission Viejo, CA	Clean up your act!
Dianne Sullivan, Modesto, CA	No TOXIN SHOULD BE ON THE MARKET FOR SALE. NO COMPANY SHOULD PROFIT FROM SELLING TOXIC PRODUCTS.
Frances Whiteside, Montclair, CA	Selling poisonous products as well as poisoning minds? That's what it looks like to me.
Victoria Smurlo, Montrose, CA	Women, especially, are the ones negatively affected by these products with harmful ingredients. It's beyond time for you to discontinue doing this.
J. Katz, Murrieta, CA	It's pathetic that you're doing something clearly harmful to people just to make a few bucks. The era of corporate greed is coming to an end, whether it's sooner or later, it's coming to an end.
Mary Louise Muller, Murrieta, CA	Mercury based skin creams are toxic!
Jasper Jackson, Newark, CA	Please treat the planet like your grandkids would like it
Elliot Bronwein, Newhall, CA	All mercury-based products should be banned(Mercury is toxic!)
Nora Lewis, Nipomo, CA	As a nurse midwife of over 43 years I believed in providing safe quality care and 'doing no harm'. These toxic products are harmful to the health of consumers. You need to show responsibility for the products you sell. Just because the current administration does not care about anything but money and any evil way to get it, you should not emulate trump.
Tara Strand, North Hollywood, CA	It's exhausting trying to constantly dodge essentially poisonous foods and products on a daily basis. Please help.
Peter Chuck, Novato, CA	Just stop.
Kim Harmon, Novato, CA	Not only are mercury-containing products unhealthy, but skin lightening creams contribute to the idea that white is right, that dark skin is ugly.
Lisa Jack, Novato, CA	How could you possibly sell anything that is mercury-based, knowing how toxic mercury is?
Brian McLaughlin, Novato, CA	Brian McLaughlin
Sandra Arellano, Oakland, CA	Lets emphasize whats important in life. Whats inside as a person to shine outward. Not the color of skin. I grew up with light skin and got dinged, pushed around and talked about for that. Luckily i had a grandmother who was dark skin and who I loved dearly who taught me its whats inside one. Not outside. we just be happy inside with whatever color we are? Our skin color does not reflect who we truly are as a person. Yes we're in 2019 and its still an issue only if you let it be. Besides whats actually in a product that changes ones color? Nothing that supports who you are. Its telling you that you are not already perfect.

Clara Bargellini, Oakland, CA	We must do everything we can for our health and the environment that sustains us.
Karen Cross, Oakland, CA	You know the right thing to do. Stop selling these horrendous products.
Donna Egan, Oakland, CA	This is a no brainer.
Nancy Esajian, Oakland, CA	Responsible behavior in business and personal situations will make a global difference and we need all ethical humans to show themselves to these various concerns NOW!
Casey Fisher, Oakland, CA	people over profit!
Alexander Friend, Oakland, CA	Remove harmful products from your marketplace.
Kenneth Gibson, Oakland, CA	Perhaps it is time for a massive class action lawsuit to put an end to these harmful actions of these intermediaries. Surely the crisis in the pharmaceutical industry offers a playbook for lawyers who seek justice.
Joy Glasier, Oakland, CA	As a cancer survivor, I know that toxics in our environment are very dangerous! This is not OK!
Richard Kolbert, Oakland, CA	Customers trust Amazon and eBay not to sell environmentally toxic products. Don't break their belief in you to do this!
Janet Parkins, Oakland, CA	How long have we known mercury is toxic? What's wrong with this picture...
Maureen Plimier, Oakland, CA	Selling toxins is so 19th century! Why poison us?
Judy Schwartz, Oakland, CA	As a physician I want toxic products to be removed from your products that you sell? skin lightening products as well as generic vitamins that you sell that use unregulated unsafe products that are no longer inspected in China and India by the FDA.
Jo-Ellen Spencer, Oakland, CA	What price is beauty? Amazon and eBay need to care more about their customers than they do their profits.
Billy Trice, Oakland, CA	Get of this toxic product.
Anita Watkins, Oakland, CA	PLEASE!
Valerie Lewis, Oakley, CA	Do what right because it's right then do it right!
Charles Alger, Oceanside, CA	You know better
Janet Judge, Oceanside, CA	I hope you will do the right thing putting aside monetary issues.
Barbara Kunz, Oceanside, CA	Treat others how you would like to be treated. This is not humanlike. This is evil. Man up and stop this practice
Joanne Sajdak, Oceanside, CA	Do no harm! You are rich enough without selling things that hurt people.
Sabra Rahel, Ojai, CA	Really?! ! Who screens your products?
Carolyn Knoll, Orinda, CA	I can't believe you are selling this stuff!! Stop!!
Cynthia and Ben Leslie-Bole, Orinda, CA	Please use your clout to help us take toxic products off the market! Cynthia Leslie-Bole
Brad Nelson, Oxnard, CA	You'll sell anything for a buck which is why I will never purchase any product through Amazon and I tell people why.
Steve Braff, Palm Springs, CA	Hi folks. Using appreciate both of your platforms. Given the earned success of your business model you enjoy extraordinary power and with that comes responsibility. Please do the right thing and protect your customers from hazardous materials. Thanks!

Patricia Evans, Palm Springs, CA	Try being responsible over profits for once.
Duane Tucker, Palm Springs, CA	Mercury !? Are you serious???
Cynthia Chambers, Palmdale, CA	Be a responsible business. Don't harm your customers.
Matthew and Maria Allen, Palo Alto, CA	How could you do it !!!!!?
Robert Moss, Palo Alto, CA	Mercury is a known toxin and should never be included in any product for application to skin. Some but not all states do control and limit mercury use, so it still is a widely present contaminant. You must act to stop selling any product for skin care that includes mercury in order to protect public health.
Ellen Holm, Paradise, CA	Maybe there should be a class action suit against all sellers of these skin lightening products.
Chris Rose, Petaluma, CA	We must keep toxic products away from the public.
Mary Jill Seibel, Petaluma, CA	You can be an advocate for the well-being of people and this planet if you choose. I'm sorry considering selfish desires seems so much to typify our times. You can be a force for good. Please do!
Hope Salzer, Piedmont, CA	It should be illegal to sell any product or service which contains or exposes customers to unhealthy levels of dangerous toxic substances.
Cheri Porter-Keisner, Piercy, CA	Mercury affects cognitive reasoning leading to brain damage. Light skinned women pay for brush on tans. Both lead to toxicity. You need to promote health and wellness. The life you save may well be your loved one.
Stephanie Forbes, Pinole, CA	Please stop selling products that are so toxic to individual consumers and the planet.
Carla Cicchi, Placerville, CA	It is unethical, dangerous, immoral, and criminal to produce and sell any product that is mercury-laden. Why would any company purposely make and sell a skin product that is laden with mercury or other toxic materials? It is criminal!
Malcolm Moore, Portola, CA	I don't buy poison from Ebay or Amazon. Maybe I just will stop buying stuff from them altogether.
Kathi Scarpace, Redlands, CA	No use profiting from illness.
Mecky & Jay Myers, Redondo Beach, CA	WE WHITIES WANT A NICE "SUN TAN" . O B V I O U S L Y BROWNIS BEAUTIFUL!!!! NO MORE OF THOSE DANGEROUS SKIN-LIGHTENING PRPRODUCTS !!!
Kathy O'Brien, Redway, CA	Stop this Insanity!
Gloria Maldonado, Redwood City, CA	I do not buy anything from Amazon or Whole Foods because Bezos is an anti-labor billionaire .He is greedy and unscrupulous and will do anything to make a buck. He has no moral compass
Joleen Siebert, Reedley, CA	Selling products that contain mercury is wrong. And encouraging people to think that they need to lighten their skin is so sad. Stop it.
Susan Ogburn, Rio Linda, CA	We have enough crap in our food & air!! Why put crap in our skin products? As a woman that uses skin products... Thats ruthless.
Jane Williams, Rosamond, CA	We must keep mercury out of the environment and off our skin!
Craig Scherfenberg, Roseville, CA	Amazon is selling this taxi stuff? Very bad for your corporate brand! It certainly puts me off buying from you!
Tiffany Saleh, S Pasadena, CA	Please take action to make your wonderful shopping service safer for all of us. We want to know that you care about the welfare of those who shop your platforms.

Suzy Campbell, Sacramento, CA	Thank you for doing the right thing
Leslie Griffin, Sacramento, CA	Skincare in America is already toxic enough, please remove any products with Mercury from your online retail hubs. You are responsible for these huge online stores, meaning that YOU have the power to hurt or help people every single day. Please do the right thing.
Karen Jacques, Sacramento, CA	Platforms like yours that reach millions of people have a responsibility to act ethically and not knowingly sell products that have the potential to cause serious harm
Stephanie Murphy, Sacramento, CA	It is disgusting that you know of these products and are not banning them.
Ken and Kathy Myers, Sacramento, CA	It's surprising and disappointing that Mercury is still in skin care products and that Amazon and eBay would offer them for sale! Really? Mercury isn't some exotic poison that only scientists know about. We all know about it and we know that it doesn't belong in our cosmetics. Stop selling Mercury-containing products. Thank you!
Francesca Reitano, Sacramento, CA	Please don't make a profit on hurting unsuspecting people. They don't expect to be betrayed and let down in this manner.
Glaiyol Sahba, Sacramento, CA	You are responsible for what you offer in your online stores. Stop selling toxic products that are illegal! Thanks g sahba MD
Marion Solbert, Sacramento, CA	I can't believe this is legal.
Barbara Stannard, Sacramento, CA	Please, stop selling skin lighteners; these products have harmful chemicals in them causing health problems.
	Stop creating health concerns.
Barbara Vostry, Sacramento, CA	As a frequent customer of both venues, I ask you personally to remove these products from your Marketplace... IMMEDIATELY...
Nancy Grover, San Anselmo, CA	Please do not sell known toxic products such as this.
Margaret Elliott, San Clemente, CA	Amazing that we have to ask you to not sell poison to your consumers.
Ernestine Bonn, San Diego, CA	What a toxic way to wipe out diversity.
Cynthia Brown, San Diego, CA	You really must address the problem of these extremely hazardous products immediately. You have been warned before!
Nancy Burdge, San Diego, CA	This shouldn't even have to be addressed! Stop selling it!
Joyce Chavez, San Diego, CA	It's bad enough that people have a self esteem problem and you take advantage of them and compounding the issue by selling them a dangerous product that contains MERCURY! STOP!
C Dale, San Diego, CA	KINDNESS MATTERS. Take time to do the RIGHT thing!
Andrea Flagiello, San Diego, CA	Please help the environment.
Dianne Haag, San Diego, CA	What are you doing?? Smart business practice?? The world is watching-your customers are watching.
Anne Harvey, San Diego, CA	You don't sell materials for binding Chinese women's feet, right?
Richel Khoury, San Diego, CA	so many toxins our body is exposed to, and you can readily help by not selling these products containing mercury...pls do ASAP!!!!
Patricia Knight, San Diego, CA	We know that lead is so dangerous! This should not be happening in our country.
Linda Kourtis, San Diego, CA	ENOUGH of the GREED And IMMORALITY!!

Deborah Pesqueira, San Diego, CA	Come on you guys. With all the money you have why don't you spend some time researching happiness and put that money to good use. If all of the top 1% in this country alone even paid their fair share of taxes the world would be a better place!!!
Conor Soraghan, San Diego, CA	Please STOP selling these poisons!!
Andre Tarverdians, San Diego, CA	I'm including this line to indicate that I'm a real person and that this issue is important to me.
Christine Brazis, San Francisco, CA	Don't poison us Bezos and Wenig!
Ruth Brodie, San Francisco, CA	All people should be protected from poisonous cosmetics and other products.
Tab Buckner, San Francisco, CA	STOP poisoning people for your own excessive profits!!!
Lu Carpenter, San Francisco, CA	I was diagnosed with heavy metal poisoning last year and had to go on a four month detox. I have had chronic health problems for the last 6 years and doctors didn't know what was wrong with me. Having hidden ingredients in trusted brands is really unbearable. Thanks for your attention to this important matter.
Gilbert Chan, San Francisco, CA	Beauty should not cost you your life.
Margaret Chesler, San Francisco, CA	This message comes from a disgusted stockholder.
Laura Chinn-Smoot, San Francisco, CA	By selling products that poison your customers, you are killing your customers. There is no logical reason that you would knowingly want to kill your customers other than greed. Is money that important that you would kill people for it?
Joyce Cochran, San Francisco, CA	What does it cost to removed toxic products (e.g., those containing mercury) from your product lines? What is the benefit? You gain the trust and respect of your customers (which is a pretty large portion of the world!). Thank you.
Kat Gelles, San Francisco, CA	Wow, mercury based makeup - talk about overkill - literally killing your customers.
Timothy Gilmore, San Francisco, CA	Poisoning people for profit is not how one gets on the good side of God.
Kathleen Hynes, San Francisco, CA	You know better!
Michael Kemper, San Francisco, CA	Is this your response to the over population problem or just garden variety capitalist greed?
Ellen Koivisto, San Francisco, CA	Poison -- duh.
Peter Booth Lee, San Francisco, CA	Bad Idea!
Jeffrey Long, San Francisco, CA	Please
Esther Mcegan, San Francisco, CA	Stop selling hazardous skin products.
Matt Richardson, San Francisco, CA	This is very important to me. Don't be selling stuff just bc it's cheap. Products should meet minimum safety standards. Otherwise, you're just poisoning the public.
Robin Roth, San Francisco, CA	This is toxic racism in so many ways!
Amy Seidman, San Francisco, CA	our skin is our defense
Sabrina Shin, San Francisco, CA	Beauty and self care should not be toxic. Don't make these products available.
Linda Watkins, San Francisco, CA	You can be a force for good instead of just a force for profit!
Joseph Zakrzewski, San Francisco, CA	I no longer will be buying our brand as I can not trust your company, that is, I don't trust you people.
Mari Zatman, San Francisco, CA	Mari Zatman
Anne Zimmerman, San Francisco, CA	Really, selling these kind of products undermines your reputation because they are unsafe! We do not want to reward companies at any cost! How psychopathic to manufacture and sell harmful products! Immoral and should be illegal! Perhaps the people harmed should create class action suits ?

Judie Aronson, San Jose, CA	You are totally responsible for the products you sell to the public. You must regulate the information and not mislead the public by promoting these dangerous harmful products to the public. Please remove these illegal and toxic products from your marketplace.
Sara Bruce, San Jose, CA	You are huge, wealthy corporations. You won't suffer much by preventing the suffering of some consumers. We all need to take responsibility for protecting others when we can.
Marilyn Drino, San Jose, CA	We need to free the earth of poison and each of us needs to act ethically. In so many ways Amazon is an unethical business. It can do better. Time to be part of the solution and not part of the problem.
Patty Linder, San Jose, CA	I find it appalling that you not only profit from anxiety about personal appearance, you sell a toxic product to allay those anxieties.
Cecelia Salberg, San Jose, CA	Stop poisoning people of color!
Lorene Sisson, San Jose, CA	Step up to your legal and ethical responsibilities. Remove all harmful products from your web sales. Be a part of the America that cares about others. Thank you!
Wahila Wilkie, San Jose, CA	Imagine if you wife or daughters were buying these products from a website. Would you want that to happen?
Renee Harper, San Leandro, CA	Amazon and eBay shouldn't be profiting from selling poisonous beauty products to consumers. Mercury is a potent neurotoxin, the last thing anyone should be applying to their skin. Do the right thing and remove these products from your sites.
Kay L., San Leandro, CA	Why are corporations always allowed to make a buck, even when it jeopardizes our health???
Ginny Madsen, San Leandro, CA	The groups being targeted by these products deserve to be protected.
Pam Cabak, San Luis Obispo, CA	youbet
Leslee Mcpherson, San Mateo, CA	As a child in the 50's I had a cream w/ mercury prescribed for use at night for a cuticle infection. I had to wear cotton gloves at night and wash my hands the moment I awoke. Mercury is no joke.
Sarah Erdmann, San Rafael, CA	This is heartbreaking. I worked for 10 years helping Walmart to launch their sustainability effort and I know there are many challenges to clean up supply chains but this is a SIMPLE fix. Please please take action now.
Margaret Phillips, San Rafael, CA	What???
Judy Schriebman, San Rafael, CA	It is unbelievable that you are selling toxic chemicals like Mercury containing products to women. Stop it.
Deborah Temple, San Rafael, CA	Why am still writing letters to millionaire/billionaires telling them to do the correct & right thing & to stop being chumps?
Suzie Keels, San Ramon, CA	Please stop the use of Mercury-based skin creams they are very hazardous to our health like water with Mercury in it. Please help to clean up our earth so those growing up after us will have a good safe life.
Ivan Girling, Santa Barbara, CA	You make enough money. You don't need to be evil.
Susan Shields, Santa Barbara, CA	It is unethical to take advantage of people's insecurities by marketing poisonous creams to supposedly improve their appearance.
Cynthia Alderson, Santa Clara, CA	Innocent people buy these products. You can make a difference.

Benjamin Keasbey, Santa Clarita, CA	Please stop selling these harmful products
John Unger, Santa Clarita, CA	Please do the right thing!
Janet Culp, Santa Cruz, CA	While you're at it, stop contributing to the climate crisis by over-use of packaging materials to ship your merchandise.
Joan Harrington, Santa Cruz, CA	Many have developed such low esteem in our country from the garage of advertising, magazines and the media, and therefore are easy targets of fear for you to talk into using a toxic product. Shame! Times up with that, we need every perspective possible to lift us above this toxic commercialism, our global issues, and the disrespect for health.
Tanya Wendling, Santa Cruz, CA	Please don't give your customers another reason to quit using your services!
daisy aranda, Santa Maria, CA	Daisy aranda
Ann Isolde, Santa Monica, CA	Please do not sell hazardous mercury-based skin lightening creams! What are you thinking?
Kathy Knight, Santa Monica, CA	Please help make sure that any products like these are made only of healthy ingredients that you would feel safe giving to your family. Thank you .
Jeff & Sylvia Davis, Santa Rosa, CA	As a long-time chemist I am aware of many of the hazards of these materials and consider their sales an outrage.
Judith Hoaglund, Santa Rosa, CA	I am an Amazon stockholder and customer. Selling toxic and substandard products is criminal!
Judith Iam, Santa Rosa, CA	Poison is POISON - STOP SELLING IT.
Marybeth Kallok, Santa Rosa, CA	Do the responsible thing and ban these mercury-laden skin products from your online marketplaces!
Janet Lorraine, Santa Rosa, CA	Please do this immediately.
Kristin Mills, Santa Rosa, CA	Please care about your mothers, sisters and daughters enough to stop the use of these harmful products.
F. Montgomery, Santa Rosa, CA	We must be concerned about people's health over profiteering!
Jim Perry, Santa Rosa, CA	Jeff, You need to grow some ethics, and treat you workers as real people who hurt and are underpaid. You are the beast that makes this country a moral hogfarm slurry. Stop selling toxins. Do you gargle with Roundup? No, and we don't want to either.
Robert Priestley, Santa Rosa, CA	PLEASE take this request seriously. You csn sell skin care products from ethical skin care sellers who will provide results of 3rd party testing from approved test labs. Thank you.
Lynne Burt-Jenkins, Seal Beach, CA	You are asserting, far more than implying, that whiter is better. Why? It isn't. All colors are beautiful. All people are valuable. I am as white as one can be, and I DO NOT regard that as making me better. It only means I am a human being. An Earthling. Color is irrelevant.
Colin Godwin, Sebastopol, CA	Why poison people???
Susan Kistin, Sebastopol, CA	Our diversity of colors is what makes us great! And we must all come together for health of all of us..Stop selling these racist and toxic products.
Monique Rubin, Sebastopol, CA	Please stop poisoning people and the whole planet!
Sharon Levine, Simi Valley, CA	Just one more reason why I avoid shopping on Amazon and at Whole Foods. Profits should never come before people's health and safety.

Charlene Sodergren, Simi Valley, CA	It's bad enough that many of the products sold on Amazon & eBay are fake, but selling hazardous products is below your already low standards.
Trymon Hunter, Sonoma, CA	Selling these creams is wrong on many levels. STOP IT.
Leslie Kowalczyk, Sonora, CA	Pay attention to what you sell!
Olof Hellen, Soquel, CA	There should be a way to keep these products that give negative or no medical benefit off the market. The scope of the FDA should be expanded as should consumer awareness. Of course the whole idea that whiter is more beautiful is a problem.
Deborah Meckler, South San Francisco, CA	Poisoning people for profit is EVIL! Have you no shame?
Karen Sola, Stockton, CA	Do the right thing, remove harmful products from your sites. Please
Nora Doyle, Studio City, CA	By allowing the sale of these products on your site, you endorse the poisoning of human beings.
Michael Albanese, Sun Valley, CA	Mercury is either the most or one of the most toxic elements on our planet. It is a neurotoxin and also causes immune problems. No wonder they don't make mercury oral thermometers anymore. People shouldn't be rubbing it on their skin either.
Esther Beaudoin, Sunnyvale, CA	Esther Beaudoin
Gloria Burd, Sunnyvale, CA	Please note that most of these creams target women of colour, so selling them is a RACIST act.
Bruce Coston, Sunnyvale, CA	Stop the insanity .
Chris Eaton, Tujunga, CA	Please stop being a merchant of death to people of color. Very bad for your reputation.
Perry Gx, Tustin, CA	Time Is Now To Remove These Products ASAP!
Elizabeth Gann, Twin Peaks, CA	There are lots of alternatives, so you don't have to use mercury !
Tisha Douthwaite, Ukiah, CA	Your reputation may be at stake. Not worth small profit for potential boycott.
John Goldsmith, Ukiah, CA	Stop selling illegal mercury-laden skin lightening products!
Erica Seelig, Ukiah, CA	You are part of the problem. Please stop and become better human beings!
Sharon Smith, Ukiah, CA	If the government refuses to be a significant safeguard then enlightened CEO's must take up the mantle!
Marion Elkins, Vacaville, CA	No one should sell products that are harmful to consumers. You must address this immediately. You should also be addressing your negative impact on climate change, and do it now! You may not be around in 40 years, but your children/grandchildren will suffer greatly from the inaction of ALL of us.
Charles Flynn, Van Nuys, CA	It is always surprising when corporate greed gets in the way of humanity.
Martha Powers, Ventura, CA	OMG! How can mercury still be used as an additive when we KNOW how deadly it is. There has to be other alternatives. If you stop selling this stuff ?they? will have to find it!
Debra Stone, Ventura, CA	Just my humble opinion, but I think it is gross on every level. Just stop making this, stop selling this. Thank you.
Kathleen Moscato, Vista, CA	Amazon! You have so much power to do the RIGHT THING!!! Start making really good choices ...not just what is good for your bottom line!
Mary Lucchetti, Walnut Creek, CA	I believe you would want to take the lead to protect women from these hazardous and harmful products. Please remove them from your marketplace. Thank you, Mary Alice Lucchetti

Clark Quinn, Walnut Creek, CA	And please advocate for consumers not to buy skin color adjustment at all, and instead work for reducing discrimination.
Abbie Bernstein, West Hollywood, CA	The results and profits from these products are not worth the damage to health.
Barry Katz, West Hollywood, CA	Anything to make a buck....even severe neurological damage to the user's brain.
Max Schmeder, Windsor, CA	This should be a no-brainer.
Nancy Gowani, Winnetka, CA	Please protect consumers who depend on you
Paul Brunson, Arvada, CO	I am a frequent customer of Amazon and EBay and am very concerned that you do business with 3rd parties who supply products that are not safe and may be illegal. I am asking that you immediately tighten up your process in regards to your business dealings with these 3rd parties. I would appreciate a response to this message in which I am voicing my concerns.
Jane Holder, Arvada, CO	Please Stop allowing poisonous products to be shipped on Amazon. It Looks Like you care much more about money than the people of color who use your service. I am so sad to learn that Amazon Is Run By Predigest and Selfish people. I will Stop using Amazon until this Stops!!!
Greg Marsh, Arvada, CO	...And haven't mankind known mercury hazards for a long, long time?
Justin Nelson, Arvada, CO	I have personally gone through mercury poisoning, the damage it can do effects all aspects of a person's life. Ever since recovering (took 5 years) my ability to not only function but strive to grow and thrive has been restored. Feelings of depression or just physically feeling too weak to tackle the world should not be thoughts people see as standard. please dont let others suffer the same fate. If you feel this is a morally ambiguous moment, I'd implore you to try it out yourself throug a decent period of time.
Jan Louthis, Aspen, CO	We have gotten used to American purveyors selling us safe products. It's confusing sometimes reading labels - chemical descriptions are difficult. Please help us buy safe products. We support your company, so please support us in turn. Thank you.
Merry Haserr, Aurora, CO	Why are you selling this? Stop now!
James Valleos, Aurora, CO	It's the right thing to do.
Jonathan Resnick, Avon, CO	Please do what you know is right
Dr. Richard Grossman, Bayfield, CO	I have done a research study on mercury and know how dangerous it is! Mercury should not be in any household product, let alone one so dangerous as a skin cream.
Jerry Cleveland, Boulder, CO	Important!
Geoffrey & Michelle Considine, Boulder, CO	Use your ginormous influence to make positive change. Use opportunities like this to take a stand and then advertise that you're good-guys. This is an awful cultural issue. Make a difference!
Murray David, Boulder, CO	Mercury is a neurotoxin topically or via injections in vaccines
Amrita George, Boulder, CO	This is just gross all around.
Patricia Hood, Boulder, CO	Do this! Your leadership will go a long way to build support for your companies!

Erin Hooper, Boulder, CO	its the time to be responsible for what we do to others.
Catherine Johnson, Boulder, CO	Fix this!
Julia McMillen, Boulder, CO	It's just immoral to sell toxic products. Please stop.
David Murray, Boulder, CO	I would like to trust products I buy on Amazon. If I can't I will go elsewhere.
Peggy Richardson, Boulder, CO	Please stop using these toxic products
Penn Richmann, Boulder, CO	As a consumer, I rely on eBay to screen-out products that are known toxins. That is a service that I pay you to do for me as a consumer. I am not a retail expert, I get paid to be an expert in another field, so that is why I pay you. And eBay cannot allow itself to be a dumping ground for products that other retailers or retailer platform will not sell. You profit from this retail activity, and thereby you have a responsibility to monitor the products sold on your platform to prevent harm to your customers. Thank you.
Albiona Willis, Boulder, CO	It's wrong that you are selling such harmful products. Please stop!
Ann Evans, Breckenridge, CO	I am an amazon shopper and need to see action , You have the man power to take action NOW Annie Evans
Emma Knight, Broomfield, CO	Although people have come a long way, we still live in a world of racism and discrimination. You might not realize the impact that selling skin lightening products has on people, but you are indirectly telling people of color that their skin isn't good enough; that they need to change to be beautiful. Instead, we should be telling them that their skin is gorgeous; that they are perfect the way they are. So please consider changing what you sell in your company, because, whether you realize it or not, it makes a big difference in how people view themselves and others.
Cynthia Melvin, Buffalo Creek, CO	Thank you for listening.
Gaia Cooksey, Colorado Spgs, CO	NO MERCURY!!!
Izzy Acky, Colorado Springs, CO	You have a responsibility to not promote predators, as that makes you a predator. You already take precautions abroad, take them here now.
Shelly Berson, Colorado Springs, CO	That the inventors conceived of such a product is racist and medically dangerous. All in all, simply unconscionable. Please don't continue advancing their flawed ideas.
Marilyn Brennehan, Colorado Springs, CO	But that is shameful to keep selling harmful products!!!
Betsey Jeff Jewett, Colorado Springs, CO	Please stop the advertising/selling of carcinogenic goods to the people that use your service. Know what's in the products you sell or don't sell them without a warning of what's in the products! That is a very irresponsible practice. Is money all that you care about-not the health of people. I've thought your standards put people first! Isn't that what you've said to the public?
Glenn Kraus, Colorado Springs, CO	Don't encourage ?colorists?. That is a vestige of an old disgraceful way of thinking.
J.S. Kritser, Colorado Springs, CO	I know your rationale is, "Someone will keep selling these creams, so why should we miss out on the $$$." That's not an ethical or honest pathway to walk. Bezos, you DON'T need profit from poisons!
Anthony Mickelbury, Colorado Springs, CO	People cannot lighten their skin with creams. You can't endanger lives just so can make MORE money. You have enough. Do the right thing!
Laura Rushing, Colorado Springs,	This is completely unnecessary.

Deborah Sheinman, Colorado Springs, CO	Mercury is a poison - pure and simple. Stop selling these laced with mercury.
Theresa Titone, Cortez, CO	This is despicable. You don't really need to carry such items. Get rid of them now!
Elena Goldstein, Crawford, CO	Examine your ugly profit motive. It is immoral. Do not do unto others what you would not have them do unto you. Did you never learn this?
Margaret Bandy, Denver, CO	I shop on Amazon almost every week and I am a Prime customer. My family also uses eBay frequently. Please remove these harmful products right away. Thank you.
Julianne Baumann, Denver, CO	Please stop selling - it can be good for anyone!
Catherine Carr, Denver, CO	Ewww! It is disgusting that these are being peddled. As a person with an autoimmune skin condition I am very concerned that these dangerous products are lining your pockets. Stop it now!
Errol Cerovski, Denver, CO	when will the idiotic practices of research that is harmful to life stop? shame on you. I advocate to my friends to drop all contact with biological terrorists.
Brendan Clary, Denver, CO	Stop profiting of of poison
Phil Corsello, Denver, CO	Stop. It is the right thing to do.
Debra Cunningham, Denver, CO	Support women of color
Ka Lemon, Denver, CO	As a platform you have a responsibility to police how it is used and what is being sold.
Mel Preusser, Denver, CO	Please be part of the solution to our nation's problems, not a perpetrator. Take a moral stand, lead by example and do what is right.
Lea Ratliff, Denver, CO	As a physician, I find these products appalling. Please remove them from your offerings!
Amanda Rea, Denver, CO	The United States has fallen behind European countries in regulating toxic products and it's damaging our health, air, and water.
[Name withheld], Denver, CO	I am disturbed by this. Toxic chemicals put on people to change their skin color, is sad. All people are beautiful and should be accepted for being who they are. Promoting or encouraging people to put unnecessary toxic chemicals on their skin is unacceptable. We should be encouraging people to love the way they look.
Alex Valdes, Denver, CO	This issue is simple ethics! Mercury is known to be harmful to the human body including nervous, renal, hepatic and cutaneous systems. Simple ethics as if you would use or let any of your family members use these products known to be harmful. The answer to that I hope is NO, so why selling them in your platforms to put many other humans at risk. Please stop doing this, please show that you care more about people and the planet than the profit that comes into your pockets.
Morgan Wolfe, Denver, CO	I have been a prime customer for years, but will be reevaluating that membership soon, you have a responsibility to protect your customers from harmful products.
Rachel Scarlata, Divide, CO	No one should cave to the prejudices of white supremacists.
Nadine Ancel, Durango, CO	No amount of potential profits is worth the health of one individual.
Ben Barker, Durango, CO	There are other nontoxic products available. Why not market those products.
Charlie Speno, Durango, CO	QUIT THE AWFUL BUSINESS SCHEEMS

Karin Edwards, Estes Park, CO	We need to take care of the world and all of us that live in it.
Jean Achenbach, Evans, CO	Please stop selling these dangerous products! I don't understand why supposedly reputable companies would sell these terrible skin lightening products and I will boycott your companies until you stop selling them.
Cory Carroll, Fort Collins, CO	The history of mercury toxicity is long and sad. Abraham Lincoln almost went mad with mercury exposure but, fortunately, for him and our nation he eliminated contact with the toxin and was able to negotiate a process with extracting America to slavery. We need to admit that toxic substances, in the long term, are more dangerous than the short term benefits. Please act intelligently and stop the consumer exposure to mercury containing substances.
Dianne Flynn, Fort Collins, CO	This should be a no brainer.
Donietta Cooper, Fountain, CO	We as women have enough to deal with and worry about. Please let this be one less thing and stop selling this garbage from China!!!! The president don't give a crap, be better than him and stand up for us. Thank you for your time.
Katie Munkres, Grand Junction, CO	Toxic chemicals don't belong in our products
Erik Staub, Greeley, CO	This would be easy to stop. Come on where is your social responsibility?
Joan Donnaway, Hesperus, CO	I have a beautiful half Asian Granddaughter. Her Asian Grandmother is a huge proponent of such creams. It concerns me that my 13 year old Granddaughter might risk her health on such a silly pursuit as making her skin lighter than it is (her brother Has much lighter skin which seems to increase his ?value? to his other Grandparents)?
Carolyn Elliott, Lafayette, CO	I am deeply troubled you actually promote skin lightening creams, and still in 2019. Please stop.
Rosemary Frid, Lafayette, CO	Please step into your power to create a safer world for all of us!
Theresa Lee, Lafayette, CO	Care about people, stop selling these toxic products.
Nancy Nixon, Lafayette, CO	Stop acting like the dark web or we'll pass legislation making you legally liable for selling illegal and dangerous products
Fred Walls, Lafayette, CO	If you don't take meaningful action perhaps legislation making you legally responsible for any medical problems.
Heidi Wilson, Lafayette, CO	I do expect Amazon and EBay to monitor the products sold and remove dangerous products from their platforms. Thank you.
Shelby Golden, Lakewood, CO	Toxic chemicals are dangerous for our health but also the people around us and our environment. As a scientist who has dedicated her life to solving diseases like COPD, it is clear that the best way to cure a disease is to prevent it. Do not let your company be on the wrong side of science and history; stop selling products with toxic or untested products!!
Elliott Politzki, Lakewood, CO	Your power and position gives you a tremendous opportunity to be an agent for good in this world - seize it!!
Mary Sikora, Larkspur, CO	please do not send the message to people of color that the color of skin is a trademark of beauty especially when the creams used are so toxic
Geoff Dolman, Longmont, CO	You don't need this blood money to be profitable. Stop putting people in danger of absorbing oxide substances in skin lightening products.
Stan Gelb, Longmont, CO	Americans demand health and safety first!
Laura Lerond, Longmont, CO	Join the future by eliminating the promotion of poisonous toxins? use in and on our bodies.

Lyn Lowry, Longmont, CO	Stop selling poison!
Eve Reshetnik Brawner, Longmont, CO	Really, the lack of regulation of topically-applied products is appalling! The skin is just as much a portal into the body and the blood as the mouth is.
Julia Keane, Louisville, CO	Sales of these products are an insult and a danger to too many women. STOP Now.
Belinda Biddle, Loveland, CO	It's time to develop a conscience and be responsible for what products are on your sites.
Arloa Ellertson, Loveland, CO	Corporations have ethical responsibilities to protect their consumers.
Gary Leffler, Loveland, CO	WHY AREN'T CORRUPT LYING TRAITOR TRUMP and CORRUPT LYING HYPOCRITE MOSCOW-MITCH McCONNELL IN PRISON? Anyone who does not ACTIVELY oppose Corrupt Lying Traitor Trump, Corrupt Lying Hypocrite Moscow-Mitch and their fascist regime until they ALL go to prison is guilty of Corruption, Treason and Obstruction of Justice !!!
John Leffler, Loveland, CO	WHY AREN'T CORRUPT LYING TRAITOR TRUMP and CORRUPT LYING HYPOCRITE MOSCOW-MITCH McCONNELL IN PRISON? Anyone who does not ACTIVELY oppose Corrupt Lying Traitor Trump, Corrupt Lying Hypocrite Moscow-Mitch and their fascist regime until they ALL go to prison is guilty of Corruption, Treason and Obstruction of Justice !!!
Patt Runyan, Loveland, CO	quit....it's 2019, time to have a conscience for what you sell
Conner Seay, Loveland, CO	This is irresponsible to sell products that harm the health of your customers. Please screen products and support positive reputation for your company.
Linda Thompson, Montrose, CO	Amazon has a responsibility to those of us in the rest of the world, In addition to Europe.
Susan Permut, Monument, CO	I don't want anyone to use these creams on their skin. Please do the right thing and take them off the market. Thanks.
Teagen Blakey, Nederland, CO	I ask that you take up the very feasible actions put forward to your companies to ensure the products sold on your websites are safe for all women to use. Please think of the women in your life and your family, whose well being you care about.
Justin hess, Paonia, CO	Please.
Marilyn Schwieterman, Paonia, CO	I find it extremely stupid for you to use mercury when the you surely have the knowledge of its side effects. The almighty dollar takes precedence over everything else? Maybe you had better check the creams your family use...then think again.
Christopher Tschinkel, Paonia, CO	...this is a public health hazard. Please do the conscientious thing.
Virginia Waldron, Pueblo, CO	Not healthy for skin
Skip Edwards, Ridgway, CO	Why this issue matters to me: This is just another blatant example of how our government, and its agencies like the EPA and FDA, continue to fail citizens by its neglect of its responsibilities to protect our health, safety and environment. Government, "what is it good for?" Seemingly, "absolutely nothing!"
Den Harris, Salida, CO	This is a no-brainer. Do your part to stop it!
Stan Price, San Luis, CO	Get current, get real, take care of the people AND the environment

Donna Bell, Superior, CO	Let's return the natural and start listening to your customers. And remove any projects that have to do with animal testing
Elizabeth Farrar, Telluride, CO	Shame on you for allowing toxic products
Charlotte Alexandre, Thornton, CO	NO MORE MERCURY!
Mary Devoy, Woodland Park, CO	You really should be a better steward of our shared planet.
Catherine Rich, Woodland Park, CO	This abuse must stop. Consumers are ignorant of what products contain and you are responsible. Thank you
Margaret Ouellette, Bethel, CT	Margaret Ouellette Stop using these products. They are poisonous.
Gian Andrea Morresi, Bridgeport, CT	As an Amazon and eBay customer, I am very disappointed and also concerned that profits are being put ahead of consumer health. Please take action immediately!
Steve Morrell, Burlington, CT	I use Amazon often, not so for eBay. Your companies should be leading the way to stop toxic chemicals getting into products your customers use.
Laura Wright, Canton, CT	Many people, including myself, buy skincare products assuming that they are safe to use if used as directed. Sometimes, various components of these products are deemed unsafe many years later. It is important to test these products thoroughly and possibly have a numerical safety code similar to the one used for chemicals in the science world as the level of toxicity varies by chemical and concentration used. It is imperative to act swiftly and address any health safety concerns once a toxic substance is identified in skincare products. Public safety must come before corporate profits.
robin aitro, Cheshire, CT	Stop selling toxic skin lightener and makeup on Amazon and eBay..
Grant Magee, Chester, CT	You have so much power as large distributors to make a change to a product that is better for the environment without losing income because you control the market on convenience, it doesn't matter if you can't sell them the toxic products the customer will just buy whatever is available. If you make the only product available one that is mercury free then the women who use these skin lightening creams will not face the consequences of mercury poisoning. Please be aware of the power you hold in this situation
Christopher Wilson, Cornwall Bridge, CT	As an Amazon and EBay customer, I demand transparency and corporate responsibility in the products made available to consumers. These dangerous and chemical-laden products must be remove from sale on EBay as well as Amazon. I'm making a pledge to first reduce my weekly purchasing (estimated around $150 on EBay) if these products are not banned for sale. I will take similar action on Amazon where my spending is largely in services. I want these products banded from these consumer platforms. I want it done immediately!
John Effinger, Danbury, CT	Please consider.
Nadia Czebiniak, Darien, CT	Please. You are so prominent in today's society and should set a much higher standard.
Jill Warren, East Hampton, CT	It is egregious that you continue to sell toxic products to your unknowing customers. Take these products off the list of ones you offer!
Kathleen Vaiciulis, Ellington, CT	Please care about us women and girls!!
Susan Watson, Greenwich, CT	I am a consumer as well as a shareholder in your companies and am shocked to learn that you are selling toxic skin lightening and will divest and boycott your companies until the situation is remedied.

Norbert Kovacs, Hartford, CT	Please respect women's health. Remove toxic skin lighteners from your available merchandise.
Dorothy Lovett Buckley, Hartford, CT	We need to embrace all people no matter what color skin, and let them know black is beautiful.
Sandra Lambert, Mansfield Center, CT	When you know something is bad for people you are obligated to stop selling it. Take more pride in your business than in your profits. Shareholders will respect good socially aware decisions. You?ll do even better. Look at Nike and Walmart.
Krista Owens, Middlebury, CT	Amazon and eBay must ensure the products they sell are safe. I regularly purchase products through Amazon and it's concerning that there are items that have not been rejected that should have been.
H.L Chris Chrissos, Jp, N Stonington, CT	Mercury was used in the hat making industry. It is an extremely toxic metal and it shouldn't be rubbed on anyone's body.
Marilyn Adetona, New Haven, CT	Dear Sir: Please find it in your conscience do properly dispose of poisonous products and not dump them in Africa. Women and children in African countries do not need additional health concerns. Thank you for consideration.
Lynn Roth, Newington, CT	Stop selling tainted skin lighting products to people. It can cause people to get sick or get cancer or other diseases.
Karen Serio, Newington, CT	I am so grateful to be a bladder cancer survivor. I am only 49. I do NOT want this disease to come back. I fight hard every day to stay healthy. Please do what YOU can to help. Thank you.
Jean Davis, North Haven, CT	This is unsafe and wrong!!!
Jona Cruz, Norwalk, CT	this is very important being that our families are already being poisoned already by common house hold toxins and out door pollutants. Please please, stop this from being sold!
Connie Pan, Old Lyme, CT	Having dangerous products sold freely on your site makes me feel less safe on your site - it lowers my trust in the company as a whole, plain and simple, because I don't know which other items I'm browsing could potentially put me in danger. Not regulating the sale of hazardous materials like these cosmetics even goes to show the apathy you have for your customers? safety. Please consider this.
Amanda Tuthill, Rockfall, CT	As a retired science teacher in an urban environment, we educate about lead poisoning and have rid our labs of mercury. I am shocked you sell products that are harming your customers. Please take these products off your marketplace.
Lauren Trager, Salisbury, CT	It is ALL of our responsibility to preserve and protect our Planet!!! Please stop selling harmful products to our environment!!
Susan Logie, Simsbury, CT	Hey you guys, money isn't everything. Would you let your wife or daughters use these products? I think not!!!
John Giustra, Southbury, CT	I dont understand why money Trumps life.
Ocean Pellett, Waterford, CT	We don't allow toxins in our food, we don't need them on line either.
Victoria Bourque Sklar, West Hartford, CT	It's appalling to me that these products are being sold on these sites. Please consider the safety of people who buy these hazardous products. Please stop selling them.
Robin Resin, West Hartford, CT	You're too busy and it's not appropriate.
Suzanne Richardson-White, West	Women of color already have larger hurdles to jump than white

Suffield, CT	women. They shouldn't have the additional burden of being sold illegally toxic products on your sites. Remove these products now!
Carol Anne Ances, Westport, CT	Large companies should not sell products with known health hazards.
Susan Bromley, Westport, CT	Be responsible to humanity and the earth by banning mercury laden products.
Agnes Bernard, Windham, CT	Agnes Bernard
James Tarbell, Windsor Locks, CT	As someone who has vitiligo I can empathize with the market for these products. Unfortunately, most are unsafe. Just asking you to do the right thing here. Don't let an unaware consumer purchase a harmful product. Its bad business.
Leeane Marvin, Winsted, CT	This can not be good for anyone. Please dont support and sell dangerous products.
Sivan Doron, Woodbridge, CT	We look forward to you to set the tone in this uncertain time of lack of governmental guidance. Do not disappoint us!!
Laurel Vornovitsky, Woodbridge, CT	Laurel Vornovitsky
Mark Browning, Washington, DC	There is no excuse for allowing these products on your websites.
Hailey Brue, Washington, DC	You have a responsibility to your customers. Maybe not legally in your point of view, but morally nonetheless. I am boycotting Amazon, along with many of my friends, due to your lack of regard for human lives and the environment. Until things change, I will continue to educate those around me on your malfeasance.
Robert Choo, Washington, DC	Be good corporate citizens!
Cecyl Ivie, Washington, DC	GOD. The whole World has gone STUPID. Christ!
Ana Karimi, Washington, DC	This is so reprehensible. We can and should do better.
Dan Maceda, Washington, DC	Especially for Amazon. You have the income and power to act responsibly ,please take action.
Janine Hofmann, Berlin, DE	please help protecting this world
Margaret Doordan, Bridgeville, DE	Start testing your products. It is about time you cared about people. You only care about your money. Margaret Doordan
Eric Frankl, Dover, DE	Please help!
Agnes Brien, Frankford, DE	There seems to be no limit to how far you will go to increase your money or deceive the public.
MaryAnne Crawford, Lewes, DE	Your support is greatly appreciated!!
Elizabeth Kelch, Magnolia, DE	I want a healthy people and a healthy planet.
Sheila Lynch, Newark, DE	Injustice upon injustice. Spend some money instead to guarantee equal rights for all people. Shameful.
Richard Vanni, Ocean View, DE	Do not let profit rule over what is right.
Charlie Garlow, Rehoboth Beach, DE	What are you thinking?!! Mercury in your products!! No.
Lois Johnson, Wilmington, DE	These products are poisonous and should not be available to uninformed buyers. Remove them immediately and prevent them from being relisted.
Mary Snowdon, Wilmington, DE	It makes me sad that Amazon and eBay continue to care more about profit than concern for their customers. While you may lose out on sales, you take a step forward in ethics. People are beautiful in many shapes and colors. Promoting these products promotes the message that someone is less than or inferior based on their coloring.

Gail Yborra, Wilmington, DE	First law of the planet: DO NO HARM! Show some responsibility and moral character.
Sueellen Hunter, Alachua, FL	You have been informed of the danger so choosing to leave these toxic products on the market makes you and accessory to the damage and death they cause. Juries are made up of people like me and we will hold you accountable.
Adriana Luke, Apopka, FL	We have to stop harming people, animals, every living thing on this planet and this planet or we will have nothing for the future.
Rachel Ellis, Bartow, FL	(Prayers)
Lauren Cox, Boca Raton, FL	Do not sell toxic products.
Ryan F, Boca Raton, FL	Need to be aware of what your selling
Dawn Suppo, Boca Raton, FL	Please, STOP SELLING MERCURY BASED SKIN CREAMS. There the MOST HAZARDOUS and TOXIC TO EVERYTHING THEY TOUCH
Diana Cowans, Bradenton, FL	Corporate responsibility - it's not a radical concept.
Michael Hill, Bradenton, FL	This makes me SICK!
Barbara Sallee, Bradenton, FL	How can you demean women into thinking they need to change their skin? Then you sell products loaded with unknown poisonous mercury. This is cruel!
Carrie James, Brooksville, FL	This is a huge conflict of interest for sales of any kind but particularly on the national scale eBay and Amazon have. You have a duty to ensure everything sold is ethical, safe and not for illegal purposes!
Beatrice Oliver, Bushnell, FL	These products only add to the suffering of more people , more pollution of the planet, and make your company name less credible
David And Mary Lou Mackey, Cape Coral, FL	Stop poisoning people.. Find other ways and ingredients in your products To make them safe. Your profits won't suffer that much. Plus the fact you'll be doing good things for Society
Michael Zaikis, Cape Coral, FL	I buy ALOT of stuff from you & if you want me to CONTINUE to buy stuff from you you'll STOP THIS immediately!!!
Gordon Scott, Cedar Key, FL	stop selling these poisons or I will stop doing business with you
Phyllis Knights, Citrus Springs, FL	Although I would never used these products, I care about the health of the human race. It would not be hard for you to implement a vetting procedure. Please do the right thing.
Frances Robin Graham, Clearwater, FL	Not even your stockholders believe it is all about the money. Profit is a good thing until it is harmful. Now you know; now do what is right
Cathy Vinciguerra, Clearwater, FL	It is really hard to believe that this even needs to be addressed and that people are buying, selling and using such products. PLEASE STOP!
Tammy Lettieri, Coconut Creek, FL	What won't you people do to make a buck? Smh
Relman Diaz, Coral Gables, FL	We must stop the sale and use of products containing hazardous materials. Please discontinue. Thanks.
Carol Rakoff, Coral Springs, FL	Life is more important than profit
Brett Robert, Coral Springs, FL	If you continue to allow the sale of products that have been determined to be unsafe, then you become liable as well.
Charlotte Santa, Crescent City, FL	Are there new depths into which you can delve for money...?...No matter who you hurt?
Mary Lewis, Dania, FL	Please take the correct action. This is expected and appreciated.

	Thank You, Mary Lewis
Laura Haims, Davie, FL	Enough is enough!
Marcia Bailey, Dunedin, FL	Stop selling products that you know are hazardous.
Kay Quackenbush, Dunedin, FL	Please do the right thing-
Richard Boyles, Edgewater, FL	Please, at the very least, do no harm!
David Fenech, Estero, FL	This is especially important to me as an Amazon stockholder and Amazon consumer.
Scott McCarthy, Estero, FL	I am an Amazon Prime customer, and this is important to me. Lead by example!
Ray Butler, Fort Lauderdale, FL	ray butler
Deborah Card, Fort Lauderdale, FL	Personal integrity should command corporate integrity in one's products as well. Rise to the occasion and remove these hazardous items now.
Ernest Socolov, Fort Lauderdale, FL	Because of my age, and while walking through a rather high-end mall, many people wanted me to try and "resolve" my wrinkle problem. I allowed one person to do it, but did not purchase. Very glad I did not!
Jennifer Graham, Fort Myers, FL	Shoppers need to be able to trust that products are safe when they are on your websites.
Terry Lianzi, Fort Myers, FL	Mercury should have no place in consumer products.
Karen Nealy, Fort Myers, FL	Stop immediately as its too dangerous and dont know future effects of this cream
Sylvia Richey, Fort Myers, FL	Also, please stop selling products containing cancer causing perfumes.
Sylvia And Harry Richey, Fort Myers, FL	All personal care products containing perfume used by people in my vicinity make me very ill. That's just a tip of the ice berg. Cancer, pneumonia, Parkinson's, MS are just a few of illnesses caused by perfume and products that contain fragrance.
Becky Rose, Freeport, FL	Gosh, really?? You care so little about people's health you would allow toxic chemicals in your products. Please stop this practice immediately
Diane Kossman, Ft Lauderdale, FL	You're killing the Earth with TOXINS?'sTOP??????????
Brenda Breil, Gainesville, FL	There is no safe level of mercury. Stop allowing illegal and dangerous items from entering our environment.
Holly Dixon, Gainesville, FL	Mercury is known to be toxic so why would your company allow the sale of these products to go on? Money isn't as valuable as lives.
Miriam Hemphill, Gainesville, FL	Stop selling illegal mercury skin lightening products!
Karen Singh, Green Cove Springs, FL	This should not even be up for debate!
Scout Stone, Greenville, FL	This is outrageous. In the western world it is no secret that the bottom line is the most important part of our lives. It is DEMONIC to offer toxic products to consumers, just to add to the bottom line!
Paula Morgan, Hollywood, FL	I would like to feel more secure in your product reviews and the content of mercury is concerning. Even dentists have curbed their enthusiasm for using mercury.
Charles Wallace, Hollywood, FL	I lived just fine before your companies existed and i have no use for you today, what you should be worried about is , how many other Consumers are on the verge of this Epiphany.
Donavon Kambel, Homestead, FL	Stop selling dangerous toxins to populations of earth! Because this product will cripple and or kill!

Bob Mazza, Jacksonville, FL	It's ridiculous to push skin lightening products on an insecure public.
Nila Reynolds, Jacksonville, FL	I rely on these products deal with freckles and age spots and am horrified to learn of their unregulated and undisclosed toxic capabilities. Although I appreciate the lower cost and convenience of online ordering I won't be ordering them from Amazon or Ebay until you can guarantee they are mercury free. For everyone's sake I hope that will be soon.
Mary Skevos, Jacksonville, FL	There are enough toxins in the environment already; I think it's reasonable to expect that a product that's would be illegal in the USA should at least carry a warning and list ingredients. Or just don't sell them!
Allen Tilley, Jacksonville, FL	It's your mercury on their face.
Nancy Noyes Stephan, Jupiter, FL	Do the right thing - stop selling mercury based skin creams.
Enid Schrier, Jupiter, FL	Help humanity
Alejandra Parapar, Key Biscayne, FL	Please do not destroy our health and help us.
Susan Guerra, Kissimmee, FL	Stop this now
Vivian Gomez, Lake Worth, FL	For years we have known how bad Mercury is. People everywhere are extremely concerned w where the fish we eat comes from. So we have waged war against mercury poisoning in fish and yet Amazon and eBay still poison people by selling mercury laced creams??? Greed is indeed the cause of many of humanity's shortcomings...pls fix this problem now.
Hattie Robinson, Lake Worth, FL	Please, Please, Please, Please Stop!!!!!!
James Robertson, Lakeland, FL	Color is the best ! It is more beautiful. It protects us from sun burn (to a degree if we are careful) and it is dominant. Wake up! The most common color is COLOR!
Diane Miller, Largo, FL	How dare you profit by promoting the sale of products that poison people!!
Gavi Stevens, Largo, FL	Selling products that contain mercury for topical use? What asinine genius decided to do that? Mercury is readily absorbed through the skin and is highly toxic so these products are poisoning their users - kill you customers - a real smart marketing strategy.
Kathy Venrooy, Leesburg, FL	I thought Amazon looked out for it's customers. Stop selling poisonous products!
Elaine Brisson, Melbourne, FL	Her skin is our biggest organ. We must know the ingredients of those products that we applied to our skin!
Judith Weaver, Melbourne, FL	Why do you two companies want to poison people?????????
Dean Bagley, Melbourne Beach, FL	Where we need to begin this fight is with the companies that manufacture the products. I'm sure Amazon and eBay aren't aware of dangers of using these products, but there's no way the manufacturer isn't doesn't know what he's producing. Stopping the sale of these toxic products is the first step, but stopping production should be the priority.
shelia mickelsen, Melbourne Beach, FL	Keep up the good fight. Thank you
Nancy Thompson, Merritt Island, FL	Thank you for for your ethical, moral and sustainable decision to stop selling these products and for preventing future such mistakes.
Adrienne Diprima, Miami, FL	I am a loyal AMAZON shopper, however, this irresponsible action on the part of Amazon & eBay cannot be tolerated. It must be stopped immediately.

Robert Gates, Miami, FL	don't you have enough money!?...you greedy monster!!
Kelly Greene, Miami, FL	If you wouldn't want your children to use these harmful products, then don't sell them to the public. My skin is white, but I have been using such products to reduce sun damage. Now, I have to wonder if the products I've been buying from Amazon and Ebay contain mercury. I'll have to stop buying these products online and find another source until I can feel certain that you have taken appropriate action from your third-party sellers.
Ira Horowitz, Miami, FL	Please place people above profit.
Martha Singleton, Miami, FL	I am an Amazon customer who expects more from former Florida boy Jeff Bezos!
Barbara Bisno, Miami Beach, FL	I buy almost all my skin care products from Amazon and I rely on you not to include illegal and toxic products. Please stop this.
Cynthia Elia, Rn, Minneola, FL	I'm a nurse
Grace Wong, Miramar, FL	Please do the right thing for the consumers.
John Heigl, Mount Dora, FL	While you're at it please help remove toxic Trumps
Phillip Hlavac, Mount Dora, FL	Mr Bezos:I admire your success story. But along with that success comes the responsibility to make sure Amazon is responsible to their customers.
Carmen Avila, Naples, FL	Shame on you, we the people that trust on you.
Joanne Brown, Naples, FL	People allowed to make and distribute toxic products for momentary gains are part of the ecological, human problem we exist in today. PLEASE BE A PART OF THE SOLUTION BY DOING THE RIGHT THING. Sincerely, JoanneBrown
Audrey Chernoch, Naples, FL	Please stop selling products that are so harmful to our health and the health of the environment. Consumers deserve to know what's in their products and that retailers are intentional about selling quality and safe products!
Katelynn Collins, Naples, FL	Everyone's sick tone should be celebrated just the way it is! Also these products are harmful to the skin and environment))):
David Eastlake, Naples, FL	This is an important issue to us!
Diane Fulton, Naples, FL	Mercury is so toxic to infants particularly and animals so please dont circumvent American's efforts to protect from these toxins.
Donna Versace, New Port Richey, FL	Stop allowing people to be poisoned!
Susan Volpe, New Smyrna Beach, FL	Isn't it a shame that letters like this has to be sent. Don't join big corporations I'm not caring about consumers. We're the ones who buy your products to pay your salaries!
Lynn Daigler, Nokomis, FL	Lynn Daigler
Nicole Gagne, North Lauderdale, FL	Be the Company that changes our future with positive healthy knowledge. Inform all buyers.
Kathleen Guilmette, North Port, FL	Rather than selling these dangerous products,please invest in organizations which work for equality of all colors! I have 2 daughters who are brown, so this hits home.
Chana Faye, Ocala, FL	This is for a life and death scenario. Mercury is highly radio active and poisonous. Stop thinking this is okay. It is not okay to sell these products and it is not okay to have them on the market. Stop, Cease, Desist!

Robyn Sasso, Ocala, FL	Stop
Anna Elias, Orlando, FL	You must think of people first, not profits and bottom lines. Don't sell any products that will harm others. For any reason.
Hiram Helfman, Orlando, FL	We don't need large numbers of people becoming impaired or dying via the use of mercury-laden skin care products!
Eileen Quinn, Orlando, FL	We have way to much toxcity in our world. STOP smearing it on our faces and bodies. You have the power so USE IT to help clean up our world...one face at a time.
David Warren, Palm Bay, FL	Please stop selling Mercury based skin creams.
	They are harmful and toxic to Consumers!
Donna Daniele, Palm Beach, FL	Donna Daniele
Thomas Brady, Palm Coast, FL	Using anything unnatural is not natural for humans!
Gary MADOLE, Palm Coast, FL	DUMP TRUMP!!!!
Robert Wershoven, Palm Coast, FL	We all should have safe and non-toxic ingredients in everything we buy, or we don't buy it at all.
Mike Lynch, Pensacola, FL	Is money more important to you than the health & welfare of your customers?
A Pogel, Plantation, FL	REMOVE BLOVIATING IGNORAMUS CRIMINAL DRUMPF BY IMPEACHMENT, NOW, & PENCE, MNUCHIN, MULVANEY, CARSON, AZAR, DEVOS, & POMPEO & REMAINING GANG OF THIEVES IN THIS ADMINISTRATION.
Eric West, Port Orange, FL	The pursuit of money and growth of your business models has turned you into sick people.
Diane Goldberg, Port Saint Lucie, FL	Mercury is too dangerous to use in anything.
Jean Siegel, Port St Lucie, FL	Amazon and eBay have time protective about ensuring third party sellers follow appropriate laws so that their products won't be harmful to consumers.
Mary Kellough, Saint Augustine, FL	I am part of a group exploring the limitless expressions of racism. Skin lightening creams would fall under that category. And to sell toxic versions of those is beyond unethical. Is is wrong, it is immoral .
Thomas Myrick, Saint Augustine, FL	Tom Myrick
Mary Babineau, Saint Petersburg, FL	Mercury is deadly! Products containing it must not be sold.
Melissa Buhler, Saint Petersburg, FL	Some of you have shown great compassion for our environment, and creditably so. But please have some compassion for its citizens who have been, for decades, and not all for your fault, to have been damaged by supposedly health-promoting products. As I understand, you have been forewarned about this. Please show your compassion for this by stopping the sales of these products.
Jennie Jamison, Saint Petersburg, FL	Both companies are leaders and taking a stand against these substances would make a huge statement to the public
Gerry Fitzgerald, Sanibel, FL	People who use skin lightening products unwittingly expose themselves to toxic and illegal substances including mercury.
Linda Archuleta, Sarasota, FL	I totally agree with the message and this will impact my decision to use Amazon and e-bay.
Mary Sue Baker, Sarasota, FL	This is bordering on atrocious.
Judisc Cannon, Sarasota, FL	Jeff and Devin, Time to wake up! What happens to a country when there is an embargo placed, what happens when conscience people create a wave to boycott businesses? Inescapable rule: Do as you will and DO NO HARM. Enjoy you day and allow others to also. Thank you for promptly attending to this matter.

John Keal, Sarasota, FL	You've been put on notice! Stop allowing illegal substances to be sold on your platform.
Andre Lessard, Sarasota, FL	Simply stop selling skin lightening products.
Dawn Ohlsson, Sarasota, FL	Please start selling for an animal goods online to people we have to preserve the species of animals on the planet I need to save these souls or we will lose them forever do you have a responsibility with up to it
C.A. Seneca, Sarasota, FL	This is a no-brainer - stop selling harmful products!
Bonita Sutherland, Sarasota, FL	Just buck-up and stop the bad job you are doing. Remove all of the illegal products now!
Phyllis Weber, Sarasota, FL	Please stop for all of our health and wellness
Susan Mccaughey, Sebring, FL	We've known for decades that mercury is a poison. How can you ethically sell products containing mercury without it weighing on your conscience?
Carol Fisher, Seminole, FL	Yikes - skin poison?
Mary Turpin, Silver Springs, FL	Being white I'm somewhat embarrassed by what we do to others to make a profit for ourselves! Please help in this situation. Thanks
Frances Nelsen, Sorrento, FL	All colors of humanity are beautiful. provide healthy skin creams for all people.
David Tinsley, Southwest Ranches, FL	Live with the skin you were born with...
Katherine Mayers, St Petersburg, FL	STOP THE INSANITY NOW!!!!
Doreen Sanford, St Petersburg, FL	sell safe products now! please!
Jen Underhill, St Petersburg, FL	I do my homework when I shop online, and I expect you to do your homework about the products you sell. If you want us to trust your companies, then you are going to need to do better.
Jackie Trancynger, Stuart, FL	American's have the right to know what's in the products they are buying and companies
Grace Busch Doris Lahr, Sun City Center, FL	From 5 very concerned citizens Doris + Deborah Lahr Grace, Alexander + Susanna Busch
Audrey Suzanne Collins, Tallahassee, FL	Please think of peoples health!
Sharon Fairbanks, Tallahassee, FL	Most people are not aware and you are poisoning them. How can you sleep at night?
John Fisher, Tallahassee, FL	WHAT? Stop selling these products NOW!!!
Victoria Martinez, Tallahassee, FL	I left Facebook because of their role in the Rovingya genocide. I hate to have to quit using amazon and EBay, but I well if I have no choice.
Michael Murray, Tallahassee, FL	It's obscene that products already determined to be dangerous to human health are readily available to online customers of Amazon and eBay. Even if not illegal, please be responsible supporters of public health and remove these mercury-laden, skin lightening products from online availability and your standing inventories. It's not only right, but the ethical thing to do!

Tara Tanaka, Tallahassee, FL	Stop selling a known neurotoxin. I am a loyal customer and a stock holder, selling this poison does not represent my values at all.
Wayne Carley, Tampa, FL	Tell would you have this product in your household not even use it just to let it sit around when it affects not only the person using it, but everyone in their household that is too high a price. so why is something containing an ILLEGAL substance being sold in your shop(s)?? End the stupidity and stop selling these mercury containing creams.
Jamie Hines, Tampa, FL	Anybody needs to learn how to be proud of themselves as they are! This B.S of skin lighteners is just greed run amok! Most of you chemical products Don't biodegrade but cost long term problems!!! Stop this, Please!
Susan Lee, Tampa, FL	Mercury is dreadfully harmful and has no business being in YOUR business. I urge you to get rid of all products that contain it.
Katja Spear, Tampa, FL	It's just wrong to sell a product you know is toxic and harmful to people.
Deborah Trehy, Tampa, FL	I am a physician who cares for pregnant women and these products if used enough are especially harmful to the baby inside with a developing brain along to the mother. Please stop offering these products with MERCURY. Deborah Trehy MD, FACOG
Cecilia Yocum, Tampa, FL	Stop it already
Bernadette Hornsby, Thonotosassa, FL	Please take action and clean up your web sites
Susan Anderson, Valrico, FL	Mercury is very toxic. Stop offering products that use Mercury. People do not always review the ingredients, only the stated results.
Agustina Wright, Valrico, FL	Mercury is very toxic. It is very irresponsible to sell something that can cause lots of health problems. Stop selling products with mercury.
Brenda Bricker, Venice, FL	Please, our world has so many dangers to avoid. Do not add these products to the ever growing list of hazards that threaten our health.
Deborah Gambone, Wellington, FL	Every person needs to make the best of the skin they were given. How dare you sell something with mercury in it to people desperate to modify their skin tone!
L M Kinsey, West Palm Beach, FL	No more toxins!
Michael Pennington, West Palm Beach, FL	STOP THE ABUSE OF PEOPLE, THERE A REASON IT ILLEGAL
Ann Dunn, Williston, FL	Don't sell unhealthy products known to be toxic and dangerous!
William Burnworth, Wilton Manors, FL	thank you
Penny Gregorio, Albany, GA	Do you really have to be told this? Be responsible for the world you live in and the animals that it habitat it. STOP SELLING SUFFERING, ABUSE AND DEATH!
D Sherbourne, Alpharetta, GA	AS A DOCTOR THIS IS A VERY SERIOUS PROBLEM AND SHOULD BE STOPPED IMMEDIATELY. Dr, DONALD SHERBOURNE
Robyn Bolton, Athens, GA	Please and thank you!
Marcia Brandes, Atlanta, GA	I count on Amazon for much of my shopping, and if I can't trust your products then I will be less willing to shop with you. I've read about so many counterfeit products on Amazon. Please do a better job of policing your site.

Annette Harvill, Atlanta, GA	We have known that mercury is toxic for decades, and yet, I am still asked to write you to stop using mercury in your products. This seems like it should be on 'The Ridiculous,' with Anderson Cooper, since it is obviously ridiculous your company is still using mercury in your products. Do the right thing, please.
Martin Iovev, Atlanta, GA	Killing your customer base is not good for profits in the future.
Matt Lammers, Atlanta, GA	We purchase from Amazon often and have bought and sold via eBay. I did not know that these two companies were profiting from the sale of toxic materials. Please stop now! This will allow me to shop from your companies once again.
Steven Lindsay, Atlanta, GA	My wife and I have experienced this first hand. Men and women are socialized think of 'fair' skin as better, more beautiful, more healthy, leading to discrimination and vain attempts to 'lighten' skin. Sometimes companies simply rebrand sunscreen as 'whitening' cream. Other times bizarre or downright dangerous products are promoted as 'lighteners'. You have the ability to prevent this. At least insist on truth in advertising and stop people selling dangerous products for 'health and beauty'. If you don't, you're culpable too.
Carola Manzano, Atlanta, GA	We all have to do our part to change our world for the better.
Vivian Slade, Atlanta, GA	Please take a stand on this issue. Thank you.
Rochelle Stein, Atlanta, GA	NOTE: It is illegal to knowingly sell poison, and we are letting you know that you need to stop IMMEDIATELY! Otherwise, you are liable for contributing to the damages that those products cause. You are hereby warned.
Marquita Hester, Austell, GA	Think of the lives you are negatively affecting.
Sharon Moran, Brookhaven, GA	This harms both physically and emotional! We are the color we are for a physical reason. No one should have to alter what the sun makes us.
Charles Brexel Sr., Canton, GA	This kind of mercury poisoning is just awful. I do not want this awful poisoning to harm my friends and family members. Thank you for immediately removing illegal and toxic skin lightening products containing mercury from your marketplace.
Nadia Stephens, Centerville, GA	This is just an awful product that should have never existed
Cherry Blaker, Dallas, GA	The fact that these products are illegal and toxic should be enough to spur you into action to make sure that they are not sold on your sites! Please do the right thing.
Marvin Buckner, Darien, GA	You have enough money to make a positive difference. This ain't it.
T Garmon, Dawsonville, GA	You greedy thugs must be prosecute !!!!
Marguerite Boyens, Decatur, GA	Selling these dangerous and poisonous products is morally outrageous. Stop it at once.
Linda Bricker, Decatur, GA	do YOUR JOB AND IMMEDIATELY STOP SELLING SKIN LIGHTENING PRODUCTS WITH MERCURY WHICH IS VERY DANGEROUS
Ross Cheairs Jr, Decatur, GA	Corporate responsibility and values based leadership from the E-suite and C-suite are hallmarks of great companies. Your customers, shareholders and your associates deserve to be served by a great company.

Lucy Stembridge, Forest Park, GA	There's a reason they are illegal! They are dangerous. We all need to learn to accept all types of skin/appearances.
Linda Finn, Gainesville, GA	Be in the forefront of product safety, not lagging behind.
Stephanie Killian, Kennesaw, GA	My own skin is so pale that my make-up color is called vanilla. But my African and African-American friends should not have to worry about mercury in beauty products. Of course ideally I would wish for them to realize that they are beautiful just the way they are. But the reality is that many women are being harmed by these toxic products and you should not allow their sale on your websites.
Alan Hartig, Lawrenceville, GA	While state and local efforts have removed many of these illegal products from the marketplace, tech giants Amazon and eBay continue to sell them on their websites. Testing of skin lightening creams bought on Amazon shows many products contain dangerously high levels of mercury -- sometimes thousands of times the legal limit.
Lorraine Presson, Lawrenceville, GA	Please don't break the trust I have in you to make sure your products are safe and legal. It is easier to keep trust than try to win it back. Don't put profits ahead of consumer safety.
Barbara Yates, Lawrenceville, GA	We can only wonder whom you have co-opted at the DEA (or whatever regulatory agency) to be allowed to market these creams. I don't who thinks they need these creams, you should have sense enough not to sell poison. Do the right thing'stop offering this stuff for sale.
Ruben Arvizu, Marietta, GA	How much dirty money you want, Mr Bezos?
Melissa Vickery, Marietta, GA	We have to watch out for each other in this world
H. Thomas Blum, Palmetto, GA	As a bit and bred Cincinnatian and holder of P&G common stock, I want this outstanding company to show even more leadership in environmental sustainability .
Susan Daniel, Rome, GA	Sell only healthy products! Susan Daniel
Kelly Callen, Roswell, GA	This IMPORTANT for woman's health! Please choose decency over profits!
Jennifer Watts, Roswell, GA	Please do the right thing by the human beings who are your customers.
Paula Graves, Smyrna, GA	Selling products that have been proven to bring harm even over the long term is unethical and immoral.stop please. Human life matters.
Rosa Silviu, Smyrna, GA	You have a social and moral responsibility to stop selling toxic products otherwise we will not patronize you.
Sharon Massey, Snellville, GA	You should be encouraging people to love the person they are rather than selling products that will harm people using them. Shame on you!
Vicky Werner, Snellville, GA	Think about the people you are hurting, rather than the money you are making!
Cyntiha Bowen, Sugar Hill, GA	Seriously??!! Mercury had not been allowed in fillings for over 30 years because it's known to cause health issues. Mercury was a prime ingredient in the making of hats - leading to the "Mad Hatter" syndrome. What would possess any company in this day of enlightenment to continue to put mercury in your beauty products. Is this another case of men thinking women don't matter????
Grace Fletcher, Thomasville, GA	This is unacceptable and does not promote a message of equality and inclusivity. Even worse, it's putting people in actual danger. Please take action.

Lynn Calhoun, Tiger, GA	How ridiculous to continue to sell illegal products. Put an end to this.
Gail Anderson, Woodstock, GA	My sister has freckles and not knowingly used these harmful skin lightning creams for years. She now has kidney damage. It is shameful to think that you are allowing these harmful creams to be purchased through your company. Please don't be part of "Make them sick, so we can make more $ off of their illnesses through Big Pharma. You have enough $ without participating in mame our customers for profit. THANK YOU FOR YOUR HELP and all that you've done to make shopping easier.
Vicki Assafi, Woodstock, GA	Anything for a dollar. Seems you don't care who you kill, who you take jobs and insurance from, just so long you get richer. So sad
Patty Sauer, Ewa Beach, HI	You all should know WAY better than that. Shame on you.
Kendra Hunter, Haiku, HI	Hey Amazon this is horrible. You can do better!
Dave Worth, Hilo, HI	It's the right thing to do.
Rona Bennett, Honolulu, HI	Please stop selling this stuff, it's poison. I've actually had mercury poisoning . Vertigo and tinnitus, with no conventional doctor being able to diagnose it. Fortunately for me a year later A naturopath suggested testing for heavy metals and sure enough I have high levels of mercury. It has been almost a year and I'm still working to rid my body of this stuff. It's expensive and the FDA just made DMPS, one of the best things to chelate mercury, very hard to get. Please help by stopping the sales of mercury creams. Aloha, Rona Bennett
Robert Binnie, Honolulu, HI	Aloha, and thank you for considering removing skin whitening products from our store shelves. These products have not been properly vetted. These products need to be further studied before harmful effects take hold on our public health. Thank you, Robert Binnie, Oahu, Hawaii
James and Chun Bousman, Honolulu, HI	You don't really need money that badly, do you???
Duane Choy, Honolulu, HI	Mahalo.
Cliff Devries, Honolulu, HI	Many people are less educated and need help in determining whether a product is good for their health or not.
Mark Doo, Honolulu, HI	We need to stop marginalizing and peddling dangerous products to people of color and minorities
Leila Ishiki, Honolulu, HI	Please think about what you are doing. Stop selling poison for profit!!!
Kathy Medeiros, Honolulu, HI	...it's necessary to keep the consumer in your best interest, After all where would Amazon OR EBAY be WITHOUT your consumer's...
Bill Taylor, Kahuku, HI	Taking advantage of the personality and appearance issues of people who have been heavily impacted by racist policies and attitudes through history is . . . scummy. Stop! Just the legal exposure of knowingly selling toxic products has to be something anyone subject to examination by share holders for financial due diligence should have in your minds.
Donald Cooke, Kaneohe, HI	stop if it's not legal, or u'll get'sued by someone gullible to buy u crap
Dhaval Shanmuga, Kapaa, HI	I live on Kauaia small island in the middle of the ocean it is why I shop carefully. I won't buy a product Thar is ?over packaged ?? I try to keep my trash can as empty as possible.

Marymargaret Baker, Kihei, HI	I am a nurse practitioner in cosmetic dermatology? these products are dangerous. Please rethink your sales of there products.
Mary Gauba, Kilauea, HI	Profit over protection of people's....typical
L Osterer, Koloa, HI	Heavy metals are toxic end up in our water, no matter who uses them. Stop it.
Christine Weingand, Koloa, HI	This is outrageous! no deadly products sold on Amazon!!! We shouldn't have to worry about toxic substances that can hurt us!!!!!!
Robert Nerger, Naalehu, HI	Look what happened to Michael Jackson. This poison also justifies a white supremacist agenda.
DR SUSAN CASWELL, Paaulo, HI	IT'S SAD YOU DON'T EVEN CARE AS LONG AS YOU MAKE $ AND YOU DON'T EVEN PAY TAXES--TRULY TRAITORS ON SO MANY LEVELS-- SHAME ON YOU FOR SELLING UNHEALTHY ITEMS
Mary Quijano, Pahoa, HI	I buy from your sites all the time. I want to feel that I can trust you to sell me the same high quality and safe products I can buy at WalMart or other online or brick and mortar stores, or I will be reluctant to buy from you in the future.
Nafisseh Soroudi, Princeville, HI	My darker skin has helped me from sun burn and has helped remind me of my deep roots and heritage. Don't facilitate telling people that the shade of their skin needs to be changed to become looking like a white person (without much heritage or value) to be enough!
Ronald McIntosh, Volcano, HI	It is BEYOND criminal to be complicit in marketing products containing mercury, a deadly poison! You are aiding and abetting the most wantonly evil and heartless villains!
W Hamilton, Wahiawa, HI	William Scott Hamilton
Amy Teresa Lynn, Waikoloa, HI	This is a no brainer! Toxic is poison. Who wants that? No ?body?!!!
Connie Hunt, Wailea, HI	Stop poisoning people!
Anita And Randall Yokota, Waimanalo, HI	Mercury is a highly toxic chemical. It is unfathomable that you would allow products for the skin to be sold through Amazon and e-bay! Please stop selling these mercury based skin products.
Martin Edwards, Cedar Falls, IA	C'mon -
Melanie & Joe Griffith, Cedar Falls, IA	Surely you do not knowingly murder people!
Melissa Heston, Cedar Falls, IA	This is nuts, period. Just stop!
Gerri Kanning, Cedar Rapids, IA	I depend on Amazon to do the right thing and only sell safe products. Then to learn that you are trying to put profits first is disheartening. It's hard enough to find a place that I can trust for the special things that I depend on. Please restore my trust and do what is honorable and upright. Remove these unsafe products from your place
Kathy Alexander, Council Bluffs, IA	If it's on your marketplace you should be responsible for the products sold under your name! Ethically as well as legally responsible! Stop selling these and other harmful products!
Stacey Burmeister, Council Bluffs, IA	It's imperative for the leading retailers and distribution companies to have the integrity to stop contributing to this problem indirectly. Take direct action please!
Marcia Roberts, Cresco, IA	Everyone knows mercury is dangerous but these people must not know or they are failing to make good decisions
Phyllis O'Daniels, Creston, IA	Follow the science! Efforts to make money at the expense of persons searching for correction to their problems, health or otherwise, is fraudulent. Dangerous products should be removed from the marketplace OR at least provide accurate information about the dangers posed to purchasers.

Lou Field, Davenport, IA	Please stop!
Kathleen Murtey, Davenport, IA	Come on Amazon! We know you're taking a big interest in the environment. Take this next step too!
Ann E Adam's mlinar, Des Moines, IA	I know someone who died of skin cancer directly linked to your products!!!
Catherine Talarico, Des Moines, IA	I know you can be responsible about this. Please be. Thank you.
Eileen Fuchs, Dubuque, IA	Please take the high road.
Elaine Degner, Dysart, IA	Stop hurting Americans ? Elaine Degner
Jennifer and Doug Hamilton, Fairfield, IA	These products pose a health threat to people....how in good conscience can you capitalize on this! Stop now!
Kim Wemer, Grinnell, IA	It's not Kay to use poison.
Geraldine Dull, Iowa City, IA	Corporations such as yourselves have a lot of power and influence. Stopping selling mercury containing skin products that promote having lighter colored skin is the right thing to do. Use your power and influence to help end the ridiculous idea that having lighter colored skin is better. And selling a product that is detrimental to a person's health is just plain irresponsible and wrong.
Katharine Nicholson, Iowa City, IA	The toxins pollute the earth.
Olivia Pond, Iowa City, IA	This is disgusting. Please stop supporting white supremacy through these toxic products!
Abby Schwarz, Iowa City, IA	Your defense might be that ?we try to give consumers what they want? but all that shows me is that you care only about profits, not health. Greedy, selfish and irresponsible.
Mary Hoyer, Salem, IA	They were called "Mad Hatters" for a reason.
Lucy Hansen, Tipton, IA	You need to do something about this now!
Jan Blazanin, Waukee, IA	You must vet the products you sell to ensure none of them contain toxic chemicals.
Steve Wedderspoon, West Union, IA	Please take this seriously and stop selling these products. thank you
Mike Cohn Dvm, Boise, ID	Do not make money on these dangerous products !!!
Kimberly Leeman, Boise, ID	Please, do the right thing. Don't sell this deadly crap on your sites! We need to protect people who may not understand the danger of these products and who don't need them! I shop with your company often, don't make me change my mind about doing so, please. Thank you!
David Morris, Boise, ID	Be moral or be gone.
Cathleen Weston, Hauser, ID	You have all the money . Why not be responsible for what you sell????
Basha Monroe, Ketchum, ID	very dangerous and harmful stop selling sincerely basha monroe
Kimberly Apperson, McCall, ID	I am a frequent shopper at Amazon. Your customer service is fantastic. However I will stop elsewhere if you don't clean up your act on this matter, and on your treatment of employees.
Val Greenspan, Meridian, ID	The people's choice: health over $$
James & Robin Piane, Meridian, ID	This is not only irresponsible, it's deadly. WHAT ARE YOU THINKING? This is NOT right and IS wrong! Stop it! Or you WILL lose customers, including us.

Charlotte Feck, Plummer, ID	Now ASAP what us wrong with you people
Sondra Dunkle, Pocatello, ID	I've been an Amazon Prime Member for years, and have trusted products when they are offered through Amazon. Please clearly mark which products aren't legal, or may be toxic (ie, some skin lightening creams). Thank you, Sondra Dunkle
Betsy Gudz, Spirit Lake, ID	You don't need to have these products available on your sites. Take a stand!
J Waliczek, Addison, IL	Please keep me as a customer by showing you care about my health & welfare more than my spending dollars. Thank you for your consideration.
Nick Chrisos, Arlington Heights, IL	All for the pursuit of a few extra dollars? Shame!
Christine Forde, Aurora, IL	As a black woman, I myself am even affected by this matter. The addition of unregulated substances makes something problematic even worse.
Sophia Mcaskill, Aurora, IL	I want this planet to last a very long time. Your choices are making that very short!!
Robin Weaver, Bartlett, IL	Besides the fact that harmful chemicals are in these products, the whole idea of skin lightening is body shaming and/or racist.
Tim Dever, Belleville, IL	Doing what is right for people will improve your company's reputation!
Carmen Schwartz, Belvidere, IL	The public really must ultimately depend on retail and manufacturing to establish safety in products sold to us. Most American's don't have the time or inclination to review studies of products they are interested in. It is your responsibility to insure safety standards are always met. It is the ethical and right thing for you to do as the most popular names on social media and to the people you serve. Thank you for making a change for your customer's soon! Regards, Carmen Schwartz
John Ballo, Bensenville, IL	What won't you sell to make a profit?
David Vayo, Bloomington, IL	It is easy to draw the conclusion that your companies have not taken action since the primary market for these products is people of African origin; hence, that racism is a factor in your inaction.
Donna Hriljac, Bull Valley, IL	I have many beautiful friends of color. Please stop offering them these toxic products.
Rebecca Ratajczyk, Carbondale, IL	Imagine the impact it would have on the world if giant corporations stood up for what is right and had higher ethical standards on their products. The world would change for the better and quickly. You as a billion dollar company have more power than any single person or organization and it is your responsibility to use that power for the good of people. Please do what's right and remove these poisonous products from your market.
Pamela Bergdall, Chicago, IL	If you are not willing to make sure the products you sell are safe for consumers, you don't really deserve to have our business.
Rachel Black, Chicago, IL	I cannot BELIEVE you would seek products that give people MERCURY POISONING. SHAME ON YOU!!!
Barbara Blough, Chicago, IL	It is stunningly alarming that you have been so careless. Please take haste to correct this greivous error.
Nancy Bujnowski, Chicago, IL	I have an autoimmune disease that causes skin pigmentation issues. Hearing that people are trying to lighten their skin with illegal mercury-laden skin lightening products from your companies is appalling! Exposure to mercury is very dangerous and something I would never agree to do even with my compromised and disfiguring appearance. Do not advertise and sell these products! We are all beautiful in the skin we've got!,

Patricia Claussen, Chicago, IL	Remove materials that are toxic to people and our environment. Keep people and environment healthy.
Pat Egleston, Chicago, IL	This is important.
Brian Gaeta, Chicago, IL	I don't want ANYONE using products that are harming them. Please do the right thing.
Wendy Galczak, Chicago, IL	this is very dangest to people,does this cause cancer?
Jessica and Roger Guzlas, Chicago, IL	People need to be protected from purchasing poisons. The think products are safe when you are selling them. Please stop selling poisonous products.
Kevin Havener, Chicago, IL	What a total outrage, I can't believe you're selling stuff like this, wow!
M Christine Holden, Chicago, IL	it IS your responsibility to sell only safe products. Any lead containing product must be labeled with warnings to not ingest or come in contact with the product. You know that. M Christine Holden, MPH, MMS, Physician Assistant
Carla Johnson, Chicago, IL	No comment
Margaret Lant, Chicago, IL	No poison for people and planet!
Lucy M, Chicago, IL	End the poisoning of communities from beauty products, industrial waste, and dumping!
Patrick Maloney, Chicago, IL	No mercury-based skin creams.
Dennis Nelson, Chicago, IL	Ever since around the very first "EARTH DAY" (Wednesday, April 22, 1970), I have spent literally thousands of hours in researching, writing, speaking, and organizing about solving a host of environmental problems. A KEY SOLUTION TO REDUCING (AND ELIMINATING TOXICS IN OUR ENVIRONMENT IS NOT PRODUCING (AND SELLING) THEM TO BEGIN WITH!
Darlene Noesen, Chicago, IL	This is cruel.
Susan Pastin, Chicago, IL	HOW CAN I JOIN AMAZON PRIME (or even continue shopping at Whole Foods) if your company is willing to POISON PEOPLE with unsafe products?!
Sharon Pena, Chicago, IL	Why would y'all want to change skin color anyway???
Marin Quezada, Chicago, IL	Please stop selling poison!!!
Lee Vida, Chicago, IL	I'm writing on behalf of this behalf of this issue, but fraud is common with many issues on these sites. Get your sh&% together.
Janet Whitmore, Chicago, IL	Please be part of the solution. Thank you.
Kimball Wright, Chicago, IL	Stop selling illegal mercury-laden skin lightening products!
	Kimball C. Wright
Chad Armknecht, Chicago Ridge, IL	Who is in charge of inspecting the quality of products that you deliver to your customers? They are endangering peoples lives. WOUld they want their family members to use these products ?
Catherine Ashdown, Clarendon Hills, IL	I believe that having these products available perpetuates the problem of colorism. Please remove them from your websites.
Neil Dillon, Crystal Lake, IL	We live in an age of modern health and companies reinforce ignorance in communities that have not learned better by continuing to sell harmful products like these.

Mike Montes, Crystal Lake, IL	How rich do you have to be before you will stop using peoples lives to make more?
T M, Decatur, IL	Mercury is a poison and should not be used in dental fillings or skin creams.
Rachel Becknell, Dekalb, IL	Not only are these products toxic, they reinforce racist ideas about "beauty" in our society. Please stop pushing racism on your site.
Bb Burke, Dekalb, IL	If you can do it in Europe, you can and should do it here. You owe it to your customers not to sell dangerous products.
Peter Olson, Dekalb, IL	I have been a big customer of both companies, but there are alternatives for people who wish to shop from more ethically-thorough choices. You are both huge companies, and there is no need for you to allow products like these to be sold through your platforms. Please do the right thing, and take the lead in protecting the planet and its people. Thank you!
Tony Young, Downers Grove, IL	Can't believe Amazon and eBay sell this crap. Quit poisoning the environment!
Robin Everett, East Peoria, IL	Not enough people check out the products they use on themselves for some perceived benefit to themselves. Your companies need to be the intelligent one and quit offering these products to the consumer for use.
Dan Sergison, East Peoria, IL	Please don't let safety and the environment slip through the cracks.
Laura Campbell, Elgin, IL	People can do what they choose, but the choices shouldn't be toxic, either physically or mentally.
Laura Honig, Elgin, IL	This is one more reason for me not to do business with Amazon or eBay.
Michael Cozzi, Elmwood Park, IL	Stop poisoning us
Gloria Callaci, Evanston, IL	Lightened skin is not worth such a danger!
Phyllis Coleman, Evanston, IL	In this day & age, we must ALL take responsibility for healthy products. We have been talking about this since the days of Rachel Carson's warnings - lead the way!!!
Kirsten Schelbert, Evanston, IL	How can this abuse even exist? Is there the same amount of mercury in make-up white people use? Or is this simply blatantly racist?
Jessamine Shortridge, Evanston, IL	Just because beauty standards are toxic doesn't mean products should be too.
Kimberly Keslin, Forest Park, IL	These creams are a terrible dea. Please stop the sales of them and help make the world a better place. Thanks for your consideration, Kimberly
Eugenia Sciortino, Fox River Grove, IL	It's a well known fact that mercury is poisonous. Your disregard of the detrimental effects of there products implies racism.
Barbara Baird, Galena, IL	Toxic products for women is a NO-NO.
Shandi Greve Penrod, Glen Carbon, IL	I've been purchasing from eBay since about 2000, and I have been an Amazon Prime member for about ten years. Please keep us safe by helping prevent mercury-laden products from being sold on eBay and Amazon.
Howard Hausafus, Godfrey, IL	My personal message to Amazon and eBay do you really want to be associated with companies that would sell products with Mercury in them for Human consumption, I wouldn't think so. Please exercise due diligence and remove harmful products from your marketplace. Thank you.
Izabela Wnuk, Itasca, IL	This is outrageous news! It shows that you do not think much of your customers who purchase products from you believing they are reliable & safe. Shame on you for discrediting your integrity. I will definitely pass this info on to my friends & family. Pls shape up or ship out!

Kevin Shields, La Grange, IL	Now is the time to change for peoples health
Lori Hartnett, Lake Forest, IL	Set the stage for other companies to follow; consumers will be VERY impressed!
Caralee Niemiec, Lake Zurich, IL	Caralee Niemiec
Robert & Marsha Willis, Lake Zurich, IL	Come on Jeff please do the right thing.
Janet Martina, Lisle, IL	PLEASE stop selling dangerous chemicals or products known to cause possible long term problems. Its not really worth the sale is it? Please think about trying conscious capitalism. Its a way you can give back that would be greatly respected by your customers. Thank you for your consideration and for listening.
Janice Welsch, Macomb, IL	It really is time to take a moral and ethical stand and put the safety of consumers before profit.
Mark Washburn, Mahomet, IL	So Amazon sells beauty products containing mercury and is not an authorized Apple dealer. SUCKS to be Jeff Bezos
Rich Hendricks, Manito, IL	I thought you investigated products before putting them on the market, if not you ought to.
Carole Spencer, Midlothian, IL	Mercury based skin creams, donkey gelato, along with hundreds of other mythical remedies that animals are abused or killed in heartless cruel ways, are sold by your company. Anything to make a buck for Bezos! Outrageous!
Janet Allen, Mokena, IL	Shame on you all in the name of MONEY
Deborah Cheek, Mount Morris, IL	You are so rich that there is absolutely no way you will be able to spend all your money before you pass from this earthly home we all share. SO ? I have a suggestion for you ? why don't you go through all the products you sell and make a list of all of the ones that do harm to the earth and its environment, like mercury-based skin creams AND things like guns and other things that people use to senselessly harm other people ? then pledge to stop selling them!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!1
Christopher Siek, Naperville, IL	Selling poison as skin care is just plain wrong.
Shirley Watters, Naperville, IL	Seriously you guys? Mercury? Stop selling these products containing mercury. It's really bad, or haven't you heard?! Cone on, are profits sooo important to you? Please do the grown-up thing, we will all appreciate it!
Ella Binz, New Lenox, IL	Please protect the health of your costomers.
Jeffrey Hedrich, North Aurora, IL	Mercury! Good Lord, this poison should never be sold as a cosmetic! Remove it immediately!
Glenn Polloway, North Riverside, IL	Show some leadership! People depend on you to be honest, and not shorten lives.
Sam Haleem, Oak Forest, IL	I remember what happened to Michael Jackson, up close I saw the damage to his skin, too high of a price to pay !!!
Lisa Keim, Oak Lawn, IL	Women already face unrealistic beauty standards and shouldn't also have to worry whether the products bought online will poison them.
	Remove these products from your supply chain! Keep them removed! Do better!
T R Aleksy, Oak Park, IL	Poison enough people,and no one will be left to buy your products.

Sarah Amandes, Oak Park, IL	These products will get you sued for selling poison, and they promote racist standards of beauty. You are responsible for getting them off your platform.
Cynthia Breunlin, Oak Park, IL	It is beyond time to STOP this very real danger to humanity and to our living planet!!
Caithen Carmichael, Oak Park, IL	this is literally illegal and fixing the problem will cost less than legal fees, I guarantee
Beverly Dattilo, Orland Park, IL	Be responsible not greedy or shall I say more greedy
Dagmar McLaughlin, Palatine, IL	the FDA isn't testing products anymore???? this administration is useless.....
John Trost, Palatine, IL	Please get this fixed as soon as you can. You have the options and the power to make them work for better.
Harry Holtz, Park Forest, IL	enough already!
Judith Icenogle, Pekin, IL	Please stop selling immediately!
Bruce Jacobson, Quincy, IL	Be good!
Patrick Merkel, Ringwood, IL	Stop it NOW !!
Mary Armoska, Rockford, IL	Big corporations hold a lot of influence over the market, and thus have a responsibility to ensure the safety of their consumers.
Aurora Hood, Sherrard, IL	Many women have been told their entire lives that the only thing standing between them and beauty (and often a better life) is their dark skin. This horrible lie causes some women to desperately seek out skin creams that will give them this effect, many times at great risk to their health. These toxic skin lighteners must not be sold to unsuspecting customers who are desperate enough to try them. Please remove illegal listings yourself; do not trust sellers to take this step.
Susan Maurer, Skokie, IL	So many of these products are forbidden in the rest of the more intelligent world. Shame on you for allowing anything and everything to be sold in the US.....greed, greed! Shame on you.
Richard Herndon, Springfield, IL	People of color should be encouraged to embrace their ethnic heritage, and love their natural look. You could stop selling skin lightening products and run a concurrent positive promotional campaign, as CVS did when it stopped selling tobacco products.
Hobart Tredway, Tolono, IL	We need to act now to save the Earth for our grandchildren--it belongs to them. Making this change will contribute to that.
Mar Parsons, Urbana, IL	These are dangerous product and people should not be using them or you selling them.
Kaye Aurigemma, Westchester, IL	THANK YOU IN ADVANCE FOR DOING THE RIGHT THING.
Jill Fleishman, Westmont, IL	Please do the right thing. If your family was affected you would take action.
Sophia Vainrub, Wheeling, IL	It is insane and unethical that customers can unwittingly be exposed to products that contain poisonous substances that hurt their health and impact their babies.
Susan Wilson, Yorkville, IL	Not only that but you are implying that white skin is more desirable and people should purchase these products to attain that! This is wrong and reprehensible!
Mary Stroh, Auburn, IN	NOT GOOD PEOPLE!
Laura Lewis, Aurora, IN	Let people accept themselves for who and what they are.

Ronald Drahos, Bloomington, IN	People need to respect who they are.
Charisse Ellsworth, Bloomington, IN	Black is beautiful!
Dorothy Lenard, Bloomington, IN	Not only are these products bad for our environment but they feed racism
Antonia Matthew, Bloomington, IN	do it \now, put health before profits.
Nancy Newton, Bloomington, IN	Don't deliberately poison people!!
Carol Sulanke, Bloomington, IN	Colorism, the racist notion that lighter skin is somehow more desirable, should not be compounded by exposure to toxic substances. Regrettably, colorism remains pervasive in the USA, leading many women of color to buy skin-lightening products on Amazon and eBay. In so doing, they unwittingly expose themselves to toxic substances such as mercury -- sometimes at thousands of times the legal limit. Please stop selling toxic skin-lightening creams. Thank you.
Tom Sunlake, Bloomington, IN	Colorism, the racist notion that lighter skin is somehow more desirable, should not be compounded by exposure to toxic substances. Regrettably, colorism remains pervasive in the USA, leading many women of color to buy skin-lightening products on Amazon and eBay. In so doing, they unwittingly expose themselves to toxic substances such as mercury -- sometimes at thousands of times the legal limit. Please stop selling toxic skin-lightening creams. Thank you.
Mary Anne McLean, Cedar Lake, IN	I am a steady Amazon customer, but will not be if you continue to sell harmful products.
Dave Conroy, Celestine, IN	Please stop. It's probably not even intentional. Please stop selling these toxic materials. Mr. Bezos is not a Trump-like person.
Susan & Dave Conroy, Celestine, IN	Dear Mr. Bezos, Please stand with Sierra Club. We have much respect for you as a business person. We do not believe that you have a real desire to profit by harming the health of your customers. Many businesses in this country do have this kind of motivation. We suspect that you are not this kind of ugly person. Trump (and others like him) is this kind of ugly person.
Margaret L. Willis, Chesterton, IN	This is a sick and twisted way to profit off unwitting people. STOP this DEPRAVED action!
Cathy Caldie, Columbus, IN	Please do what is right and healthy for the public and the environment.
Beth Juliar, Fishers, IN	Please do the right thing! Please stop taking advantage of racial prejudice and ignorance of harmful chemicals. Beth Juliar I am your customer. I care. So should you.
D. Kaye Patrick, Fort Wayne, IN	Poison is poison
Judy Snyder, Goshen, IN	No poisons should be sold to anyone. I'm sure your consciences agree. Stop selling mercury-containing cosmetics, please.
India Coers, Greensburg, IN	PEOPLE MATTER! LET'S DO THE RIGHT THING INSTEAD OF WORRYING ABOUT MAKING A DOLLAR!!!! India Coers
Susan Burton, Greenwood, IN	These skin-lighteners should be banned! They promote the racist narrative that lighter skin is more desirable.
Charles Schmalz, Greenwood, IN	and yet, you've not bothered to notice...? yet maintain a massively-passive harm-inducing role, to gain additional, unquestioning profit...
Wilma Davison, Indianapolis, IN	We only have one world and we should care for all the best we can. Clearly you are not.

Nina Evans, Indianapolis, IN	Take responsibility for ensuring that your customers are purchasing safe and legal products!
Marjie Giffin, Indianapolis, IN	Please do the responsible thing!
Bruce Hlodnicki, Indianapolis, IN	As a physician I am appalled at your delayed response to your own site selling a product containing a heavy metal poison!
	How can poison be sold on your site as a cosmetic???
Ron Meadors, Indianapolis, IN	I order from Amazon and want to be sure all products are safe.
Anita Sipes, Indianapolis, IN	I like to believe that everything you sell is safe. It may be impossible for you to know the safety of every product, but surely you know how dangerous mercury can be. Please stop. Thank you.
Susan Schechter, Lafayette, IN	Ethics?
Daryl Emowrey, McCordsville, IN	These products should not exist in the first place, poisoning people by telling them that how they look is somehow not good enough. While I recognize Amazon and Ebay are not responsible for the creation or advertising of these products, the damage they do, both to people's bodies and their understandings of their own worth, should be enough to prevent them from being easily accessed online.
J. Wackowski, Nashville, IN	Try harder to be honest about what you sell. Please!!
Cherryl Friedman, Noblesville, IN	This is not a good idea. Mercury products are very dangerous. People are generally unsuspecting and assume things have been tested for safety. Please remove the Mercury from your products immediately!
Debbie Granger, Noblesville, IN	Please be more proactive and responsible with the products you sell to us!
Kathleen Zink, Noblesville, IN	I'm a frequent shopper on Amazon and my children have sold/purchased more than a few items on eBay. We trust you to sell/check out reliable products. Please safeguard that trust by removing hazardous skin products from your sales. Everybody is important and should be treated that way.
Nancy Gehlhausen, Oakland City, IN	I would hope that you would do the right, ethical thing.
Rosie Miller, Oldenburg, IN	As of consumer I expect and value companies who do not sell products that are harmful in their formula such as skin care. Please set standards for all your vendors who sell thru your company. You have a moral and powerful voice in keeping our world safe.
Alex Silva, Palmyra, IN	You must stop selling these poisonous skin lightening products because not only are you profiting from a product that is known to harm your consumers, but you are also enabling the racist preferences for lighter skinned people over darker-skinned people in a Western society that is becoming increasingly embroiled in white nationalism and right-wing domestic terrorism based solely around identity politics.
Lincoln & Barbara Blake, Richmond, IN	Support health not just profits.
Tiffany Green, Seymour, IN	Please stop doing this. It's sad. And it's wrong.
Donna Curry, Westfield, IN	Please help to protect innocent people from these harmful products!
Felicia Lattimore, Whiteland, IN	Please stop telling toxic skincare products. Women in America experience enough pain and discomfort for the sake of beauty as is.

Andrea Fuhrman, Abilene, KS	Crazy to sell harmful products. Buyer beware! STOP hurting others!
Darla Faler, Berryton, KS	If you wouldn't use this on your self or you're children stop selling it.
Cherie Davis, Ellinwood, KS	Humans are beautiful in every color/shade of skin we were born with. Women should not feel pressure to wear makeup or lighten their skin to be accepted as beautiful & worthy. But if individuals choose to wear makeup or, sadly, try to lighten their skin tone, at least sell only products that are safe to use - not toxic! Amazon definitely makes enough money to be more selective & careful about what products are sold through Amazon, especially from 3rd party sellers. I myself bought items on Amazon for my cats that hurt them! When I took them to the vet, I showed him what I'd purchased on Amazon & used for ear mites on my cats. He'd never heard of it. My cats all got ear infections from this stuff! Set higher standards for sellers & products available through Amazon. It's a wonderful service to use, but vet sellers & products better, & really pay attention to consumer reviews.
Ruthe Steele, Howard, KS	We all need encouragement.... encouragement to be ourselves!!! Encourage everyone, children and adults to be who they are and know we are accepted just as we are.
Joan Nickum, Kansas City, KS	You are poisoning your customers.
David Sargent, Lansing, KS	Please take actions to support the environment!
Leeann B, Lawrence, KS	Mercury is a toxin; not really something you want to put on your skin. It is beyond comprehension to me that anyone would deliberately put mercury on their skin! The toxic effects of mercury on the human body are well documented. This is right up there with using lead in hair products. C'mon people, this stuff is extremely toxic. That means it can cause kidney, liver, or other organ damage, possibly death. This is serious stuff you don't want to be playing around with! I'm surprised Amazon and Ebay would sell this product on their websites. Shame on Amazon and Ebay for selling this crap in the first place!
Gary Giachino, Lawrence, KS	There simply is no excuse--beyond greed--for selling mercury containing products such as these! Surly, even the non-chemists among you are aware of the hazards.
Debra King, Lawrence, KS	Selling toxic products is truly draconian! Stop now in order to demonstrate a bit of corporate compassion.
Suzanne M., Lawrence, KS	Thank you for reading this.
Lynne Murray, Leawood, KS	To add one more harmful item in our personal use is thoughtless and dangerous!!!
Kat Wolf, Lecompton, KS	Stop supporting colorism !
Jackie Gehrt, Manhattan, KS	Minorities are often pressured by these western ideals, albeit misconstrued, of beauty. Don't entice them to do things that you very well know are harmful to their bodies. Stop selling these products!
Dawn Davidson, Mulvane, KS	Colorism is racism, and either is intolerable, unacceptable, and unethical. Please rise to a better standard. Thank you.
Carolyn Vermilyea, Newton, KS	People of every skin color are beautiful and I want all to be healthy. Please do not sell products that are harmful to change skin color. Carolyn Vermilyea
Sheryl Hutcherson, Rolla, KS	Please, as a Special Education teacher I work with children with neurological problems. It is so frightening to think that women, children and developing babies can be exposed. According to the March of Dimes, fetuses exposed to mercury can develop neurological, vision and hearing deficits. In addition to the obvious tragedy for families, government, in paying for life long care and education must absorb the cost of these side effects. Please regulate the sale of these products. It is the only humane thing to do.

Judith Salyer, Topeka, KS	it's totally irresponsible to knowingly sell products containing mercury. Please stop those sales immediately!
Isadora Avett, Wichita, KS	Perhaps FDA cannot halt this personal hazard, but you can. Why would you not accept your responsibility?
Bouan Sing, Winfield, KS	Everyone deserves to buy safe beauty skin products
Megann Thomas, Augusta, KY	Please and thank you in advance! Sincerely, Megann
Kathy Skinner, Cadiz, KY	Those products are to dangerous to sell. It sounds like you are geting them from China.
Mary Landrum, Franklin, KY	You are contributing to illness and possibly death. You are responsible for stopping these sales.
Crystal Wilmhoff, Ft Mitchell, KY	Think of our children and the world they will inherit.
Judy Broughton, Lexington, KY	STOP!!!!!!!!!!
Sarah Reeves, Lexington, KY	Until you address your responsibilities to the environment I will no longer shop on amazon or eBay. When my prime membership expires I do not plan to renew.
Caryn Sappelli, Lexington, KY	Companies should take more responsibility for dangerous toxins in our environment.
John Scott, Lexington, KY	Deeply offensive product on many levels,please discontinue.
Michael Budniak, Louisville, KY	As an educator of Biology and Biochemistry I teach the specifics of chemical contamination in my classes. These products are toxic and shouldn't be sold for a good reason!
Rita Butler, Louisville, KY	Toxic chemicals need to be removed from ALL personal care products. There are a few companies that already make pure products so it can be done.
Walter & Eve Mastropaolo, Louisville, KY	Get with it!! Stop hurting people !
James Ringlein, Louisville, KY	Please do the right thing and take a stand to improve our health and make our planet ? safe.
Pam Valdes, Louisville, KY	Please take a stand to value health over profits. It is the right thing to do.
Warren Vanhooose, Louisville, KY	Thank you for your consideration.
Mary Jane Rhodes, Nazareth, KY	What greed causes racist actions!!
RH Carpenter, Newport, KY	Until we can stop the production of these harmful products, it's up to you and your companies to take us down the right path.
Barbara Bradley, Owensboro, KY	It is shameful to sell products you know are harmful.
David Davidson, Paducah, KY	As someone suffering from mercury and led-based poisoning myself I know all-to-well of the harmful and radioactive effects these types of chemicals possess Gentlemen. Therefore I kindly and respectfully ask that your companies cease and desist with purchasing and selling these harmful products. Thank you. Best wishes to you both.
Marilyn Cazayoux, Baton Rouge, LA	it's just not the right thing to do!

Charles N. Fisher, Baton Rouge, LA	All people should be proud of who they are and what they look like. By having these dangerous products available, your companies are selling you can only be liked if you were another color. Shame on you for making a dollar on people's misconceptions..?????.
Barbara Hasek, Baton Rouge, LA	Please protect consumers from harmful products. Your company should not encourage racist ideas such as white skin is better.
Carolyn Ricapito, Baton Rouge, LA	I want to be ABLE TO TRUST YOUR PRODUCTS and that they are okay for my health.
Pamela Bourque, Deridder, LA	It matters because all lives are important! Shame on you for allowing this, are you truly racist or just ignorant? For shame!
Billie Briggs, Gonzales, LA	as a loyal Amazon Prime patron...I expect that you will take action on this matter.
R Foreman, Metairie, LA	Just another example of your deficiency of conscience.
Kevin Goodwin, Metairie, LA	Mercury is no good for humans!
Louise Landry, Metairie, LA	Please stop selling these dangerous products.
Hazell A Boyce, New Orleans, LA	Selling these products hurts people.
Brieaux Poche, Ponchatoula, LA	Please protect us by doing the work of knowing what you allow to be sold on your sites. I trust you... please don't violate that trust by allowing these products to be sold. Thank you
Frank Hamrick, Ruston, LA	Stop selling dangerous skin products
Jim Simmons, Shreveport, LA	Put the Planet ahead of business and Profits. Jim Simmons
Ross Goodwin-Brown, Amherst, MA	Please use your power in the marketplace for the good of all. We should always put health and safety for all consumers above convenience and profit.
Sarah McKee, Amherst, MA	Mercury? On skin? The largest organ in the body? This poison? Come on, guys! You are rich enough that you don't have to poison people to make a buck.
Nicholas Shaw, Amherst, MA	Please don't sell products that hurt people of color!
Christine Gebhard, Andover, MA	It is immoral to sell toxic, unnecessary products to the American public, especially to young, naive buyers. Stop preying on these vulnerable people! Remove these poisons from the market at once!
Linda Braun, Arlington, MA	Thanks for working toward social responsibility.
Barbara Engel, Arlington, MA	Thank you in advance for taking the honorable action.
Diane Rapaport, Arlington, MA	It is imperative that powerful companies like Amazon and eBay use your substantial influence to make positive changes to protect public health! We, your customers, are counting on you!
Beverly Williams, Arlington, MA	I am a "white" person but very concerned about messages to our youth about what is beautiful. Please do not sell these products! Thank you, Bev Williams
John O'Connor, Ashfield, MA	Act now before a successful lawsuit costs you far more than the profits you are making from illegal "beauty aids."
Bob Gaumer, Belmont, MA	Please remove toxic compounds such as mercury from your cosmetic products. Toxic compounds threaten our health, economy, and very existence. No need to add them to the environment for such frivolous reasons such as personal vanity. Please knockoff the nonsense!
Tony Caletti, Boston, MA	You need to take responsibility for the products that are sold on your website and making sure they are compliant with health standards. Don't shrink from responsibility because "its too hard"

	but rise up to the challenge and regulate your businesses
Edythe Cox, Braintree, MA	I'm white and LOVE very dark skin!
Diane Doucette, Braintree, MA	Yeas ago, Ponds face cream had peroxide listed among its ingredients, but not mercury. Also, is there not a negative statement about darker skin being less desirable when any cream claims to lighten?
Jill Silvia, Bridgewater, MA	You should be required to follow the same laws as brick and mortar stores. You're already implementing safer online practices in Europe. Make it international. Your customers will be healthier and happier. And happy customers are returning customers! Economics 101, right? And customers can't spend money if they're dead from your products. The Bottom Line: unhappy customers and dead customers don't spend money $$$ which affects your bottom line.
Laura & Jacob Walters, Brookline, MA	I can't believe in the 21st century we are still selling these racist products.
Karen Fahrner, Cambridge, MA	If it is true that these products contain mercury, stop selling them! Do your homework. And then do the right thing
Matthew Genaze, Cambridge, MA	I have added your company's name to my list of businesses to avoid at all costs. I am also forwarding this information onto my friends and family and encouraging them to do the same. Please take a clear stance on this issue and I will reconsider using your products or services.
H. Hughes, Cambridge, MA	Stop please just stop selling these harmful products to vulnerable communities. You don't need it. They don't want it. And I can't stand it! Not for one more day!
Dana Quinn, Cambridge, MA	Toxic for environment threatening for those who purchase and use these products. Also reinforces racism white is not better than any other color.
Virginia Talbot, Cambridge, MA	Put people's health before profit, and stop selling toxic, illegal products to unsuspecting consumers.
Alex W, Chelmsford, MA	People shouldn't have access to products that are harmful and it's your job to make sure that the consumers are safe. Please do so.
Peter Traub, Cheshire, MA	No need to harm people.
Sonja Baris, Clinton, MA	Plain ol' bleach skin lighteners are available at stores.
Rebecca Tippens, Colrain, MA	Horrible, not to mention the concept of the product itself!
Elizabeth Barnes, Concord, MA	This seems like the only moral thing to do. These are known toxins.
David & Susan Clark, Concord, MA	We are aghast and outraged that you are still selling such toxic skin creams. Consumers should be able to trust on line sites like yours. Indifference or greed, both are appalling.
Elissa Donlan, Dorchester, MA	Oh, yes, there's nothing worse than knowing these skin creams are mercury-based and I can only imagine what other "hazardous chemicals are also in these creams." They absolutely need to be removed ASAP!
Lee Bartell, Eastham, MA	They're poisons, and we need to stop allowing the sale of them. Lighter skin is NOT more beautiful than darker skin, so this is an educational issue.
Marcy Bloomenthal, Easthampton, MA	This is dangerous and sad. Take a stand for the health of your customers/ consumers.
James Hadcroft, Falmouth, MA	Illegal is illegal. That means that it is against the Law to sell these products.

Maryjo Stanley, Florence, MA	You need to do your part in eliminating harmful products from being sold.
Gwen Irish, Framingham, MA	People are stupid enough to buy these, but they should NOT even be offered for purchase.
Susan Smith, Franklin, MA	Stop contributing to exposing unsuspecting consumers to mercury poisoning by policing the products on your site.
David Dragon, Gardner, MA	Mercury products are bad for a persons health !!
Patricia Brown, Gloucester, MA	You would poison people for profit? In Reality, you should be prosecuted for this malfeasance!
Adola McWilliam, Gloucester, MA	Yes , remove Mercury based skin creams
Peter Parsons, Gloucester, MA	Do the Right thing!! Use you PROFITS for HUMANITARIAN NEEDS!!
Elizabeth Fraker, Greenfield, MA	Best wishes to you as you take steps to make our world safer.
Diane Brine, Groton, MA	This is dangerous; protect consumers.
Cheryl Messenger, Groveland, MA	are you nuts?? what kind of irresponsible crap is this???
Lynn Stafford, Hingham, MA	I'm not sure how you will accomplish vetting illegal sellers...but you must sort it out.
David Lafond, Holyoke, MA	The last thing we need is to have you selling more products with mercury. There is more than enough evidence to demonstrate the serious health risks of exposure to mercury (Trump's idiot EPA notwithstanding). Just stop, take these products off the market.
Kay Barned-Smith, Jamaica Plain, MA	Please, how much money do you need before you can be ethical in your business decisions. Please pay attention to what you are doing and selling.
Hope Briggs, Jamaica Plain, MA	This is important because I work with young women and this effects their health both mental and physical.
Ramon Greenberg, Jamaica Plain, MA	People need to be helped to be proud of who they are and not to draw into spending money to try to change their skin color.
Stephanie Stanton, Lancaster, MA	Please do not allow products that people unwittingly purchase that have dangerous toxins in them. Cancer is rampant and we all suffer as a result. Thank you for considering this concern.
Diane Durgin, Lenox, MA	I urge you to sell only organic products?those that promote good, not harm. We have enough harm coming to us through the air and unsafe water; we don't need any more things that are harmful to us.
Luz Torres II, Leominster, MA	it's ruining our skincare
Patricia Duffy, Leverett, MA	We can't control what people choose to do but your companies can control whether dangerous products are sold. You must stop selling things that are a danger to health since your popular businesses appear to sanction these items.
Andrew Lenz, Leverett, MA	Are we trying to poison our customers?
Sheila Miller, Longmeadow, MA	Amazon should care about people and stop selling illegal mercury-laden skin products. Sincerely, Sheila Miller
Claudine Langlois, Lowell, MA	Your corporations make enough money to allow you the ability to give up the sale of a product that causes harm.
James Gillis, Lynnfield, MA	Hello makers of harmful products if you find out you are making these products stop making them we as a people should be trying to protect other people from harm not making money off people who are blind to what you are doing. Listen to your inner voice do you want to be Jacob Marley in the end having a sense of moral integrity. James Gillis

Lucie Burke, Marblehead, MA	I recognize that this is not an easy task and not every product is perfectly black and white in regards to toxicity, but you can definitely do better. Please try. Please accomplish.
Carrie Thomas, Marblehead, MA	please do the right thing and STOP selling these products!
Michael Sullivan, Marshfield Hills, MA	This not the wild west. We are better than that. The days of "The Jungle" and "The Octopus" should be long over. Enough already! Do the right thing.
Tamira Acce, Mattapan, MA	As a dark skinned black woman, who at the very young age of 14 years old, fell victim to pressures to adhere to beauty standards that are unnatural to me, I support this effort 100%. The mass awakening from the deceitful lie that ?there is a hierarchy or standard for superiority amongst human beings? which perpetuates concepts of a toxic, immoral, and inequitable society is inevitable. As global citizens it is crucial that we take all necessary measures to ensure that all people will be able to access and attain promotions of health from all of our consumer-based markets both online and physical.
Jennifer Horwitz, Medford, MA	These products not only perpetuate the dangerous idea that white is right but also put people's health at risk. Please stop selling these products; you'll make the world a better place in so many ways.
Marie Denis, Methuen, MA	Amazon and Ebay are well respected and known worldwide, used by millions of consumers. Why would you intentionally offer products that would hurt the very people who are responsible for your success. If products are shown to be harmful then its the 'right thing' to pull them from the shelves, notify the manufacturers and refuse to offer their products for sale on your site. If a product contains a harmful ingredient it should be listed with a highly visible warning on the package so that consumers are able to make a decision of whether or not they want to buy that product. That product should not be for sale on your site. It must be SAFE. If you sell it knowing it's harmful then you are just as responsible for the damages !!
Patricia Roy, Methuen, MA	Help the environment and future generations!
John Holston, Natick, MA	Get a grip, before we destroy OUR world. John A Holston
Richard Jervey, Newburyport, MA	I nearly cried when I found that these dangerous products can be bought on your site. How can this be in this day and age. The dangers of mercury have been known for decades. Please don't allow it to continue.
Anne Nash, Newton, MA	These products are poisoning people. Don't reenforce the stereotype. Stop selling these products.
Susan Sered, Newton, MA	As the grandmother-to-be of a biracial grandchild, I am appalled at the sale of toxic chemicals to people of color.
Kay Clement, North Adams, MA	Selling products is not just about the monetary bottom line. It is about providing safe/trustworthy products for your Customers. Get it together and make sure your vendors are providing quality safe products.
Beth Blair, North Easton, MA	You know it is toxic! So why aren't you stopping this harmful sales? Money must mean more you than human lives! May GOD have mercy on you for choosing money!
Anton McInerney, North Reading,	Truly short sighted! Think of the liabilities!

MA
Jeanne Cahill, Northborough, MA	It is so distressing!
James Vander Poel, Northborough, MA	Your behavior is nothing short of criminal. You must be more aware of the products sold on your Web sites. And take control to remove harm.
Gale Lord, Peabody, MA	Stop selling products that a poison people!!!
Anne-Mari Gavin, Pittsfield, MA	NO JAIL PLEASE THEY ARE A BURDEN TO THE TAXPAYERS THEN!!! All barbaric evil savage humans must be fed to the lions sharks or crocodiles please. GET RID OF THEM!!!!
Savannah Relos, Pittsfield, MA	I know plenty of people who have been shamed or pressured into lightening their skin. Not only do they deserve to feel comfortable in their own skin, but they are being affected negatively healthwise.
Kate Albrecht, Plainfield, MA	Colorizers are poisonous, and are only purchased because racism makes people feel badly about having dark skin. There is nothing wrong with dark skin. And if it wasn't poisonous that would be a different situation.
Deborah Stoloff, Plainville, MA	Thank you!
Nancy Anderson, Salem, MA	When I buy through your site I believe you imply warranty. You must not place taking profits over the health and well-being of anyone. PLEASE
Catherine Connelly, Salem, MA	It is unacceptable to turn a blind eye to vendors who sell illegal and/or unsafe products on your websites!
Dolores Jordan, Salem, MA	Products that are sold should be safe and not advertised to hurt the general public, this type of action is abundantly clear that consumers are under risk if they purchase these wares
Marcia Kalman, Salem, MA	Mercury is toxic!
Kathy Lique, Salem, MA	I hope that corporations like yours can begin to consider moral issues and not just profits
Joshua McKain, Scituate, MA	All people, animals, and the environment over profits for the few!
Johanna Perlin, Sharon, MA	I beg you to take action on this!
	Johanna Perlin
Nabia Meghelli, Somerville, MA	I am an avid Amazon user, but will cut Amazon out completely if they do not stop selling these racist and harmful skin lightening products.
Tracey Brennan, South Weymouth, MA	Please recycle and have box drop offs too! Your packaging is causing extra litter and waste to the Earth
Amber Kafalas, Sudbury, MA	Why are you poisoning us?
Rosanne Pehowich, Sudbury, MA	We don't need more of these unhealthy products--stop mercury and stop polluting the environment. Rosanne Pehowich
Linda Crowe, Waban, MA	WTF, this is incredible. STOP, you are marketing HAZARDOUS skin products. Have you NO SHAME???
Richard Knisely, Waltham, MA	Poisoning people for profit is a Trump-like tactic. Show us you have a tad of moral fiber!
Millie Gushue, Warren, MA	There is no need for skin lightening products, especially those with mercury in them. People of color should look their God given natural beauty, not what white people think they should look like. I am white and I say this.
Ann Asnes, Watertown, MA	If you want to address a global audience then you must anticipate the public and climate good. Otherwise your business is anti life. Is that how you want to be known?

Beth Bendavid-Val, West Roxbury, MA	people need to accept others for who they are - no matter color, religion, sexual orientation, financial status. this starts with having people accept THEMSELVES for who they are. that will be contagious. stop making profits on people's insecurities, biases, and perceptions.
Diane Snow, Westfield, MA	Please reconsider what you sell. Health is sexy not pre-conceived notions of beauty.
Sarah Hughes, Winthrop, MA	Toxic for our environment, toxic for the people who use it, elitist, and a bit racist; stop pushing these toxic products.
Susan Lozoraitis, Worcester, MA	Keep hazardous and poison items OFF OF OUR FACES and those in the rest of the world!!!
David High, Annapolis, MD	Michael Jackson would not have approved of these products. Keep the junk off the markets or you may be a party in a class action lawsuit!
James Krist, Arnold, MD	It is IRRESPONSIBLE to sell products that contain TOXIC CHEMICALS!!!
Barbara Winner, Arnold, MD	You have the power to be a leader in removing illegal and toxic listings.
Ava Free, Baltimore, MD	I've seen people mistreated for their skin color, and lightening it can seem like an option to them. But how much more tragic would it be if someone lost their life because they weren't "pretty enough".
Carol McDonnell, Baltimore, MD	Remove these harmful products for the good of all! Thank you.
Charles Skinner, Baltimore, MD	Our household spends a lot of money. Companies that continue harmful environmental practices just to make more money will not see continued business from us.
Elizabeth Sloand, Baltimore, MD	I am a nurse and from my public health nursing perspective, this is very urgent issue.
Anne Sturm, Barnesville, MD	I am sure you want to do the right thing.
Michele Booth, Berlin, MD	I agree.
Annie Oconnell, Berlin, MD	Please! Sanity tells us to stop the poisoning of our bodies and our world!
Alicia Penk, Bethesda, MD	The internet means that companies now need to take more responsibility for the items they sell. Remove these known illegal listings.
Nancy Shaw, Cabin John, MD	I was distressed to hear that your company is dealing with such products! Please desist!
Linda Indyke, Cockeysville, MD	Years ago in Japan, a group of people was exposed to mercury. Some died. Babies exposed experienced severe neurological defects. Don't let this happen to your customers just because you wouldn't remove products laced with mercury.
Maria Macdonald, Columbia, MD	Please help stop the madness.
Ellen Halbert, Drayden, MD	Please stop promoting and peddling poisonous products!
Bobbie Wells, Easton, MD	I'm an Amazon shopper. Please ensure that products sold are not harmful to humans, or the environment. Step up to make our world a better place. Sincerely, Bobbie Wells
Jason Berry, Frederick, MD	Amazon has an opportunity to show themselves as a leader with environmentally FRIENDLY solutions, not a contributor to more problems.
George Smith, Frederick, MD	As an Amazon stock holder, I ask you to seriously consider this.

Stanley Baker, Gambrills, MD	Just a question: Do know if you have any legal liability for knowingly selling toxic products?
Judith Wierzbowski, Glen Burnie, MD	I cannot believe that any products humans put on their skin are allowed to contain mercury. It is insane! Stop selling this crap!
Paolina Milasi, Greenbelt, MD	Shameful that these companies allow this for monetary gain. When you lay down with dogs, you get up with fleas.
Janelle McWethy, Hanover, MD	Shame!
Lisa Mckillop, Highland, MD	Judge a person not by the color of their skin but by the content of their character!
Marie Mckillop, Highland, MD	Go to your better selves guys!
Supporter Unknown, Knoxville, MD	It is a shame that you let toxic products to be sold on your platform. I used to admire you but now you are part of the problem. Stop allowing skin whiteners to be sold on your site.
Linda Aston, Laurel, MD	Companies need to put health and safety above profit.
Donald Howard, Laurel, MD	It's outrageous that mercury is found in some skin creams. Please stop helping to market these products. Thank you.
Edith Smith, Mount Airy, MD	In my lifetime I have thought about using skin lightening products particularly on my hands which show sun damage until I read the instructions and contents of what was in the cream. The concept to me although inviting gave me the creeps and happily I never invested in attempting to poison myself. Amazon is a company I believe falls in the too big to fail category I avoid as best I can, and it makes me sad that it seems like eBay is also a too greedy company. We have known for many years that mercury is poisonous so it would be nice to think both companies would do the right thing and protect their customers by no longer selling anything with mercury in it.
Amber Goodwin, Olney, MD	It is truly disgraceful that there is more concern for profit margins over people's health. Do the right thing.
Alan & Marcia Meyer, Randallstown, MD	This is an easy one. If the Sierra Club is right about this, the products shouldn't be sold.
	Thanks.
Gail Frantz, Reisterstown, MD	I have always supported your company. In return you should support proven threats to our environment.
Camilla Day, Rockville, MD	As an Amazon customer, I urge you NOT to allow the sale of products that contain mercury on your website. I want to trust that when we buy a product from the Amazon Marketplace that it is legal, and safe to use.
Linda Silversmith, Rockville, MD	and you need to stay alert to keep mercury out of other products you handle too
Dana Simson, Salisbury, MD	remove toxins
Kathy Machan, Severna Park, MD	If you support businesses that put profit over people's health, you are part of the problem.
Marybeth Arslohe, Silver Spring, MD	Amazon is big but when regular customers learn that toxic products are still sold through your site you will lose in market share! It is not impossible to be both a healthful, sustainable business as well as a very successful one. Amazon has work to do!!
Nancy C Chang, Silver Spring, MD	Why would such a product be even made, to cause more people toxic poison problems?

Patricia Glander, Silver Spring, MD	Please help
C. Albert Morey, Silver Spring, MD	As a former farmer who avoids the sun, it is important to use other ways to entertain a healthy life.
Cynthia Morton, Silver Spring, MD	An member of our family uses one of these products regularly and her health is failing as a result. Time to remove dangerous cosmetic products from the market. Thank you, Cynthia Morton
Sally Oesterling, Silver Spring, MD	There are many folks who do not check on ingredients, and there are many companies that do not make it clear that their products include toxins.
Joan Clement, Takoma Park, MD	Please be a leader in making the world safe again. Thank you!
James Williams, Takoma Park, MD	There's plenty of money to be made without damaging your customers. Don't you want them to live long, consuming lives?
Vikki Schick, Towson, MD	Have you no scruples?
Donna Flynn, Alna, ME	Why not stop this?
Gabrielle Dumas, Bar Harbor, ME	It is sick to try to take advantage of people's insecurities and poison them in the process. Please understand that this is not only damaging the people but also your business's reputation.
Adair Delamater, Bath, ME	This is a terrible practice, one I hope you will end at once.
Jimmy Hanna, Boothbay, ME	You have a responsibility to sell only safe products. You know it and we know it. Do It. Please
Gian-Angelo Gallace, Camden, ME	Hey Bezos, are you really THAT greedy?
Leigh Wales, Caswell, ME	Protect the public. It's your responsibility.
Leslie And Don Bush, Cherryfield, ME	Healthy products shouldn't be a guessing game for consumers. If it's part of your inventory that you a selling customers, then it should be safe.
Cynthia Hartofelis, Gardiner, ME	Mercury Filled creams are not good for anybody.
Kris Ede, Gouldsboro, ME	We know these chemicals cause disease. Your the seller really so you are responsible.
Maggie Strickland, Harmony, ME	Why should people have to be contacting you to get you to stop selling something that is illegal and harmful? For God's sake, why? How immoral are you?
Richard Mcgonagle, Hollis Center, ME	Wow! This is a whole new level of disgusting. I'd ask how you sleep at night, but then I remember sociopaths don't have that pesky thing called conscience.
Margaret Bartenhagen, Kennebunk, ME	You have a moral obligation to demand that third-party sellers ON YOUR SITES follow the law and make sure their products are not dangerous.
Hele N Newton, Kennebunk, ME	I have a very light complexsion and have had to fight skin cancer. Appreciate what you have.
Vic Kahwaty, Phippsburg, ME	This is an important issue for me because I want to leave the planet as safe and non-toxic as possible for my grandchildren
Adinah Barnett, Portland, ME	And by the way, encouraging internalized racism that makes people think that having lighter skin is desirable is atrocious. Black is beautiful.
Janet Lynch, Pownal, ME	HOW COULD YOU POSSIBLY KNOWINGLY ALLOW PRODUCTS CONTAINING MERCURY TO BE SOLD FOR THE PURPOSE OF APPLYING TO SKIN???? THAT IS CRIMINAL AND IF YOU DON'T STOP IT YOU SHOULD BE

	PERSONALLY HELD CRIMINALLY LIABLE.
Nancy B. Chandler, Topsham, ME	Please protect the health of your customers by refusing to sell skin lightening products thru your network. This inadvertent poisoning of black people trying to improve their social acceptance is unacceptable.
Susan Kepner, York, ME	YOU have the ability to do this-do you have the will???
Karen Hewelt, Algonac, MI	WTF ARE THEY THINKING? EVERYONE KNOWS THAT MERCURY IS TOXIC AND DANGEROUS! YOU ARE SUPPOSED TO PROTECT US!
Jane Westerfield, Allendale, MI	Do what's right. Put people before profits.
Jane Dyer, Alto, MI	Your reputations depend on this kind of action!!!
Allan Bressler, Ann Arbor, MI	I agree stop selling the junk stuff. Sounds like amazon for sure. Bezzo's a jerk that needs to be taken down a peg or two.
Emily Buchler, Ann Arbor, MI	Take responsibility for your lawless company. You make enough money that you are MORALLY OBLIGATED to actually improve the world, instead of destroying it. -Emily B
Sheldon Buchler, Ann Arbor, MI	It is absurd that in the year 2019 that anyone should be worrying about this level of toxicity of a product! We shouldn't have to worry about the bad toxins, mercury, lead, asbestos, arsenic... any more. Knowing who buys these products, it seems to me yet another way to keep the poor poor and let the rich get even more disgustingly rich this time by intentionally poisoning people! This MUST END NOW!! Take responsibility for your actions and fix the problem!!
Russ Hart, Ann Arbor, MI	WTF! Don't you have enough money? You still need to poison people to buy your 4th or 5th plane? Well from today I will use your sites to source the things I want and buy direct. Cut out the middlemen.
Abraham Kayne, Ann Arbor, MI	Skin lightening itself is an horrific practice arising from the legacy of colonialism and all the atrocities it entails, including slavery and genocide.
R Krenke, Ann Arbor, MI	No responsible and ethically managed retail outlet would sell toxic products to their customers. If we can't feel confident about the products we purchase from certain venues, perhaps it's time to stop shopping at those venues.
Rita Mitchell, Ann Arbor, MI	Your customers need to be able to trust the products that they buy. Please stop supporting products that are harmful to people emotionally and physically.
Gail Ross, Ann Arbor, MI	I am an Amazon Prime Member and urge you to discontinue mercury based skin lightening products. You are essentially poisoning your customers!! I don't think you want to do that!!
Charlotte Morton, Bath, MI	This is just plain wrong.
Linda J Solomon, Bellaire, MI	Your crummy profits should NOT come at the expense of people being harmed or struck down with serious illness! STOP SELLING THIS GARBAGE NOW!! :(
Supporter Unknown, Belleville, MI	Be a leader; people will realize this product is not a necessity once it is not easily accessible. All skin tones are human.
Jacqueline Tessman, Benton Harbor, MI	Help protect consumers. These products are toxic & illegal. You don't want the reputation of not caring about your customers' well-being. Stop selling them now!
Flora Greig, Berrien Springs, MI	Trying to be more beautiful or average can be harmful to your life!

c petrick, Beulah, MI	We care about our skin...so should you
Greg Gumina, Birmingham, MI	Two words: plastic pollution.
Cheryl Riensyrs, Cass City, MI	sometimes it is not about money, but human compassion and good leadership, you are in that position As always a member of Amazon, Cheryl Rienstra
Rex Nye, Chelsea, MI	Just do the right thing. Remove these.
Richard Steele, Commerce Township, MI	Please, do the right thing to help keep our environment clean and safe.Thank you!
Herman S. Simms, Jr., Detroit, MI	Colorism is White Supremacy disguised!
Lisa Baker, Douglas, MI	I'm a loyal amazon customer. I would like to see Amazon lead the way in caring for our planet, and people. This would be a start.
Suzanne Skubick, E Jordan, MI	This is an evil product.
Pat Foster, East Lansing, MI	These products are disgusting. We are all human beings. It's just skin!!! We should all be proud of our heritage.
Barbara Bachman, Farmington Hills, MI	How greedy are you that you would put such products on the market!!! No Mercury should be in anything except an old thermometer!!!!
Peggy Malnati, Farmington Hills, MI	As a long-time customer, I ask that you not put the health and well-being of other customers at risk.
Jill Johnson, Fennville, MI	You just may save lives in the process.
Sandra Bogin, Grand Blanc, MI	This is unconscionable in this day and age!
Georgette Engard, Grand Blanc, MI	The health of consumers should be more important than profit, especially regarding dangerous or illegal products.
Susan Beaver, Grand Haven, MI	I expect more from Amazon...
Estella Brown, Grand Rapids, MI	You have a responsibility to offer only products proven to be safe, to your customers.
Michelle Holliday, Grand Rapids, MI	As a prime member and eBay shopper it is important to me that the companies I support support the environment and laws. Thanks
Ruth Bradfield, Grosse Pointe Farms, MI	PLEASE remove these BAD products from your inventory!!!
Linda Holsapple, Grosse Pointe Farms, MI	How could you still be letting these products get into unaware hands? Do you have no ethical underpinnings?
Barbara Trombly, Grosse Pointe Farms, MI	Please protect us and stop whoring yourselves out to industry.
Robert Hoekstra, Holland, MI	It's since mercury-based skin creams are considered to be very hazardous that they shouldn't even be on the market and for sale. In this case, both Amazon and eBay need to give those who would buy these products on line an explanation for why both companies decided to no longer make these products available. I expect that that action would be much appreciated by many who are loyal customers.
Susan Peterson, Houghton, MI	You need to limit your products to only those that are safe for both humans and animals. C'mon!
Thomas Conner, Howell, MI	Do the right thing
Doug Cornell, Howell, MI	Don't be just another Trump! Actually show you care. Don't talk rhetoric!
Penny Strongman, Ishpeming, MI	This matters as i am a female and am doing everything i can to not get products with mercury, etc. I go gluten free, i use chaga and essential oils, non paraben shampoos, non floride toothpaste and am currently not on any medications. I value my health. I grow my own garden and have had to manually pollen my plants as there are no bees. We need them to pollen our plants and create honey. Please come up with healthy ideas for makeup. Thank you

Marian Zarzycki, Jackson, MI	Cancer causing beauty products should not be available for our young women to alter their appearance. Rather, self acceptance, of their appearance is significantly better! They should focus on development of their intelligence and future career prospects!
Annette Barton, Jenison, MI	I had never heard of this before. Why would you want to encourage people to do this and threaten their health? Is it just for profit? Stop selling these products.
Annette Briggs, Kalamazoo, MI	There are plenty of products to make you rich. Please stop selling products thst harm your customers.
Leah DeVore, Kalamazoo, MI	Everyone is beautiful the way they are; they don't need to harm themselves to change their appearance. Please don't sell skin lightening products anymore. Instead, sell something that embraces how people look, rather than making someone feel inferior and that they need to look different. Skin lightening products are not positive products. Thank you for your time.
Carolyn Ray, Kingsford, MI	No more selling poison in a pretty package!
Elaine Robbins, Lake Linden, MI	As a resident of a very small town, I have used Amazon extensively. I implore you to remove toxic products sold on your site and to research future products to help insure they do not harm your customers.
Linda Blodgett, Lansing, MI	I had no idea things like this were being sold. If it continues I'll have to rethink buying from these companies. I've been a frequent customer of both.
Abdus-Rumi Choudhry, Lansing, MI	That most selfish and heedless Amazon ceo likely has very little chemical knowledge of proper skin care products and just follows unreliable marketing PERIOD!
Art Hanson, Lansing, MI	Protect People NOT Profits.
Judy West, Lansing, MI	It is appalling that Amazon and Ebay will implement these actions in Europe but not do the same in the United States!
Gregory Garbulinski, Lapeer, MI	Thank YOU! Jeff & Devin & ALL...World...UNIVERSE...SIERRA CLUB F1292to Those Who show, CARE, and share for the Main of any WORLD'S Balance is There
Denise Hawkins, Lathrup Village, MI	Thank you for your time and consideration of this important health issue.
Lillian Mahaney, Leland, MI	Please do the right thing.
Christen Lesko-Brown, Livonia, MI	Large companies need to take more action in supporting initiatives for human rights, climate change, and just plain out doing the right thing.
Barbara McGraw, Livonia, MI	Please show more responsibility!!
Carol Christiansen, Ludington, MI	Mercury? Are you kidding? This is good for no one!
William Eisen, Manton, MI	Not only are you poisoning people but harming wildlife and their habitat.also pour waterways. Clean drinking water !!!!!!!!!!!
Kathleen Davis, Marquette, MI	We have to not get these conditions.
Richard Smith, Melvindale, MI	Are you two really buttheads?
Bradford Bush, Midland, MI	You know what the right thing is to do.
Marsha Gottesman, Midland, MI	On a personal level, it would be uplifting to know that corporate leaders would decide to protect the public from purchasing items that are essentially poisonous if used as intended. Rather than serving up such products to unsuspecting or ignorant customers (buyers beware) your company could make a thoughtful decision and not accept such a product for purchase. Please reconsider your position to inform and protect your valuable customers. Thank you for reviewing and considering this suggestion for quality commerce!

Vicki Martin-Anderson, Midland, MI	These are items should not be sold over the counter either they don't work or they're poisonous.
Sharon Hulvey, Monroe, MI	This is wrong! Innocent people are buying this in good faith. They know nothing of the potential harm. Stop selling this product!
Diane Timar, Morenci, MI	Wow, am I and other customers naive in trusting such a successful business? It is understandable that with so many marketable items that some things slide under the radar. Better that than financial temptation, 30 pieces of silver can often trip the best of us...
Elaine Ault, Negaunee, MI	As a retired health care professional, I urge your companies to stop selling any creams with mercury in them. It is a poison to the nervous system. If you get sued for selling this stuff because it brain damaged someone (Or a fetus for ex) maybe then you'll stop selling this junk.
Scott Flood, Niles, MI	>>> Progressive 68 year old, White Male , constituent (Politically Active Daily) in Niles, Michigan
Judith Leece, Northport, MI	Please stop using up the world's resources, my children and grandchildren may not have a planet if this continues...PLEASE!!!! And mercury is out!
Deborah Schankler, Okemos, MI	Don't ask women to poison themselves with mercury in order to seek beauty...I'd never buy this!
Joellen Rudolph, Petoskey, MI	How can you sell these toxic products??? In addition to being toxic, they reinforce the incorrect stereotype that dark skin is somehow less desirable. In this day and age when women are celebrating our wonderful diversity, top tier magazine models are of all sizes, skin color and hair texture, even selling these product just perpetuates the stereotype. Please stop now!
Mark Simpson, Petoskey, MI	Stop selling skin lightening cream made for mercury. Mercury is a poison.
Marguerite Rouleau, Rochester, MI	Please do the right and MORAL thing in this serious matter. thank you
Peter Rogan, Royal Oak, MI	This isn't the 19th Century, after all, with its cocaine-, alcohol- and narcotic-laden patent medicines sold through the mail. We're better than that. Why don't you appreciate that?
Mary Ann Martin, Saint Clair, MI	I am a registered nurse and know that mercury based products are unhealthy. Please show respect and restraint by eliminating these products from your sites!
Kay Keyes, Saline, MI	It is shameful that you are willing to sell these dangerous products, even though you know they are toxic and illegal. The dollar clearly means more to Amazon and Ebay than the health of your customers.
Tony Guzdial, Shelby Township, MI	Be more than human! BE HUMANE!
Patricia Austin, South Branch, MI	When did money become more important than human life and health. Stop contributing the this disgusting era.
Marjorie Levine, Southfield, MI	Would you want your mother to use these products?
Lori Pelto, Southfield, MI	It is my wish that sellers and manufacturers will develop ethical standards against products harmful to our health. Please develop that standard.
Sherron Collins, Spring Lake, MI	Nationally we have been trying to remove contained mercury from our homes by discarding good old thermometers. If that, how can we allow uncontained mercury to be distributed?

Thomas Charlier, Warren, MI	Importers of these products must have Every Product Tested, including every new product in the future in perpetuity, by a known reputable lab or labs, not the manufacturer, to verify they are safe and clean. As well, this should apply to children's toys.
Tonya Rincon, Wayne, MI	Poison is bad!
Donna Raceles, Westland, MI	Stop selling illegal mercury laden skin lightening products on your website. This is about people's health and not your greed to get even richer.
Mary Pohl, Alexandria, MN	What is the matter with you? Oh, yes, I forgot. $$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$
Susan Olson, Andover, MN	Illegal stop!!!
Arlene D, Bloomington, MN	Mercury is poison and should not be in skin creams. STOP IT now.
April Narcisse, Bloomington, MN	Allowing the sale of these highly dangerous products is atrocious. Amazon and eBay should stop selling these products immediately!
Julie Martin, Bovey, MN	It is time for all businesses, no matter what kind they are, to start thinking of the lives of all people and stop putting ingredients into items that cause cancer. It is bad enough of a disease, that we do not need to have harmful ingredients added to anything we use or consume.
Pat Ament, Brooklyn Park, MN	Black is Beautiful!!!
Peter Veits, Burnsville, MN	You may be held criminally liable for allowing the sale of these products on your website.
Elizabeth Chacich, Cloquet, MN	A terrible product!
Cheryl Gerth, Coon Rapids, MN	Selling these products is immoral and unethical. Please stop.
Linda Herron, Duluth, MN	Put customer health before profit.
Leona Krieg, Duluth, MN	I hope people will get message about akin loghteners & be happy with themselves . thanks leona krieg
Jan Stern, Duluth, MN	Even worse is these products have been cruelly tested on animals!
Jane Thimke, Duluth, MN	The existence of mercury in beauty products you are selling is contributing to potentially dangerous health problems reminiscent of exposure to lead - for which there are strict guidelines! Please do the right thing.
Mary Thompson, Duluth, MN	Find your soul, do the right thing for a change.
Melissa Moehrl, Excelsior, MN	As a white person, I'm appalled that such products exist. You're sending a terrible message about skin color and people of color. All skin colors are beautiful.
Nancy Root, Grand Rapids, MN	I hope you will help get these mercury-based products of the market. Thank you.
Hollis Hinnenkamp, Grey Eagle, MN	Do the right thing stop selling Mercury laden products.
Jo-Ann Sramek, Hermantown, MN	Mercury is not biodegradable and can remain in a person's system indefinitely. We should be able to buy products we can afford without them being toxic. No wonder corporations get a bad reputation; they think that profit is what counts and not how they are overburdening our environment and poisoning all who exist on the planet, both humans and animals.
Kristine Larsson, Hopkins, MN	Take some of your profits and establish an ethics branch of your business to keep yourselves in line with the ethical standards of your consumers, please!

Will Perry, Hugo, MN	These are your businesses. I guess your lawyers have told you that you are not responsible for the content. But you do have an ethical and a moral duty to know what is being sold. Is the platform you provide run by some mindless robot? I will reconsider my use of your service. I did not realize that ethical considerations are not part of your business plan.
Charles Favorite, Isle, MN	Please do the right thing. You don't need the money and you will feel better about yourself.
Larry Butz, La Crescent, MN	Please cease your discriminatory practices!
Gretchen Cook, La Crescent, MN	Mercury! WTF!
Karen Johnson, Laporte, MN	mercury.....Really? where is your conscience? Karen Gulsvig Johnson
Mary Ann Capizzzo, Little Falls, MN	Pro life is "LIFE FOR ALL."
Christine Utzinger, Loretto, MN	Stop selling poison to us!!! Enough is enough!
Maddy Bartsch, Minneapolis, MN	You have a responsibility to ensure the products your platforms sell are safe for consumers. This is particularly ironic considering Amazon's recent acquisition of Whole Foods which would never carry anything with these chemicals in them. Do better.
Hannah Baxter, Minneapolis, MN	I'm incensed that loopholes like this exist where bad actors can get around safety standards and I strongly urge you to make sure all products sold by your third party vendors are safe.
Leslie Bowman, Minneapolis, MN	I can't even believe I need to send this message. How can you encourage such nonsense!
Candace Dow, Minneapolis, MN	Please help keep consumers safe by banning the sale of hazardous products.
Judy Epstein, Minneapolis, MN	Mercury is dangerous and harmful to the body and brain. Skin absorbs what is put on it. Do not use anything with mercury in it!
Nancy Gardner, Minneapolis, MN	Celebrate diversity and all skin colors.
Marilyn Johnson, Minneapolis, MN	Please dry up this one source of toxicity that affects people of color more than people of pink/beige. Thank you.
Susan Keller, Minneapolis, MN	Really?
Will Kemperman, Minneapolis, MN	I do many things in my life to be a good steward of the earth and to live healthfully and contribute to the wellbeing of those around me, and I expect the companies I buy from to do the same, otherwise I do take my business to companies that are responsible. Thanks for being good people.
Melanie McRae, Minneapolis, MN	Do the right thing! Stop harming people who are trusting you!
Emelie Mohammed, Minneapolis, MN	Even if this wasn't toxic, it's disgusting! Stop perpetuating already problematic and damaging ideals. You can be better and still make plenty of profit.
Diane Waller, Minneapolis, MN	Seriously. This is an easy one to stop. This is a "proven" carcinogen. If you determine you are unable to actually remove the product, at least put a big toxic warning sign alongside the product. However, the conscious company would take steps to vet its products and those of third party sellers. You are in a leadership role and could set an exemplary example of what a model company. It just might get you some karma points.
Zoe Beck, Minnetonka, MN	You already have agreed to take this action. Why aren't you doing it? I just joined Amazon Prime. I may have to rethink the value of that choice.
Jane Johnson, Montgomery, MN	At the very least show some integrity and implement safeguards you've agreed to elsewhere against such a dangerously toxic thing as mercury. Don't continue to profit on these products in similar ways as happened in the opioid crisis with the pharmaceutical companies. Thank you. jlj

Patricia Thomas, Moose Lake, MN	I'm a retired nurse. This can't be good for anyone's skin!
Dr. William 'Skip' Dykoski, New Brighton, MN	Long ago we became aware of the extreme toxicity of Hg.
Thomas Sullivan, Oak Grove, MN	As a customer on your platforms, I find it reprehensible that you continue to sell toxic products. Stop it.
Pollei Lisa, Oronoco, MN	Thank you for your time and attention.
Brittany Bullock, Osseo, MN	We need to move away from this idea that our natural being isn't good enough.
Barbara Kaufman, Pine River, MN	Please help people be safe from toxic chemicals!
Lee Hickerson, Plymouth, MN	Thank you for considering this point of view.
R Limoges, Redwood Falls, MN	Where is your product evaluation team?
Robert Dick, Rochester, MN	I'm writing to ask you to immediately remove illegal and toxic skin lightening products containing mercury from your marketplace. Please listen and help - you are a trusted site and it is so important that you help people make responsible choices. Thank you in advance for your help.
Mary Durdall, Roseville, MN	Seems everything is about money! Why can't illegal products be banned.? We are not only hurting ourselves, but what about the environment? We need to start caring about the future of our planet, our life and the lives of others. Don't wait.. Start now . No excuses...
Gretchen Beilke, Saint Augusta, MN	Health matters! Earth matters! Step up and take action. You have a responsibility to your customers. Your companies are better than this.
Lynnette Black, Saint Paul, MN	We the consumers & general public are making our voice heard here. And we will vote with our pocket books & purchasing power.
Ashley Briscoe, Saint Paul, MN	Stop selling illegal and poisonous skin lightening products!
Tom Cytron-Hysom, Saint Paul, MN	I am concerned that these dangerous products may harm people of color who may use them, and who don't know the dangers.
Beverly Gilmore-Engdahl, Saint Paul, MN	As far as I'm concerned it's another way to discriminate against dark-skinned people while you're making them ill in the process... And been raking in the profits! Shame on you! Have you no conscience whatsoever?
Catharine McEachern, Saint Paul, MN	Please help consumers have healthier choices!
Bruce Tyler, Saint Paul, MN	Mercury in any form is toxic. Shame on you for poisoning our women of color.
Jeanne Vogel, Shafer, MN	I believe we all need to love ourselves just as we are! It is very sad to me that industry would promote products like this.
Tanya Fultz, Shakopee, MN	Stop trying to slowly kill people and make them sick. Get some morales/values of people over money
Trish Hertzell, Shoreview, MN	PLEASE! LISTEN.
Daniel Anderson, South Saint Paul, MN	Don't put people over profits.
Michael Keepper, Wabasha, MN	Stop selling toxic personal care products!
James Koenig, White Bear Lake, MN	James E Koenig

Christina Ippoliti, Woodbury, MN	This is not fair to people nor the environment. Please, just do what you know is right.
Steven Sims, Woodbury, MN	I'm sure it isn't always easy, but once you are aware of it you need to stop selling product that is harmful.
Patrice Saad, Ballwin, MO	Consumers deserve to purchase products free from known harmful, toxic ingredients. Mercury-based products should be banned from sale in your companies as a matter of conscience.
Sharon Carder-Jackson, Excelsior Springs, MO	Continuing to sell products that are both dangerous and illegal must stop. People need to be accepted as they are! Quit encouraging them to change for your prophet!
Ray Domino, Independence, MO	It's past time to quit making a profit on things that are toxic to people!
Amrita Burdick, Kansas City, MO	This is both an issue of ethics and of liability. You must put in place stronger safeguards.
Martha Childers, Kansas City, MO	Protect us
Sue Hall, Kansas City, MO	Please stop
Carole Mehl, Kansas City, MO	Illness
Sandra Shilko, Kansas City, MO	Why would you deliberately put toxins in your body, because you have the money or is it that people don't really know or have the idea of finding out what they are buying & the people selling these products know & should be held accountable for knowing what is being sold by their company>
Joan Sadlo, Lake Sherwood, MO	Mercury is a poisonous and dangerous substance that should not be used on skin.
Joseph O'Sullivan, Lees Summit, MO	Please.
Lany Clough, Manchester, MO	You're better than this. You don't need to sell toxic and illegal chemicals in order to make a profit! Do the right thing.
Susan Macleod, Monett, MO	Your part of the problem !!!!
Victoria Menke, Saint Charles, MO	Please take the time to have these products removed from your omg databases - consumers place their trust in you and your business and the I hope that you don't let us down.
Alice Ault, Saint Louis, MO	Are you kidding me. The 1800's are over! First lead, now Mercury, what next are you going to try, nuclear waste? Got to get rid of it somehow right? Best guinea pigs ever, women. If they suffer, die, oh well. Well, let's think about that. If they suffer, you will be stuck with ugly and possibly very sick. If they die, you will be alone. Oh well.
Elizabeth Ganss, Saint Louis, MO	Please remove these mercury-based skin creams products and replace with stronger safeguards in their place.
Jane House, Saint Louis, MO	Please do what is right.
Michele Isam, Saint Louis, MO	Mercury is highly toxic to humans and the environment. Please stop selling these kinds of products!
Belden Lane, Saint Louis, MO	This is reprehensible!
Carol Marks, Saint Louis, MO	its is hard to read and understand the fine prints...please help us. Thank you for your team efforts to block future problems. caf+m
Douglas Miller, Saint Louis, MO	PLEASE HELP AND DO THE RIGHT THING TO PROMOTE HEALTH.
Carole Scott, Saint Louis, MO	why would you anyway?????????????
Kent Wilkins, Saint Louis, MO	This is really unconscienable, to sell poisons to unsuspecting people.

Cheryl Marcum, Stockton, MO	Please choose to use the power of your platforms to protect people from dangerous products. It takes all of us working together to sustain a healthy world.
Bonita Shea, Wasola, MO	Make our world save for next generation
Xavier Petit, Courtland, MS	I'm very shocked that a clever company like yours is getting on shame in selling product like Mercury-based skin creams. please stop
Hollie Torrence, Florence, MS	If you want to continue having customers buy products offered by your company, please insure that these products are safe. You have a responsibility to insure that the trust placed by each customer is warranted!!
Ashley Chasse, Grenada, MS	I'm sure several family members of yours have bought some or a few of these exact products themselves. Who is to say you haven't? Think about gifts you receive from others on birthdays and holidays.
Robert Gwaltney, Hattiesburg, MS	Dear eBay and Amazon. You will make just as much money if you take toxic products off your sites for sale. Please be responsible and do the right thing to protect the health of your clients.
Margo Salone, Shubuta, MS	My Goodness. You all need to do MUCH better for people and our planet.
Mary Frost, Waveland, MS	I am a nurse and all about protecting health of people. We cannot jeopardize our well being so others who are opportunists can stockpile wealth. After all in the end, Health is Wealth. Thanks for taking these questionable products off the market. Mary Frost concerned RN and Grandmother.
Maurice Horn, Bozeman, MT	Stop selling these poisons to unsuspecting buyers
Rebecca Cosby, Butte, MT	Once people/companies are enlightened about the great harmful effects of toxic substances people use on a day to day basis, I hope and feel like it would take nothing more than a compassionate human decision to stop knowingly poisoning civilians. Humans in nature have a conscious especially when it comes to fellow humans. So, to whom it may concern, please make the human decision for the better of all people and stop selling toxic substances.
Adrienne Croft, Butte, MT	How dare these companies include such a dangerous ingredient to begin with, especially in products that are put on the skin! But how shameful to keep selling such items despite the warnings.
Paul Barbara Bessler, Clancy, MT	Please stop selling mercury laden products to people. How terrible this is.
robert petersen, Evergreen, MT	act like your decisions save lives-BECAUSE THEY DO!
Ann Lauer, Helena, MT	It is completely inappropriate to continue to sell these items. Do what's right and stop.
Pat Bowers, Polson, MT	Stop killing us w yr hazardous products. And stop selling anything w FUR!!!!
Dawn Gandalf, Thompson Falls, MT	It is a shame you do not have ethics and integrity in you products. You have the authority due to your wealth to solidly effect change...and you just don't. This influences me where I choose to put my dollar. I stay away from companies that are motivated by money and not conscience to just do the right thing.
Andrea Sousa, Apex, NC	People count on companies like yours to deliver them safe products they can trust- please stop selling these creams today!
James Huff, Asheville, NC	Have you no decency?

Natalia Kalianna, Asheville, NC	I am one of your many good customers and we ask you to please stop selling mercury infused skin lightening products!!!
Randy Marrs, Asheville, NC	Until till you stop, I'll no longer patronize your companies.
Georganne Spruce, Asheville, NC	It is possible to make attractive products that are healthy for people and not hazardous. Make the change if you care about your customers. We are not willing to harm ourselves for your benefit.
Ben Trotter, Asheville, NC	Just do the right thing. STOP it.
Cathy & Carlton Craft, Beaufort, NC	Thanks for being aware of this!
Rose Marie Tresp, Belmont, NC	Please keep the health of your customers as a priority.
Cindy Krimmelbein, Biltmore Lake, NC	Part of your business philosophy should including knowing the impact of what the product will have on human beings. Stop selling mercury-based skin creams NOW!
John Bromer, Black Mountain, NC	Are you unaware or criminally liable? In either case do something NOW!
Gavin Dillard, Black Mountain, NC	Do we really need to say this?
Jane Goldthwait, Black Mountain, NC	You companies should take the initiative to stop selling these products. Consumers cannot keep up with products and the government does not regulate it enough.
Ginger White Almeida, Boone, NC	Please help those of color realize they are beautiful and do not need to dilute their skin tone. Thank you!
Carol Dugger, Brevard, NC	This is a terrible way to make a profit, on more than one level. Please do the right thing. It's time.
David Smale, Brevard, NC	You think this worked for MJ. THERE IS NOTHING ABOUT THIS THAT IS SAFE.
Donald Harland, Candler, NC	Consumers should not need to have safety concerns about products bought from Amazon or eBay! Amazon and eBay should not be selling mercury-based skin creams!
Dr. and Mrs. John J. Hren, Cary, NC	I am a customer of Amazon and eBay, but deplore the fact that they are selling mercury-based skin creams. This should be illegal. Please stop!
Henriette Larsen, Cary, NC	Please don't allow producers to profit from these obviously toxic, harmful products.
Stephenie Koehn, Castle Hayne, NC	Continuing to sell these hazardous creams is not only illegal, it is immoral! Please stop!
Betty Lou Chaika, Chapel Hill, NC	You have no business making a business out of mercury-laden or any other toxic products.
Diana Hawes, Chapel Hill, NC	I have been a health care practitioner for 35 years. I see women maimed for life by these products. They do not beautify women. They harm and devastate them. Chose life over money...stop buying and selling these dangerous products.
Lynne Kane, Chapel Hill, NC	It is important for commerce to protect human and animal health. It is expensive to deal with sicknesses and the loss of productivity.
Pete Schwartz, Chapel Hill, NC	Women are unwittingly exposing themselves to toxic substances such as mercury, sometimes at thousands of times the legal limit. Please stop selling these products.
Jim Thomas, Chapel Hill, NC	Stop selling illegal mercury-laden skin lightening products on your websites!
Eleanor Weston, Chapel Hill, NC	In general, you should not sell products that are poisonous when used as directed.
Alison Woomert, Chapel Hill, NC	In addition to removing the products for sale, you could provide public health information about why you're no longer selling the products.

Mary Ann Lawler, Charlotte, NC	This is an environmental justice issue and it's important to me.
Tania Leon, Charlotte, NC	Consumers of these products do not realize that the products are poisonous.
Ched Welsh, Davidson, NC	Save the Skin
Patricia Brown, Durham, NC	What hurts one of us hurts all of us ?
Doug Carlton, Durham, NC	Laws must be followed. Public health and safety must become as important as profit.
Jim Eshelman, Durham, NC	Look to the future
Thomas Harris, Durham, NC	We expect you to not sell known lethal poisons.
Pam Hoge, Durham, NC	You are an enabler of toxic products. You have the power to stop them!
Barbara Johnston, Durham, NC	As a physician I hold the sellers of dangerous products responsible. History shows this will eventually catch up with you. Do the right thing.
Barbara Mackesson, Durham, NC	Please respond positively to these concerns! Consumers should not have to worry about the ingredients in purchases from your companies. Thank you.
Mary Anne McDonald, Durham, NC	These products are illegal for important reasons. Stop selling such dangerous products.
Bob Schmitz, Durham, NC	As the biggest retailer in the US please take a lead on this Jeff. Bob
Brett Sheppard, Durham, NC	Come on, guys. Let's do better, proactively, on purpose. It's time.
Avanti Smith, Durham, NC	Stop using racism to kill us!
Monika Winchester, Durham, NC	This is typical of Amazon. Bezos just cares about his profits. Didn't know eBay was as greedy. The fact that you vet products in Europe just is just further proof that you both are about nothing but greed. Don't buy from Amazon already because of your terrible treatment of employees and underselling the very companies that sell through you on their products. Ebay, haven't started, so guess I won't buy from you either.
Robin Lee Hewitt, Ellerbe, NC	You need to consider what you're doing to people by selling them toxic products. It's a horrible thing to know you're selling these products to people causing them harm.
Leia Phillips-Sprague, Fayetteville, NC	Stop poisoning your customers!
Steven Spilman, Fayetteville, NC	Please stop selling Mercury based lotion. As you are aware Mercury can have deadly Reactions .
Irene Swann, Fayetteville, NC	its disgusting. Mercury is deadly! Irene Swann
George Kaye, Franklin, NC	Please do the right thing and take these products off your product list!!!
Wm Jay Brown, Garner, NC	I love Amazon and eBay but you guys need to carry on with ethical products. I think this is despicable and if you don't stop this practice I'm going to stop shopping with you!
James Matthews, Germantown, NC	I do volunteer work with kids with disabilities every week and I see the parents and case workers that come with them and I wonder why it is such a critical thing perpetrated by cosmetic manufacturers and sellers to have people who are typically developing maim their bodies when little kids who can't walk or speak or stand up are raised in households where this is perpetrated please be immoral company.
Terri Chappell, Greensboro, NC	I would urge you as corporate citizens to remedy problems once you have been made aware of them. Let that be the case with these dangerous products.

Stephani Foster, Greensboro, NC	This is disgusting
Leslie Mulligan, Greensboro, NC	Selling skin lightening creams furthers racist and sexist definitions of "what females should look like". Stop backing ignorance and profiting from inhumanity and objectification. Stop selling skin lightening "products".
Shannon Gentry, Hendersonville, NC	It's unfair women still have to be exposed to toxins as well as living up to unrealistic standards of beauty. Stop before more damage is done.
Alissa Meredith, Hendersonville, NC	Please help decrease toxic pollution for us all.
Alice Brower, Hillsborough, NC	This request is a no-brainer, guys. Please do the right thing. Thanks very much for all you do.
Wendy Waugh, Hillsborough, NC	I lived in the U.S. Virgin Islands for 12 years and saw the damage colorism did to the black population. 80% of Virgin Islanders are black and the colorism was just as bad as racism in the States. Please stop selling skin lightening products that are physically and emotionally harmful. I am white and care about my black sisters and brothers. I do a lot of shopping on Amazon and want you to hear my voice.
Katie Hughes, Huntersville, NC	No one needs Mercury or any other heavy metals in their skin creams. It is irresponsible to sell these when we KNOW these are harmful. People who are buying them aren't adequately informed of the downsides of these on the packaging because the EPA and the FDA aren't able to do their jobs. Please take the responsible action.
Janet Hosey, Ivanhoe, NC	What more needs to be said? Take these products off the shelves.
Janet Mcelligott, Leland, NC	As a loyal Amazon customer, I implore you to adopt the same strict controls that you use in Europe - do the right thing for the right reason, please!
Karen Multer, Lenoir, NC	How horrible to be sickened in this way. In the quest for acceptance and trusting these internet giants...
Kess Curtiss, Lexington, NC	No one should have to worry if a product is going to cause harm to them or their loved ones. By not regulating what you sell through third-parties, you are allowing people to poison themselves because they trust you, your site, and your products. Do NOT break that trust or many people, including myself, will no longer utilize your services and it will be because of your complete lack of compassion for your customers.
Jack Raker, Marion, NC	Please use a portion of your huge profits to assure the products that you sell are also safe. We have been trusting your judgment of this blindly and would like you to make a public statement on this so we can continue to do so. What better use of profits do you have?
Bridget Dunford, Nebo, NC	TOXIC PRODUCTS ARE NOT ACCEPTABLE FOR WORKERS OR CONSUMERS!
Linda Eastman, Ocean Isl Bch, NC	If you do not stop selling these products, you are complicit in harming women. Having a prowoman stance in protecting them from harmful products is a good business practice & earns the respect of women who purchase products from you.
Victoria Rains, Orrum, NC	There is never any legitimate reason to profit by unethical and immoral sales. Do what is right for your customers and they will stay your customers!!

LYNDA LUCAS, Pittsboro, NC	Please do the right thing!
Jo Sanders, Pittsboro, NC	Come on, mail order folks, this ought to be a no brainer!
Mary Block, Raleigh, NC	Stop selling products that hurt people. Is money more important than people? NO.
M Hardy, Raleigh, NC	"The corporation is an externalizing machine (moving its operating costs and risks to external organizations and people), in the same way that a shark is a killing machine." - Robert Monks (2003) Republican candidate for Senate from Maine and corporate governance adviser in the film "The Corporation".
	Don't be evil.
Kathy Lamb, Raleigh, NC	As a healthcare practitioner, I have educated many clients about the dangerous toxic effects of heavy metals, like mercury that are neurotoxins and have no place in the human body. Everyone must be aware of the deleterious effects of such neurotoxins that destroy human health and lives.
Margaret Lillard, Raleigh, NC	As an Amazon Prime member, I am deeply concerned that I support a business that is - unwittingly or not - putting customers at risk. Please take action to protect your consumers.
Deborah Melvin, Raleigh, NC	You have a moral obligation to sell safe products!
Jean Miani, Raleigh, NC	This is dangerous. Please stop allowing access to these products through your company.
Wanda Miyata, Raleigh, NC	You are better than this. Please refrain from selling these products. Consumers are watching you and want to respect your actions.
Richard Piatkowski, Raleigh, NC	Please..... Stop selling illegal mercury-laden skin lightening products on Amazon and eBay websites
Jeanne Stancil, Raleigh, NC	Amazon is a great resource but your business will dry up if all you become is a source for rogue sellers of harmful products.
Kristin Westermann, Raleigh, NC	Please - take care of your customers!!!
Patricia Young, Raleigh, NC	Please help consumer's purchases be free of all toxic ingredients.
Albert Sanguillen, Roanoke Rapids, NC	The promotion and selling of skin bleaching products continues to perpetuate the myth of superiority predicated on skin color! Furthermore, the chemical ingredients within these products (i.e., mercury) are detrimental the health of it's users. I would hope that 'You' will do the right thing and remove these products for the benefit of the people. One' greed should not supersede Justice!!!
DawnMarie Helin, Rockingham, NC	The more we allow these products to be sold, the more that gets into our food chain. Please help preserve our planet and our ability to feed ourselves.
Marjorie McGuire, Sanford, NC	Do you really need to make money at the expense of a persons health. Shame on you
Debbie Burns, Sharpsburg, NC	Stop poisoning people.
Ann Collins, Southern Pines, NC	These dangerous, hazardous products must be removed from your sites. You can money other places.. OK? OK!!.
Catherine Laramée, Southport, NC	It grieves me personally to know that innocent people are victims of these dangerous products. Please take action to limit consumer access to them by banning their sale in your marketplace.
Susan Roque, Statesville, NC	I am a great admirer of Amazon and was saddened to receive this email today. Knowing what you know would you use these same products? Please remove these products from your inventory to protect the unsuspecting client. Thank you for stepping in to the rescue. Susan Alberto

Erv and Jane Kelman, Summerfield, NC	What happened to the 'Wisdom of the Market' in this situation? I don't see much evidence of any wisdom, even after having the situation called to attention.
Nancy Benedict, Swannanoa, NC	Please do your part!
Jeffrey Reckinger, Swannanoa, NC	Save the planet! Human lives don't matter!
Mitchell Donian, Sylva, NC	STOP DOING HARM
Jackie Ewendt, Valdese, NC	Seriously, where are your ethics? Corporate responsibility? Don't let greed be your priority!
Aleta Galusha, Waxhaw, NC	You make so much money on these websites that you owe the consumer some small guarantee that you are paying attention to consumer product safety. If you don't change your policy, some of us may have to ban the use of your sites for ALL consumer products.
William Adams, Waynesville, NC	Please cease selling these kinds of products that harm those that are not conscious of the consequences. It is bad karma my friend.
Gaea Mitchel, Waynesville, NC	Given the toxicity of mercury, and its longevity in the environment, I am concerned about the amount that will be washed off into our water systems or into the landfills when containers are thrown away.
Jill Castelli, Weaverville, NC	It is immoral to knowingly sell harmful products.
Brenda McVey, Weaverville, NC	These corporations have a responsibility to ensure that products are safe and nontoxic for consumers.
Colin Duggleby, Wendell, NC	get them away and never sell them again... NEVER!!
Iris Carman, Wilkesboro, NC	Protect consumers from poisons and harmful products.
Kristen Stritter, Wilmington, NC	I am shocked to even hear that there is mercury in face care and body care products as it can be so toxic to the human body leading to all sorts of brain related issues/diseases and nervous system issues. Its very dangerous- please stop!!!
Sandra Albrecht, Wilson, NC	Mercury and many other chemicals used in cosmetics are dangerous to health. Do NOT sell them.
Judith Foley, Winston Salem, NC	Haven't you heard that mercury is toxic??!! Where have you been? That products you sell contain mercury criminal and criminally stupid. In what century are you living? I order many items from Amazon and now I will have to read the ingredients disclosure before I purchase. You should be mortified!
Jeff Hight, Winston Salem, NC	This is horrible!
John Thomas, Winston Salem, NC	Mercury is a deadly killer. Amazon is better than this!
Donna Von Bargaen, Winston Salem, NC	Just stop it. Making a dollar this way is WRONG. JUST STOP.
Liz Wilson, Winston Salem, NC	Selling toxic products should be punishable offence
Donna Wagoner, Woodleaf, NC	Mercury based products are harmful and must be removed from shelves
Diane Dahlstrom-Hoffman, Bismarck, ND	This is toxic!! Get it!! I will not purchase any products from you till you discontinue these toxic products!!
Diane Hoffman, Bismarck, ND	This is toxic!! Get it!! I will not purchase any products from you till you discontinue these toxic products!!
Eric Thompson, Bismarck, ND	Wouldn't the answer to skin color be to ignore it and pay attention to the person's value instead? Making money off of prejudice should be illegal.
Doreen Ryan, Mercer, ND	We trust companies such as yourselves, to hold a certain standard when it comes to making sure your customers are safe. There are hundreds of safe options out there for sale, please discontinue selling harmful products. You have the power to make a difference.

Kat Boylan, Omaha, NE	Please care that most people don't read the ingredients and use these products to change their appearance to fit in ???
Connie McDonough, Omaha, NE	Everyone feels beautiful as they are unless you send them an alternate message.
Raydelle Meehan, Omaha, NE	How much money do you people need to accumulate in your lifetimes.
Susan Moore, Bow, NH	Would you let your wife or daughter use the Mercury-laden products? "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you". If you wouldn't use these products, then your conscience will tell you what to do.
Jennifer Mead, Concord, NH	Please, we can't do this without you guys jumping on board.
Robert Moeller, Conway, NH	Only safe products should be offered for sale.
Joanna Sharf, Cornish, NH	It is completely wrong to sell products that cause serious harm to consumers. It is doubly wrong that these products target women. Please take action to prevent these products from being sold on your platforms. Thank you.
L E Payne, Epsom, NH	Mercury is easily absorbed through the skin, then it can't get out. The human body can not flush out the highly toxic mercury, it just circulates poisoning the system as it travels, with now way to get out of the body. SHAME ON YOU ALL !!!
Elizabeth Schaeffer, Exeter, NH	Mercury-based skin creams are from the Middle Ages.
Paulina Shadowens, Hampton, NH	Mercury is horrible for humans and the environment. Please stop selling it immediately.
Lori Ruede, Keene, NH	All skin color is just as it should be. How amazing could a world be where large companies as yourselves promoted that message. Please be the change that promotes what is true. Thank you, Lori Ruede Keene, NH
Kathy Kierstead, Manchester, NH	Please stop selling toxic beauty products. We don't deserve to be poisoned.
WG Hadyk, Nashua, NH	While raking in the billion$, you have a responsibility - regardless of what you have been able to get away with.
Michael Nadeau, Nelson, NH	If we don't have integrity, what do we have? Stop the madness, stop poisoning people.
Darlene Nadeau, Plymouth, NH	Please put people first before profits! Thank you for your immediate attention to this.
Barbara Spike, Plymouth, NH	From US FDA: "these products usually are manufactured abroad and sold ILLEGALLY in the United States . . ." and " FDA does not allow mercury in drugs or in cosmetics, except under very specific conditions where there are no other safe and effective preservatives available ? conditions that these products do not meet." STOP SELLING THESE ILLEGAL Mercury-Containing PRODUCTS!"
Diana Curington, Portsmouth, NH	Stop it! This is outrageous!
Cathy Joly, Temple, NH	You are responsible for what is on your site, whether legally
Diane Hashem, Thornton, NH	It's time to get toxic ingredients out of our skin care products.
Jennifer Burr, Walpole, NH	People who make and sell skin products with mercury should be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. That includes you.
Christine Nase, Weare, NH	I cannot understand why your company would continue to sell harmful products to consumers. Please discontinue this practice.

Diane Morasco, West Lebanon, NH	Are you SERIOUS?!
Selena Gallen, Westmoreland, NH	We need to clean things up and stop putting out toxic chemicals. Global warming or not, I believe we can all agree that clean water, clean earth and clean air is vital to the survival of all species on this earth.
Virginia Lanzilotti, Atco, NJ	The sale of these products to unsuspecting individuals can cause great harm to them. You are financially sound and the discontinuance of this practice I'm sure won't hurt your bottom line.
Ariana Basulto, Barnegat Light, NJ	Stop and think if this is what u really want, this is not a political problem or anything like that... This is OUR home, where WE live, where we want our family , friends and ourselves to have a life, a bright future, seriously, think with your head
Susan And John Samtak, Bedminster, NJ	What price "beauty"? Mercury is a heavy metal toxin. No one should be using mercury on skin!
Jean Marquis, Berkeley Heights, NJ	As a woman of color, I find it an insult to see your product on the market telling women like me that we need to lighten our color. Dr. Jean Marquis
Claudia Capritti, Beverly, NJ	Not only should you remove these products from your sites, but you should join forces with the Sierra Club and other environmental organizations: use your considerable influence to help insure that these unsafe cosmetic products are not sold ANYWHERE.
Edwina Gaiser-Marchev, Boonton, NJ	cancer!!!! how CAN you?????!!!! for shame!!!!
Dennis Callan, Bordentown, NJ	This has got to stop! Everything must be done to protect the dignity of people of every race. Human dignity is worth more than monetary profit.
Maryann Foss, Cherry Hill, NJ	Your very large businesses demand safety for customers. Thank you!
Pat Williams, Cherry Hill, NJ	I love Amazon and buy products from it several times/week. Please bar these items from your site!
Michelle Adams, Cranbury, NJ	Stop poisoning people! Take responsibility!
Christopher F. Vota, Eastampton, NJ	Dangerous product, racist product: either should be disqualified from scAmazon's warehouses.
Natalie Paw, Edison, NJ	I am a bug user if both ebay and Amazon and expect that I should be able to trust the products I buy there.
Kathleen Vermette, Estell Manor, NJ	Well for 1 thing, something that's not needed for anyone plus proven that it has toxins in why would anyone even want to use this product anyway? Get it off the market!
Patricia Ferretti, Fair Haven, NJ	Women should not risk being poisoned by beauty products. I will not buy any products from your sites until you do more to ensure safety
Harry McNally, Fanwood, NJ	Should be obvious!
Donna Brandt, Flemington, NJ	The products you sell must be safe for people to use.
Lu Karameros, Fort Lee, NJ	Stop poisoning your customers and the environment by selling these mercury laden creams thru your companies!
Angela De Sapio, Frenchtown, NJ	I'm not asking you if it's right. I'm telling you; you are killing people with racism. Don't sell marketed unsafe, dangerous, and chemical-laden [levels unacceptable or too high for human health] items to individuals, couples, families, or children.
Joann Eckstut, Glen Ridge, NJ	THIS IS ESSENTIAL!
Nan Guptill Crain, Glen Rock, NJ	No one need to be using products that endanger their health;

	FULL DISCLOSURE is needed immediately. Do all you can to reverse this current crisis.
Jerome Lawson, Glen Rock, NJ	From a WHO publication: ?The main adverse effect of the inorganic mercury contained in skin lightening soaps and creams is kidney damage. Mercury in skin lightening products may also cause skin rashes, skin discoloration and scarring, as well as a reduction in the skin's resistance to bacterial and fungal infections. Other effects include anxiety, depression or psychosis and peripheral neuropathy.? ? https://www.who.int/ipcs/assessment/public_health/mercury_flyer.pdf

Dianne Pingitore, Hamilton, NJ	No one should be exposed to unsafe and toxic substances, especially those where the danger has been proven. Please stop selling or allowing these products to be sold on your websites.
Cindy Mantel, Hamilton Sq, NJ	Just stop!
Nicolina Contardo, Hamilton Square, NJ	Toxic unnecessary products that promote self-loathing stereotypes and don't allow women to accept their own individual beauty. Especially no one should risk their life for a lie!
Lisa Tracy-Savoie, Hawthorne, NJ	Women of color should be encouraged to see themselves as beautiful, no matter what their skin tone is.
Mark Diekmann, Hoboken, NJ	There is no excuse for this kind of laxness in oversight of your products available to consumers online. Use some of your overly abundant profits to better regulate what you offer to the public.
Nancy Garvin, Hoboken, NJ	Mercury is harmful to everyone!
Debra Magadini, Hoboken, NJ	Come on, Amazon; Do the right thing here. Stop selling mercury laden skin creams on your website.
Dale Sloat, Hopatcong, NJ	You have the unique ability to influence an entire planet! Please be a good steward of it, and ALL its residents, no matter the species. We just don't have a Plan B!
Jan Sloat, Hopatcong, NJ	Please be a good steward of this planet and ALL its residents. There is NO Plan B.....
Hannah Suthers, Hopewell, NJ	Unbelievable that such products are on the market - and that you are selling them!
Laura Delaluz, Jackson, NJ	I am a long time prime member and hope you will take these products off your site
Josie P., Jersey City, NJ	Life is precious
Florence Summergrad, Jersey City, NJ	I am an Amazon Prime member for years and I am very concerned that Amazon is selling a product that is endangering people -- especially skin lightening cream, which plays on racist psychology that white skin is better. (I, by the way, am white myself. It's not better. It's just skin.)
Carol Puchyr, Kearny, NJ	As an Amazon stockholder, I want you to address this issue and do the right thing and not sell these products or any other toxic or harmful products.
Aurette Sprout, Lambertville, NJ	My husband and I strongly urge you to stop selling these poisonous products!
Valerie Meluskey, Lawrenceville,	No excuses now--you've been given the information about this life

NJ	endangering process you are unwittingly (?) making available.
Bernadette Tourtual, Lindenwold, NJ	This is a terrible tho,g to market these products. Please remove from the market!
Monica Shaw, Long Beach Township, NJ	My husband and I are customers of both amazon and e-bay sites. Hopefully, you will change your practice of selling skin lightening products. Not only do they contain highly dangerous chemicals, but they reek of racism.
Louise Mon, Mantua, NJ	They are toxic
Abbas Salim, Monroe Township, NJ	Think of human health not your executives and shareholders. Have mercy.
Sharon Rothbart, Montclair, NJ	Please stop!! Its incredibly inhuman that companies like yours, throughout the USA, care more about profits then about the health of 50% of the human race- women. STOP!
	If you are a man- your mother, wife and daughters are being introduced to cosmetics (in the name of pleasing men) that can kill them. If you are a woman, shame on you. Stand up for your health and all women's health. Thank you.
Raghav Akula, Moorestown, NJ	By selling these skin lightening products, you are promoting racist, sexist, and harmful practices to the world. Not only do women already face the unjust beauty standards of society, but now they also have to worry about potentially fatal chemicals in their beauty products. As some of the largest tech companies, you have a huge influence over society. You have a responsibility to not only stop selling mercury-laden products, but also to condemn them entirely.
Sandra Molinaro, Mount Tabor, NJ	Unless you would let your child/grandchild or loved one use these products, they should be removed from your marketplace.
Catherine Mitchell, Mountain Lakes, NJ	No more skin lightening creams & no more abuse of the under dog!
Henry Ickes, Newton, NJ	Doesn't it make you feel the slightest bit guilty about supporting this kind of racism? A person's skin color is not that person's most important characteristic.
Karen Schroeder, Ocean Grove, NJ	Not only are these products potentially harmful, they are sending a message that lighter ?whiter? skin is better.
Carlos Roman, Parlin, NJ	You Mr.Bezos are probably to busy counting your money take the time to listen to your constituents
Kathi Thonet, Pittstown, NJ	Really?
Carol Morrison, Princeton, NJ	I'm a customer of both Amazon and Ebay, and would like to be offered only products which meet safety standards.
Stamatina Podes, Red Bank, NJ	We need each and every company to do its part to act responsibly because the climate crisis is real and we are at a point where we are living under dire circumstances!!! Please do your part!!
	Sincerely, Stamatina Podes
Barbara Withers, Red Bank, NJ	This is toxic and only promotes anti-social ideas.
Ruth Boice, Shamong, NJ	No one should be putting toxic chemicals on their skin.
John Cucinotta, Shamong, NJ	stop deliberately poisoning the environment. lighten up on the toxins. thank you.
Mary Bissell, Somerville, NJ	people with TONS of cash and you want more,more,more.....You are disgraceful examples for your grabbing, grasping, needing more,more,more. I have boycotted any entity that is associated with J Bezos and friends.

Lisa Levine, Stockton, NJ	Please stop selling products that are harmful to the environment!!! Our children and environment are more important than profits!
Ruth Boroshok, Summit, NJ	Mercury is toxic and there is no need for any person to use it.
Debbie Simpkins, Tabernacle, NJ	Please make the safety of your customers a priority; it's only right!
Bettina Hempel, Teaneck, NJ	Black is Beautiful, not whitening skin creams... Ban such chemical nonsense, please!
Vicki Gussen, Toms River, NJ	I am hopeful that you will agree!
Robert Alvarez, Union City, NJ	Is not mercury toxic? If so, then why is a company selling products laced with it?
Elizabeth Moran, Verona, NJ	Thanks so much for your attention!
Margaret Duerr, Vineland, NJ	Taking advantage of people seeking beauty, or what we are told is beautiful, and then selling products that contain mercury in or to achieve those looks, once again, immoral. The whole process.
Michele Cipriani, Weehawken, NJ	I cannot believe that mercury is employed in so many products. Isn't it well documented that it is toxic?
Jennifer Pantow, Westfield, NJ	It's just a fact, no one wants a product that is toxic. Kindly monitor your sellers and their products. There has to be an element of QC. Don't loose our trust.
Sue Szambelak, Wildwood, NJ	Most people use products to help hide defects in and on their skin. So, WHY are you poisoning them!? Can't you sell a Better Healthy Product!?
Christine Moore, Williamstown, NJ	Amazon and Ebay need to be better than this. Lives are at stake!! Please remember what's important. People over profits!!
Rachel Bade, Woodbridge, NJ	It is harmful for people to use, so why would we sell it to them? There's so many better things to profit off of selling that are much better for people and the environment, let's move our energy and effort to those products instead.
Sally Gellert, Woodcliff Lake, NJ	Just because you have an online, international market does not mean that you may ignore safety regulations, your customers' health, and simple science and integrity. Take these products off your site TODAY!
G Y, Wyckoff, NJ	Do the correct actions.
Diane Aranda, Albuquerque, NM	We have so many toxins & pollutants that people are taking into their bodies by breathing and eating, if we can avoid another toxin that is easily dealt with by eliminating toxic creams that contain mercury-laden, that would be great!!!! Thank you.
Raul Cobos, Albuquerque, NM	Stop Selling That Toxic Product.
Sue Essen, Albuquerque, NM	Please don't represent purveyors of mercury filled products.
Orese Fahey, Albuquerque, NM	In my work, I have spent decades helping women avoid "beauty" products which are toxic. I am shocked that Amazon and eBay would knowingly allow toxic products to be sold through their sites.
Emma Fitzpatrick, Albuquerque, NM	I had no idea this was still happening. It's absolutely horrifying.
C. H., Albuquerque, NM	Take some responsibility for what you are selling....make sure they are safe!!!
Michael Lawler, Albuquerque, NM	Have you no shame?
Lynn Lessard, Albuquerque, NM	We don't need skin care products with pollutants added that are harmful to humans.
Lyn Miller, Albuquerque, NM	Please, the health and lives of thousands of women may depend on them not having access to toxic creams used to try to attain a lighter skin color. You wouldn't want a woman you know and care about to use these toxic creams. Please protect all women as if they are part of your extended family.

Susan Selbin, Albuquerque, NM	People of color are beautiful as they are! Stop promoting skin lightening! It's racist as well as harmful!
Richard Steele, Albuquerque, NM	Please stop! You are selling products that are deadly.
Eleanor Stewart, Albuquerque, NM	It's unbelievable to me that you do this. I trusted you.
Jami Hotsinpillar, Bernalillo, NM	My personal message is that you know the moral difference between right and wrong. No economic justifications you've chosen which allow you to knowingly expose people to
Michael New, Capitan, NM	You sell enough, get this racist poison off the market.
Adele Zimmermann, Embudo, NM	IT OCCURS TO ME THAT CAUCASIANS WOULD NOT HAVE AS MUCH DEMAND FOR SKIN-LIGHTENING PRODUCTS AS PEOPLE OF COLOR. FAILURE TO REMOVE SUCH PRODUCTS THAT CONTAIN MERCURY WOULD THEN DEMONSTRATE A LACK OF CONCERN FOR THE HEALTH OF BLACK AND BROWN CUSTOMERS. IT WOULD INDICATE A RACIAL BIAS AGAINST PEOPLE OF COLOR.
	SHAME ON YOU!
Rhonda Berger, Espanola, NM	Really?!
Edward Mosimann, Farmington, NM	Amazing. We have to police ourselves, now that there is no EPA, FDA ...to protect the population ...life.
Marijean Stephenson, Farmington, NM	Please put the health and safety of the public above the enormous profits you rake in. Immediately stop the sale of these products!
Esther Armijo, Las Cruces, NM	STOP poisoning people and greed!
Janet Labrecque, Las Cruces, NM	we can do better to take care of our human family. So let's see some caring.
Andrew Ondo, Las Cruces, NM	Mercury poisoning has been a huge problem for the same reason in Africa as well. Any mercury containing product should not be made available, in good conscience, in the US. The data is clear. This is a no brainer! Andrew Ondo MD Fellow, American Academy of Dermatology
Roberta M Rabert, Las Cruces, NM	You are knowingly selling this product counting on the desperation or stupidity of people just for a buck. How do you sleep?
Linda Chamberlin, Los Alamos, NM	Really Jeff? How rotten do you want to be?
Scott Havemann, Los Alamos, NM	Please demonstrate ethical leadership!
Pamela Canyonrivers Marshall, Pecos, NM	Money over Life and health is morally corrupt.
Judith Allen, Placitas, NM	I have personally experienced the devastating health effects of heavy metals. I am thankful there are available treatments. Bu not everyone has access to testing and treatment. I urge you to do everything in your power to stop the sale of poisonous skin treatments.

Lynn Moen, Rio Rancho, NM	Let's get poisons out of all products.
June Parsons, Rio Rancho, NM	We are all responsible for ethical behavior in everything we enable and provide to other human beings.
Catherine Louisell, Rowe, NM	Unfortunately racism is alive and well in the USA. But we don't have to harm other human beings of color with toxic products. This is just plain wrong. Stop this disaster before it gets any worse.
Tim Fitzpatrick, Sandia Park, NM	Please act responsibly!
Wesley Linam, Sandia Park, NM	Please stop contributing to unnecessary harm to vulnerable populations.
Helga Ancona, Santa Fe, NM	Amazon should know better than selling hazardous products, please discontinue, Helga and George Ancona
Evelyn Bittel, Santa Fe, NM	Really tired of you unethical and exploitive practices. I boycott both of you and buy locally.
Julio Blanco, Santa Fe, NM	It is hard to believe that in the 21st century this form of cruelty is exploited for profit. Please stop. Instead promote that we are OK as we are born.
Charlotte Cooke, Santa Fe, NM	it is time for you billionaires to be held accountable.
Russell Fletcher, Santa Fe, NM	Thank you for carefully considering my request.
	Sincerely, Russell Fletcher
Cherie Haymes, Santa Fe, NM	Amazon is no place to sell these types of products without the availability of consultation of licensed skin care professionals
Robert Ingliss, Santa Fe, NM	Omg! Why can't take a longer view?
Kenneth Jacks, Santa Fe, NM	Please give up this tiny bit of profit as a contribution to world health. When you do this, I will thank you. Kenneth
Bill Mathews, Santa Fe, NM	I order regularly from Amazon, often 2 or 3 times a month. If Amazon continues to sell these dangerous and illegal products, I will seek other sources for what I order from Amazon.
Teri Micco, Santa Fe, NM	What would Love do?
Susan Perry, Santa Fe, NM	Please, make your marketplace safe.
Joanne Rhodes, Santa Fe, NM	This is so immoral and appealing. Please take your responsibility to sell only products that are known to protect women from toxins. My God????
Karen Walker, Santa Fe, NM	We have (as a species) so little time left on the planet that (as a species) we have knowingly ruined, can't we start doing the right thing when we know better?!
Amelia Waters, Silver City, NM	As a human being this is important to me because the damage it does to everyone. Everyone who suffers because of this has a greater impact than one individual, they are not alone. The impact of this will bleed over into their daily functioning and that of the people around them. Please help end this.
Judith Hetem, Taos, NM	PLEASE!
Mary Kinninger, Truth Or Consequences, NM	Amazon and eBay please chose to be wise, responsible and protective. MK
Jean Mcneil, Carson City, NV	Compromising and individuals health for your profit is unconscionable.

Maryan Finke, Henderson, NV	So sad, it makes me unwilling to buy products your selling
Mark Williams, Henderson, NV	Also quit selling lighting and plumbing fixtures that aren't LISTED by UL or ETL etc
Robert Helvie, Las Vegas, NV	Why are you even selling it at all if it is illegal?
Gary Hoffman, Las Vegas, NV	If you sell toxic or dangerous products you could be liable for their effects.
Kathrin Hunter, Las Vegas, NV	Do the right thing!
Anne Lett, Las Vegas, NV	Not only are these products bad for the environment, it sends a terrible message to people of color!!!
Atif Ozcelik, Las Vegas, NV	At least label the products appropriately to warn the potential buyer of the health issues the product can cause.
Howard Shapiro, Las Vegas, NV	Stop endangering the lives of innocent people with products known to be dangerous to use.
Bruce Tillery, Las Vegas, NV	common sense
Jim Hare, Laughlin, NV	Show some heart.
Roxwell Hafdahl, Minden, NV	A sad commentary on lack of integrity in business. Anything for a buck.
Jonathan Allen, North Las Vegas, NV	Amazon and eBay need to remove the toxic-chemical laden products from their market places. This is a serious issue and should be fixed immediately!
	There are unrealistic beauty standards women face daily. No reasonable and sane store owner would allow such products to be sold to their customers at all.
	Jeff Bezos & Devin Wenig you should know better than to all such products in your stores! You need to clean the crap out of your stores immediately.
	Given the size of your companies, you two have an even greater responsibility toward being better stewards of the communities you impact. Or have you forgotten where you started from?
s m, Reno, NV	In this day and age, and with the problems with mercury so well known, I am surprised that any reputable outfit would have anything to do with products that contain it. If you were unaware, then now is the time to pull those products, stop selling them and inform customers why. That is the honorable thing to do.
Bill Macartney, Reno, NV	smarten up
Thelma Matlin, Reno, NV	People should be able to be sure the products they put on and into their bodies are safe and effective.
Maureen Mcelroy, Reno, NV	Please put what's ethial and right ahead of the all-mighty dollar! Come on, guys, you can do it. Pull those items from your inventory...
Patricia Plowden, Reno, NV	Please use your power to protect women.
Patricia Radosevich Coia, Reno, NV	Develop your social conscience!
Kevin Christensen, Sparks, NV	This should not happen in the name of humanity.
Kurstin Greenlund, Sparks, NV	The sale of these skin lightening products not only contributes to women not being empowered in their own skin but is also very harmful to their health! These products are not beneficial to women's mental or physical health and should not be sold.
Wendell Pou, Yerington, NV	Please stop products with known harmful effects; thank you!
Carol Saulsbury, Yerington, NV	Really? How incredibly stupid.

Fritz Eriksen, Zephyr Cove, NV	Protect people and the environment, not polluters and profits.
Susan Shaw, Accord, NY	I was surprised to find out that mercury containing skin creams were on the market in the United States. I thought they had been banned many years ago and that there would be no way to obtain them here. I think it is very important to close the internet loophole.
Sheryl Collins, Albany, NY	In this day & age anyone who reads should realize that toxic substances do not belong on or in our bodies. Please stop the sale of such products. If not for yourself then for mothers, children, grandparents, spouses, etc..Thank-you for your time in this matter.
Nancy Esmay, Albany, NY	Thank you!
Mike and Kathy Sherman, Alfred, NY	Accountability, No more excuses
David Grotke, Amherst, NY	Come on folks. Fix this.
Paul Johnson, Astoria, NY	Don't poison our citizens!
Therese Wilson, Aurora, NY	This is a slow-to-change cultural thing and if we don't ride the wave of wokeness on this topic we'll be missing a huge opportunity. Please do your (very large) part and stop participating in peoples' disfigurement & poisoning.
Christina Jureller, Baldwinsville, NY	Skin lightening products are an example of how white supremacy affects our everyday life. Not only do we need to get these products off our shelves for ethical reasons of a more just world, but the fact that these products contain poison is inexcusable. Please remove them from your site by 3rd party sellers immediately.
Susan Lison, Baldwinsville, NY	Would you want your daughter to use these????? Do the right thing!!!!
Michael Koscher, Bemus Point, NY	Come on Jeff. You are now the biggest retailer. Take the lead to rid our environment on junk! Also, take the lead on becoming the first environmental friendly retailer! eBay needs to do the same.
Kerianne Gibbs, Bethpage, NY	Thank you for your time & consideration with this very important issue!
Lorna Wells, Binghamton, NY	Please show that you care about the safety of your customers in this way and let them know it, as that would gain their appreciation.
Albert Bouchard, Blue Point, NY	This is just one problem with third party sellers but one of the most serious. I think you need to spend more energy scrutinizing your third party sellers before they can have the privilege of selling on AMAZON.
Julie Clark, Bridgeport, NY	Please keep harmful products from your marketplace. People, myself included, trust your companies to have a higher standard than most and hope you always consider the health and safety of your customers first. Thank you.
John Doepp, Bronx, NY	you guys are already richer than you probably ever imagined, so be responsible, don't think you'll miss the $.
Alisa Eilenberg, Bronx, NY	Help prevent disease caused by toxic exposure. Remove dangerous skin-lightening products now, please!
Michael Glendenning, Bronx, NY	It is stupefying to me to learn that there are products sold to consumers that contain dangerous elements, such as mercury. Overexposure to mercury has serious deleterious effect on the nervous system. Please discontinue the sale of these products.
Elinor King, Bronx, NY	Please don't contribute to the death of people of color. Thank you!!

Christina Regenhard, Bronx, NY	Not sure if I can trust Amazon and Ebay if you sell these products!
Virginia Valenti, Bronx, NY	You have got to take responsibility for safety when you are facing a proven danger. Don't you make enough money?
Rosanna Betances, Bronxville, NY	I don't want to be part of anything that has to do with hurting others therefore my business I won't go you companies that does not take action on this matter.
Helen Beichel, Brooklyn, NY	OMG - this is horrible.
Marilyn Berkon, Brooklyn, NY	Forget about greed for money through harmful business practices. Remember your respect, your concern for our very lives, including your own and your family's. Do not sell toxic products that endanger us in any way.
Olivia Brooks, Brooklyn, NY	I think your companies should be better than this. This is very disappointing to find that your companies are selling these products knowingly. I will have to think twice about buying products from these companies.
Jessica Champness, Brooklyn, NY	There is no reason to use toxic chemicals in this way, and it is such an easy way to reduce these substances in our environment!
Jennifer Egan, Brooklyn, NY	This is bad on every level--for humans, and for the planet. Please STOP!!!
Jean Gazis, Brooklyn, NY	I'm disgusted to know that this is occurring in 2019. Clean up your act now!
Jane Halsey, Brooklyn, NY	This is a no brainer. Do it. It's right.
Pat Henry, Brooklyn, NY	This is an opportunity to make a difference. Use your power and intelligence to send a message.
Susan Metz, Brooklyn, NY	darker white people and lighter African Americans....Go figure it!
Yevgenia N, Brooklyn, NY	Unfortunately, there are many more harmful products sold on Amazon and Ebay through third parties. It seems there is no control over it. Please take action to protect consumers from toxic junk sold on your sites!
Pippa Pearthree, Brooklyn, NY	Come on. Fix this.
Anika Pensiero, Brooklyn, NY	As one of the most powerful companies in the world, every small choice you make has rippling impacts. Please take this issue seriously and don't let people sell mercury for the skin on your site!
Renee Samuels, Brooklyn, NY	Stuff is really bad for people. Start thinking of peoples health instead of just the money .
Gabriele Schafer-Fracaro, Brooklyn, NY	BAD FOR SOCIETY. BAD FOR THE ENVIRONMENT.
Alice Shechter, Brooklyn, NY	People the world over are rising to look out for one another! I hope I am speaking for others when I ask you to join the campaign to do no harm in the pursuit of questionable beauty standards.
Istvan Szabo, Brooklyn, NY	Any product that contains toxic chemicals slowly poisoning the human body. The sale of these products must be stopped immediately!
carl tyndall, Brooklyn, NY	Why are you selling illegal things?
Hannah Vanderlan, Brooklyn, NY	Please take responsibility for the safely of your customers.
Gregory Vignapiano, Brooklyn, NY	How much money do you need Mr. Bezos?
Judith Wilson, Brooklyn, NY	People in the USA should have the same strict standards that protect Europeans. What is the reason for your company's blatant disregard for the health of people who want to use skin lightening products?
Barbara Juskiewicz, Buffalo, NY	Be responsible for the products sold through you. End the harm.

Jane Marinsky, Buffalo, NY	Put health before profits.
Katharine Tussing, Buffalo, NY	Mercury causes horrendous harm to people's brains and genetics.
Maureen Beyer, Cairo, NY	Please do this. Your reputation for customer service is impeccable. Be a company that also has a reputation for caring and looking out for your customers and the environment. Make a stand and grow in company loyalty. I promise your sales will increase...not decrease.
Deborah Dandrea, Canandaigua, NY	Why why why would you sell a product with a very poisonous substance in it I truly can't believe you're doing this here is a little insight my brother was exposed to mercury or lead when he was eight years old and crippled him he couldn't go to school The emergency bills the medication everything was out rages so take this into consideration while you're making money on a despicable item
Diane Voripaieff, Caneadea, NY	Mercury is a powerful toxic substance. Stop the use of Mercury in cosmetics
Carolyn Gammerman, Centerport, NY	Okay business people, get smart and start protecting your customers or you will lose their business!!!
Nancy Waasdorp, Chautauqua, NY	Do the right thing! PLEASE!
Karin Sachs, Chestnut Ridge, NY	It mystifies me that your organization would sell toxic products. Don't you make enough money that you don't have to poison people?
Diana Leis Delker, Clifton Park, NY	I'm prepared to boycott your companies if action is not taken--and I have many products from both.
Wendy Fast, Dansville, NY	Keep the toxins from Europeans, but give them to Americans? Sure establishes trust, doesn't it?
Marianne Mukai, Delhi, NY	As a long-time customer of both sites I would not want to unwittingly buy something that has serious personal and environmental health consequences, and I would not want anyone else to be so unfortunate either. Please stop these products from being sold!
Hazel Landa, Delmar, NY	People must be protected from unsafe ingredients.
Marsha Smith, Dryden, NY	"Beauty" products should certainly do no harm! Please stop the sale of dangerous products!
Susie Rakowski, East Hampton, NY	Why are you permitting these products to be sold?
Joe Dillman, Elbridge, NY	If this is really happening- How can you live with this knowledge?
Maude Rith, Etna, NY	Stop selling mercury in any product except thermometers.
Elise Tooley, Evans Mills, NY	This should STOP IMMEDIATELY!
Janice Falkner, Fairport, NY	If you, yourself wouldn't use this product, DON'T SELL IT!
Pamela Zurawik, Fishkill, NY	The products bring to mind the old Victorian era demand for pale skin and women died from arsenic poisoning from tainted beauty creams. Is that how you wish have customers and media think of the amazing companies that have been built?
Beth Birnbaum, Flushing, NY	Poisoning people is never good. Profiting from it is a crime against humanity.
Nina Lockwood, Fort Edward, NY	Please demonstrate that you want to be leaders who are conscious of the effects of their actions as well as their products and want to make the world a better, safer and healthier world.
Al Sarnacki, Frankfort, NY	Just do it.
Roberta Clements, Gardiner, NY	You have made enough money to now do the right thing. You can sell healthy products and support righteous causes with no effect on your standard of living.

Jk Kibler, Ghent, NY	Please consider more than your profits when making business decisions.
Scott Clark, Greene, NY	This is a really sickening and totally manipulative marketing tank job of a really stupid paranoia.
Fank Barry, Groton, NY	Frank Barry
Steven Goldstein, Hicksville, NY	This shouldn't even be an issue. The toxicity of mercury is well known. Do the right thing, set an example and stop selling these products.
Vesa Kaakkuriniemi, Holtsville, NY	Stop selling toxins for skin!
Cathleen Billiski, Honeoye, NY	Companies need to start caring about people and I always remember who does what! The only thing to do is the right thing
Heidi Huizenga, Houghton, NY	We can't get back last species and lost health or time. Please take action now to protect wildlife and human health before it's too late. Thank you!
Michele Firpo, Irvington, NY	You've got enough money.
Dianne Ferriss, Ithaca, NY	Thanks for doing the right thing and removing these harmful products from your sites.
Alice Grow, Ithaca, NY	Please take this very seriously. This products are extremely toxic.
Donald W. Henderson, Ithaca, NY	If these reports are true -- these products should be discontinued, immediately.
Thomas Hohn, Ithaca, NY	Lock Bozo up!
Roberta Kohut, Ithaca, NY	It is important to me that our government stand up for better health and safe products for all people in this country. In that process we should all be moving toward a better environment globally, too.
Sandra Stein, Ithaca, NY	It's very sad that people with dark skin want to lighten their skin, especially after Toni Morrison's novel 'The Bluest Eye'.
Elizabeth S. MtPleasant, Jamesville, NY	Stop toxic merchandising
Jahnn Gibson, Johnstown, NY	White folk lay in the sun to get darker, thus being exposed to melanoma-causing ultraviolet rays, and black folk use poison products to get lighter. The world is a strange place. What we need is a world that is unbiased towards the color of one's skin. Actually, in the summer, I am darker than a lot of black folk.
Gerry Curran, Katonah, NY	please
Monique Clague, Keene, NY	Amazon- be an honorable company. You make so much you can afford it even if you don't have a conscience.
Gary Schulenberg, Kenmore, NY	Do no harm.
Adam Kaplan, Kingston, NY	Colorism is a form of racism. PLEASE DO NOT FEED INTO IT by selling skin-lightening creams.
DAVID MONDEJAR, Kingston, NY	THIS IS 'GREED' BEFORE LIFE; JUST LIKE - HOW MANY HUMAN BEINGS MUST DIE BEFORE AMERICA'S 'mILITARY INDUSTRIAL COMPLEX/ & N.R.A.? !? WILL BE SATISFIED WITH THEIR- [MURDER FOR PROFIT/GREED FOR MONETARY PROFITS] ?
Paul Ginnetti, Lackawanna, NY	Mercury is a poison! Enough said.
Dorothy Sterlace, Lackawanna, NY	Have better control of toxic items sold on your web sites. They poison our environment when they are discarded.
John Rath, Lancaster, NY	I would rather use no products than use your mercury infused products.
Mary Lou Bailey-Smith, Lansing,	DO YOUR JOB!!!

NY
Tom Calderone, Levittown, NY	And shut down your Amazon sweatshops you criminal against humanity.
Diane Kraft, Lewiston, NY	Your companies need to be stewards for public safety and oversee what is sold on your sites.
Amy Posner, Lido Beach, NY	With all your companies' selling power, please be good to your customers and the planet by not poisoning us or the planet.
Roman Avila, Locust Valley, NY	No more toxic businesses!
Kathryn Panaro, Lynbrook, NY	EVERYONE IS RELATED. SOMEHOW PLEASE DON'T HURT INNOCENT PEOPLE!!!!!! HAVE A HEART!!!!!!!!!!
Liz Palladino, Malverne, NY	Please stop adding to the already unnecessary bombardment of detrimental products on the market and be a leader in the industry that takes a stand to protect its people. There is money to be made where safety and caring about the public will better serve the world.
Allison May, Mamaroneck, NY	Please consider doing this sooner rather than later. Mercury poisoning is unacceptable in this day and age. Please remove these skin lightening products with mercury and ensure that there are safeguards against suppliers selling these on your site again. Thank you!!
Linda Lenhardt, Marietta, NY	Mercury based skin creams?! Everyone knows mercury is toxic.
Keri Gibbs, Massapequa, NY	Thank you for time & consideration to this very important matter!!
Jerald Vinikoff, Mechanicville, NY	How do you justify knowingly peddling poison to people? Do you love money that much? What else do you offer that is dangerous? How can we shoppers tell? Will you ever tell us? Have you any scruples at all?
Donald Quarles IV, Montgomery, NY	Do the right thing.
Lisa Zimmerman, Nassau, NY	It's despicable to sell any products laden with mercury!
Amelia Crumm, New Hampton, NY	Absolutely stop selling harmful product! Especially those that harm and t Estes on animals!
Edith Alston, New York, NY	It's time to pay attention to what we inflict on the world as much as the many deluded ways we think we can make life easier.
Haley Ballard, New York, NY	Haley Ballard
Mary Bautista, New York, NY	I refuse to buy from you until there are stronger consumer safeguards.
Marjorie Berk, New York, NY	I hope you realize how dangerous these products are! Are the profits from them worth it?
Nicholas Blair, New York, NY	Environment first. Please do theRight thing Nicholas Blair
Irene Christopher, New York, NY	Heavy metal poisoning is painful. It damages the Kidneys, Liver and Brain. Pictures of Brains from Miners with Mercury poisoning are available for you to see that this isn't some alternative idea!
Perri Gaffney, New York, NY	You don't make the products, but selling them makes you as guilty (if not more so) because you make it available to the ignorant and/or arrogant who buy and use these toxic products. PLEASE STOP AIDING & ABETTING THIS CRIME AGAINST THE ENVIRONMENT!
Aurora Garcia-Tunon, New York, NY	Stop selling toxic skin creams!!

Paula Grande, New York, NY	I see these for sale all over Asia when I travel there, and now in the United States. Women are unaware of how poisonous these products are. You need to take the initiative to protect people from toxic products.
Joan Gregory, New York, NY	You have liability.
Susan Hilty, New York, NY	You CAN make this world a better place!
Alix Keast, New York, NY	Not only is this illegal, it's also totally disappointing that you sell these products.
Dermott Kehoe, New York, NY	Stop selling these harmful products. It makes me very suspicious of purchasing any of your products if you are so careless in protecting your customers well being.
Claudia Lajtar, New York, NY	In a world where you hold so much power, please do your part in making a positive change which will reflect on billions of people.
K Laurence, New York, NY	These are terrible, dangerous, potentially truly harmful products. They shouldn't be promoted or sold.
Jane McMahan, New York, NY	There is no need for these retrograde products. Let's change the thinking that pushes them!
Jade Monahan, New York, NY	Mercury is a highly toxic substance. Many skin-lightening products containing mercury at extremely high levels, are currently being sold on your platforms. These dangerous products must be banned using enforceable methods.
Jane Mushabac, New York, NY	We're pushing companies to protect the health and safety of consumers. That's not just a high moral imperative, but a financial imperative. Companies need to stop focusing entirely on quarterly profits. Prosperity is a long-range goal, and the business sector needs to think long term, and that means not harming the American public, not damaging the planet, but waking up to health and safety concerns and acting forcefully to protect those concerns.
Sr. Mary Ellen Oboyle, New York, NY	We want to admire the beauty of all natural skin color and hope that companies will focus on healthy skin products and not be racist and harmful at the same time.
Sylvia Rodriguez, New York, NY	Do the right, humane thing and stop profiting from cruelty.
Gloria Rosenberg, New York, NY	Be responsible. Do not promote harmful substances.
Mechthild Schmidt Feist, New York, NY	add to that microplastics - we need to take care of our and the earth's health - and AMAZON + EBAY are in a position to make SUCH A DIFFERENCE. Thank you!
Ann Seligman, New York, NY	As an Amazon customer & shareholder, I want products sold there to be safe, especially for those who may not be the most sophisticated buyers. Thanks!
Supporter Unknown, New York, NY	Our grand children need earth to survive.
Valerie Van Isler, New York, NY	Stop selling racism in your markets.
Jenny Walker, New York, NY	As a physician, public health advocate, teacher and female, I can find no ethical or necessary reason to justify continuing your policies of poisoning your customers.
Addie Wat, New York, NY	It is so hard to accept that these companies still wish to continue this abusive idea of lighter is better and that it is okay to poison people of color.
Karen Winslow, New York, NY	As business that lead and set trends in the marketplace, Amazon and Ebay can take the lead in this arena and do the right thing. Where the FDA at this moment has failed to control the production and sale of these types of skin lightening products without seeing fit to putting any putting regulations in place, your customers could look up to you for setting ethical standards that would garner you another level of consumer confidence and loyalty. Please follow through on these requests to remove these mercury-based skin creams and safeguard your customers..

Jacqueline Bedford, Niskayuna, NY	I miss the sun ... & my tan from ?down under? :(
Barbara Federman, North Babylon, NY	If it is known that this products are dangerous why is eBay putting them up for sale?
Linda Jackson, North Syracuse, NY	Our recycling center has special days for collecting Toxic hazardous products containing mercury. It should never be included in so called cosmetic products.
Mary Troland, Oceanside, NY	Keep toxic chemicals off people's skin.
Katherine Cronn, Oneida, NY	You are endangering the health of innocent people.
Maria Ciancio, Ossining, NY	It's inhumane!,
Ken Bradstreet, Palmyra, NY	MR BEZOS AND MR WENIG, Any Mercury laden products present health risks. Knowing illegal mercury-laden skin lightening products are part of your selling inventory makes both of you and your companies accomplices distributing illegal products ENDANGERING THE HEALTH OF BUYERS. I expected you to know better. SHAME!
Nanci Deleo, Penfield, NY	Being an Amazon customer, I ask with all my heart that you will do the right thing...it's not like you need these two products to survive...I will keep a lookout and if not rectified I will shop elsewhere. It's time to change our ways and when we have the information, not to harm others.
Mary Jane Delmastro, Penfield, NY	Mercury is a neurotoxin! Stop this insanity!
Elizabeth Maloney, Pine City, NY	These matters affect all of us one way or another.
Kathleen Corby, Pine Plains, NY	This is toxic! Sadly, colorism remains pervasive in this country, leading many women of color to buy skin-lightening products on Amazon and eBay. In so doing, they unwittingly exposing themselves to toxic substances such as mercury, sometimes at thousands of times the legal limit.
Laura Collier, Plattsburgh, NY	I am amazed to hear this is happening, and shocked that Amazon would promote such a product. Selling these products should cease immediately!
Cornelia Marsh, Plattsburgh, NY	Two giants in the world of commerce need to take this giant action step to keep faith with consumers. I, for one, am rethinking my subscription to the Washington Post which Mr. Bezos also owns.
Karen Plew, Pleasant Valley, NY	Let's encourage people to celebrate the skin color God graced them with ;-)
Glenda Liling, Port Chester, NY	I would not want to use products with mercury in it. Stop selling them online and get all natural products instead for skin care.
Susan Gati, Port Jefferson, NY	People and companies should just stop doing "stupid stuff" and just concentrate on acting responsibly, properly, and humanely!
David Randall, Port Jefferson, NY	How dare you let greed get in the way of good judgement and safety!
Jane Lalone, Poughkeepsie, NY	Stop selling harmful products to people....use a good conscience about sales being made!!!!
Robert Auger, Poughquag, NY	Illegal and toxic products should be removed from the market place. These products will make people sick.

Christy Hughes, Ravena, NY	We are watching...
Christine Caredda, Rego Park, NY	No toxic products in our bodies, on our skin. It damages everything: our air, our water and our future ...
Darlene Benzon, Rochester, NY	Stop poisoning people.
Brenda Campbell, Rochester, NY	People should not be exposed to products that will damage them when there are options! Please stop selling these items before more people are affected.
Janet Matthews, Rockville Centre, NY	I write as a parent, early childhood educator and advocate, and person of faith.
Allan Kronzek, Sag Harbor, NY	This is important. These products are toxic. It's science. Do something.
Susan Wald, Sag Harbor, NY	Mercury is a well-known carcinogen linked with dementia. Please stop selling it as a health and beauty product!
Wally Elton, Saratoga Springs, NY	Being profitable for you is not sufficient reason to push illegal and dangerous products.
S Malikow, Saratoga Springs, NY	This is a quality of life issue.
Briana Soss, Saratoga Springs, NY	Please do your part to take harmful products off the market!
Elinor Nosker, Saugerties, NY	Safe products are healthy. Please consider the ingredients of the products that you sell.
Lori Simpson, Schenectady, NY	how unbelievably cruel you are to allow the sale of such toxic products - greed gone too far!
Eleanor Stromberg, Schenectady, NY	I have a hard time believing these creams are still on the market!
Danielle Bolander, Shirley, NY	I am a regular customer and this is an important issue to me.
Madeleine Gamache, Shoreham, NY	Please be first in your industry to boycott the selling / shipment of dangerous mercury based skin creamers and other products with harmful ingredients. How much more money can businesses make in the name of total lack of consideration of health and safety? Step up and be one of the good guys.
GASPER A MARRONE, Staten Island, NY	STOP SELLING MERCURY LADEN PRODUCTS
Toni Ann Pabon, Staten Island, NY	Cancer kills!!!!
Christine Sheahan, Staten Island, NY	Why are you selling poison? Do you know how toxic mercury is? Would you give it to your mother, sister, daughter or wife?
Emily Oaks, Sterling, NY	Mercury is so dangerous, to everyone and including especially young people whose brains are still growing and can be adversely affected.
Jean Naples, Suffern, NY	As a female family physician and public health advocate, I strongly support this petition.
Christina Castle, Syracuse, NY	Conduct your business with dignity please
Jane Feld, Syracuse, NY	Shame on sellers of these products.
Patricia C. Schwarzlander, Syracuse, NY	Remove harmful products from your line of products. Would you, yourself, or your family use these products? If you say NO then take action to remove them.!
Laurie Walker, Syracuse, NY	Businesses such as yours need to take the lead on matters such as these - do the right thing.
Kevin Kilner, Tappan, NY	Mercury?! Really?!
Carol Miller, Troy, NY	I agree with all in the letter. Thank you
Renee Purse, Waccabuc, NY	I am a customer.

Linda Byrd, Walworth, NY	No one should put to send on their bodies.
Beth Jane Freeman, Wantagh, NY	Do not allow these harmful cosmetics to be sold through amazon and eBay.
Joe And Leslie Hinterberger, Watkins Glen, NY	Step up and make changes that protect people!
Rob Stein, West Hurley, NY	Increasingly, in this time of mass communication: do the right thing- gain more business.
Marianne Dietrich, White Plains, NY	As a physician I am particularly alarmed about this issue.
Karen Viola, White Plains, NY	Please take action and use the power you have to do the right thing by stopping very wrong things such as these toxic products.
Mark Gorsetman, Whitestone, NY	Thank you for your consideration.
David Marcus, Williamsville, NY	I look to Amazon for leadership on environmental and social issues. Let's place social consciousness over profit on this issue. Thank you!
Eve Scherr, Woodside, NY	I heard that other dangerous products remain on your website, even after you yourself have taken them down. I heard a podcast about you and the coffeepot I think it was, and I think toys.
Kirsten Andersen, Yonkers, NY	Stop poisoning people!
Linda Curtis, Yorktown Heights, NY	By selling such products are you telling consumers they should want to change their skin color?
Lyn Bober, Akron, OH	I shop & support you every day and urge you to sell safe products!
Gina Bates, Apple Creek, OH	STOP ALLOWING THE SALE OF SKIN PRODUCTS CONTAINING LEAD!
Heidi Sellards, Bedford, OH	It is reprehensible to sell mercury laden products on your site. Also, it's terrible to be feeding into the disgusting beauty standards that tell women they will only be beautiful if they lighten their skin. Make a stand for health and for women.
Greg Gregg, Berlin Heights, OH	Why poison people for profits when it really is not needed.????
Tim Hartman, Blacklick, OH	I worry about my kids
Nancy Matsko, Broadview Heights, OH	Don't put people in Jeopardy!! Stop selling these Offensive and Dangerous products!! I'm already greatly limiting My purchases from Amazon based on Your other questionable tactics, ie. Not paying taxes!! I think it's probably time to give up Amazon altogether. Do the Right Thing!!
Carol Lanigan, Brookpark, OH	Come-on.
Lydia Bohm, Burton, OH	As both an Amazon and eBay customer, I am not unsure of the safety of the full range of products I pay on both sides. If there are products containing mercury for sale then are the products I purchase "contaminated" with poisons as well? I will certainly change the items I purchase on both Amazon and eBay.
Kent University, Burton, OH	Mercury is ALWAYS harmful, to and living species.
Deborah Continenza, Chardon, OH	Please stop selling mercury laden skin products! I have stopped purchasing all skin and hair care products from you because of experiences I have had when it was obvious I received a counterfeit product. For the good of your customers (and your business) I urge you to completely vet all of your suppliers.
Margaret Friel, Chardon, OH	Please remove this cream, it is harming people, we love women and girls of all Cultures!
J Boothby, Cincinnati, OH	Please stop poisoning our products
Pam Pendleton, Cincinnati, OH	Quit promoting poisonous substances!

Judith Bifro, Cleveland, OH	Customers trust the people we buy from believing that the products their selling are safe to use and contain non toxic ingredients.
Veronica Carter, Cleveland, OH	Your decision to discontinue these sales is not only the right thing to do but sends a profound message about race, color, caste, and class. Do the right thing.
Beth Eppell, Cleveland, OH	Please stop encouraging pale faced earthlings to denigrate our beautiful colored skinned human planet mates. Don't put profits from toxic selling skin lightening products!
Sandra Gleason, Cleveland, OH	I shall NOT use your product and will spread he word why.
Ursula Korneitchouk, Cleveland, OH	Have you no conscience?
Judy Charlick, Cleveland Heights, OH	So many ingredients in manufactured products are harmful! When science determines they are, they MUST be taken off the market.
Marjorie Moon, Cleveland Heights, OH	At the very least, please add strong warning notes. Amazon has removed other hazardous, dangerous products in the past. Please step up now by acting responsibly.
Aylin Baughman, Columbus, OH	Mercury was removed from thermometers years ago for a reason. Why are these companies allowed to have mercury in their skin care products? Ban them from your sites immediately to prevent more harm to unsuspecting people. Even if the company uses "proprietary blend" as a way of not disclosing all the ingredients, you can still ask if mercury is a component in order to assess the safety of the product for the consumers.
Janice Bourke, Columbus, OH	How is promoting these products any different than the crimes cigarette manufacturers perpetrated? Please, do the right thing and stop selling these products.
Susan Carter, Columbus, OH	As Amazon shareholders, we're debating whether we can keep our shares given Amazon's failure to monitor sales of products such as this. As importantly, we're concerned about Amazon's refusing to pay workers a decent wage and provide decent working conditions. Look at the Coalition of Immokalee Workers' Code of Conduct for a beginning guide to what constitutes "decent working conditions" and, especially, how the Fair Food Standards Council ensures workers can complain and expect valid complaints to be resolved promptly and without penalty.
Jo-Anne Harris, Columbus, OH	Wow, mercury poisoning. Really? Surely you will withdraw these products immediately now that you're aware.
Bridget McKeon, Columbus, OH	This should be a no-brainer for you. Please stop forthwith.
Richard Stevenson, Columbus, OH	I am an Amazon Prime member, and I regularly place orders. I'm also an analytical chemist. Mercury is no joke -- it persists in the body for life.
Hermine Willey, Columbus, OH	Mercury-laden skin lightening product are poisonous products. Allowing them to be sold under the Amazon and E-bay name is a crime. It leaves to believe you sell poison for profit.
Carol Benedict, Cuyahoga Falls, OH	Trust me ...I am 70 yrs old....this product will not work.....only thing that works is moisturize starting at 25.....stay out of sun. Stop selling this product
Rebecca Sawyer, Cuyahoga Falls, OH	Aren't you rich enough. Stop harming for profit.
Andrea Billingsley, Dayton, OH	The fact that you pander these poisonous creams on your websites dismays and disgusts me.
Brucken Wilkens, Dayton, OH	Not legal, not safe, and very racist.
Alexander Heingartner, Delaware,	This is terrible - I had no idea.

OH
Lisa Leech, Delaware, OH	Omg! I expect beauty products to be safe when ordering from Amazon. I bought a skin lightening product last month from Amazon. It really startled me when I read about products containing mercury. I don't want to get sick or die because of them! I hope you do the right thing Amazon and remove these products immediately!
Doug Rice, Diamond, OH	Please protect your customers from companies who don't care or only care about their profits we're counting on you
Michael Shaver, Elyria, OH	We have enough problems in the world today. We don't need to be dealing with nonsense like this. You need to remove toxic items immediately. Thank you.
	Michael Shaver
Pamela Foley Simmons, Euclid, OH	Stop the madness
Don McKelvey, Euclid, OH	This is a no-brainer !
Vicky Locke, Fairfield, OH	Stop pushing poisons in the guise of pursuit of false "beauty"!
Renate And Jack Pealer, Fairfield Township, OH	Amazon and E-Bay are wonderful and useful websites. But, selling dangerous mercury laden products is not wonderful. Please do not put people's heads;th, nd perhaps lives, in danger by continuing to see these products. Thank you.
Nicole Pickens, Flat Rock, OH	As a person of faith who values all the diversity of humanity, I am concerned that your company sells toxic mercury-based skin lightening products. Health and safety need to come before profits. Furthermore, selling skin lightening products tacitly endorses the racist idea that white people are better than those whose skin is another color. Please act in the best interests of your customers and remove these harmful skin lightening products from your marketplace.
James Fails, Fremont, OH	Mercury is a nerve poison.
Gail Lowe, Gahanna, OH	Please remove these toxic products from your websites!
Patricia Urban, Gambier, OH	Mercury is a poison. Don't sell so-called beauty products that contain it.
Mary Anne Miletic, Germantown, OH	Get smart!
Iris Meltzer, Kent, OH	No one needs to lighten their skin--ever.
Janet Lawson, Kettering, OH	As such a LARGE corporation your behavior has an impact - for good or for bad Choose to be a good influence on the world.
Lee & Alice Fritts, Kingsville, OH	Consumers presume that all products sold by Amazon or on eBay to be safe.
Teri Buvala, Lancaster, OH	Mercury is poison! Stop poisoning your customers! If you didn't know this before, you know it now!
Chris White, Lewis Center, OH	why do large companies have to be threatened to do the right thing
John Hansen, Lexington, OH	Amazon and eBay must be proactive about ensuring third-party sellers follow appropriate laws and that their products aren't harmful to consumers.
Barbara Stegun, Lodi, OH	think of what damage you are doing...don't destroy...create
Ronald Downer, Loveland, OH	I this day an age, ethical companies must set an example. Thank you.
Judi Cunningham, Lyndhurst, OH	What's wrong with you?! It's illegal because it's unsafe. It's also unwise to open up to liability lawsuits.

Phillip Lawrence, Massillon, OH	Are you insane or just evil?
Heather Horne, Medina, OH	Please be more socially responsible. It is becoming overwhelmingly disgusting to me the lack of concern and respect for others versus making a dollar. We need to do better.
Lee Ann Schmid, Medina, OH	This is a matter of common sense, plain and simply. Don't sell poison.
Al Skrabski, Mentor, OH	Why in the world would you sell products including illegal Mercury? Greed is why!! STOP IT!!
Sheri Stonebrook, Millersburg, OH	This is criminal. You are allowing people to be poisoned, all so you can make money.
Cynthia Maruna, New Franklin, OH	Stop selling mercury laden lightening products that target people of color!
Yvonne Schroll, Newton Falls, OH	Please do the right thing!
Linda Williams, Norwalk, OH	You should not sell any illegal or toxic products in any products. People buy things assuming they are safe. Please make sure your products are safe.
Mary Duerksen, Oxford, OH	Please recognize that the profit you make on these products is not worth the hazard they present to consumers health.
Patricia Stevenson, Oxford, OH	Stop selling toxic skin care products!
Constance Minerovic, Painesville, OH	Think about this! Poisoned customers will not be able to buy any products!
Ariel Faye, Parma, OH	Duh!
Vanessa McDaniel, Powell, OH	I know money is money. But responsibility for your fellow humans is more important.
Mary Nitecki, Republic, OH	Are you still living in Victorian times and the early 20th century? Mercury is a deadly toxin. But I know; money is god. Can't let anything interfere with profit, especially poor people, minorities.
Don Tome, Rocky River, OH	I'm an Ebay Seller and feels these products should be on the Banned List
Mike Singerman, Shaker Hts, OH	I believe folks expect safe products under your label. Don't disappoint.
Mary Webb, Springboro, OH	Please stop selling toxic skin lightener products. They are not good for our environment, and not good for the people using them.
Stephen Bartos, Struthers, OH	Quit selling these products !!!
Lorna Hurd, Tallmadge, OH	This is dangerous to your customers ? just for profit.
Amy Hutchinson, Tipp City, OH	Why aren't the same protections provided to all customers in all countries?
Tom & Sara Grimm, Wadsworth, OH	It shouldn't hurt tour bottom line to sell versions without the horrible side effects!
BJ Searcy, Westerville, OH	I am a huge fan of eBay and use it to buy and sell. I also may purchases from Amazon. Please take steps to stop these toxic--both physically and psychologically--products.
Roberta Paul, Westlake, OH	This is awful! Stop selling these products!
Matthew Wenham, Westlake, OH	Stop selling hazardous products!
Oliver Bushong, Wooster, OH	Please stop perpetrating this false standard of beauty laden in systematic racism. Everyone is aware corporates don't care about ethics, so think about it from a monetary stand-point, as you're all so clearly fond of doing: Change peoples mind about big corporations. Make them think different. Show that you actually care about the effect you have on people's physical and mental wellbeing and make your mark as an ethical, responsible company. We're so tired of seeing our planet and our communities destroyed by careless, privileged people in power that do not live and breath the struggles of those they manipulate. Try and understand your consumers at the most fundamental level and your corporate will be not only profitable, but legendary in setting a new precedent for capitalism.

Kent Giese, Wooster, OH	Gender equity issues are the most important issues for environmental protections -- and the beauty industry is one that women are most vulnerable to. Please take action immediately to protect the health and welfare and pocketbooks of women and girls!
Nancy Yoder, Wooster, OH	Don't put profit before people's health and safety.
Laurine Crowther, Worthington, OH	Please do the right thing!
Christine Rohde, Youngstown, OH	Stop this!
Robin Patten, Del City, OK	Please help.
Aileen Novess, Edmond, OK	Just good corporate policy to not be a venue for dangerous products.
Hayley Dikeman, Haskell, OK	Hayley dikeman
Katelynn McGriff, Hugo, OK	It is not fair to allow people to buy products uninformed about potential dangers to themselves and those they love. The people should be aware of these things just as much as any other potential danger like with weed killer.
Anne Parrett, Jones, OK	I think it is scary that these products are being sold and used!
Silva Presler, Miami, OK	We face all sorts of dangers in our daily lives. Having advertisers omit the important information about harmful ingredients or illegal ingredients in our beauty products shows nothing but greed!
Nathaniel X Vance, Muskogee, OK	2020-2025 or else!~
Avril Cowo, Oklahoma City, OK	Treat others how you want to be treated, please. No one wants products that are more harmful than useful. If you enforce safety precautions, people's health would be spared.
Suzanne Edmondson, Oklahoma City, OK	Our skin creams should not harm us.
Carolyn Lea, Oklahoma City, OK	I am a long term Amazon customer and I support this petition.
Dianne Varga, Oklahoma City, OK	Do we really need to ask? Why do we need to ask you to stop selling skin lightening products? Why haven't you done this already -- out of love for the health and beauty of women of colour? Get with the program.
Diane Allen, Tulsa, OK	Be leaders! Do not sell products that are harming our environment and your customers! Take a stand against all harmful products. Be courageous! Be LEADERS!
Jamee Markert, Tulsa, OK	Be a good corporate citizen and do the right thing! Consumers trust your company to shield them from "clear and present" danger!
Erik Christy, Alsea, OR	There are two problems here. The first is the physically dangerous sail of products containing harmful mercury as an ingredient. The second is to do so in supporting and the encouragement of supporting racial bias toward white skin color. Neither of these practices should be part of the use of harmful ingredients to accomplish questionable goals, and I ask that both Ebay and Amazon discontinue both.
Juraj Bobok, Amity, OR	Be Human mean s, be helpin to Nature

Nancy Anderson, Ashland, OR	We must do everything we can do to keep toxic substances out of our environment.
Janet Bell, Ashland, OR	If we know it's toxic and still sell it, then we are part of the cause of people's dis ease and dying. We are all connected.
Catherine Cortelyou, Ashland, OR	It's likely you've been unaware that you're selling poison to customers. But now the Sierra Club is bringing this matter to your attention, and I urge you in the strongest possible terms to withdraw these products from the market immediately and ensure that your firms never again become conduits for illegal sales of harmful substances. Your firms perform important services for people, and must be trustworthy. Thank you.
Rita Heinz, Ashland, OR	It's outrageous that you stand back and do nothing about this!
Diane Paulson, Ashland, OR	Please do the right thing!
Ashley Rosen, Ashland, OR	Mercury is very dangerous, those products containing it must be ban
Marianne Strong, Ashland, OR	Mr. Bezos, you've done so many amazing things. Add this kindness to our people of color and remove these dangerous mercury filled products from your shelves.
Kenneth Adee, Astoria, OR	You are better than this, and WE deserve better!
Shelley Fox-Loken, Baker City, OR	Actually, Please stop selling ANY products that are toxic. You know better.
Lois Grable, Bandon, OR	How can you endanger people's lives to make a few more dollars? How can you sleep at night? How can you look at yourself in the morning mirror??
Kathleen Peterson, Bandon, OR	Enough!
Gary Nelson, Beaver Creek, OR	Do the right thing! Stop selling toxic products.
Jennifer Duquette, Beaverton, OR	Please don't enable illegal dangerous products to be sold on your sites. People count on you to be ethical in what you sell and promote.
Lynette Fannon-Lamkin, Beaverton, OR	If you can do this in Europe, please consider your fellow cirizens (and Prime customers like myself) and stop selling these poisons everywhere.
Lynn Gruss, Beaverton, OR	If lead isn't allowed in our home paint or water, why would we want it on our (many people are unaware) skin.
MaryAnn Ippolito, Beaverton, OR	It's been all about the money and greed. Well, we are done with that! Find your compassion and integrity vibes and do what's best for humanity including animals and Mother Earth.
Nancy Johnson, Beaverton, OR	a CHANGE AND EMPHASIS ON HEALTH, NOT PROMOTING EGO,, DANGEROUS PRODUCTS
Mike Reed, Bend, OR	Would you let your children use this product?
Valerie White, Bend, OR	Absolutely disgusting to knowingly market toxic skin products. Remove these from all shelves and all markets worldwide. One thing the world doesn't need is any more toxicity. We have enough without this stuff!!
Gertrude Turley, Boring, OR	Do you realize how toxic mercury is-that can't do some serious damage to the brain,as well as other organs in your body, You can dye from that. Please educate yourself and please don't sell that product
Krislyn Dillard, Brookings, OR	What's wrong with you that you need to be told this is wrong?
Julia Spilker, Canby, OR	This should be a no-brainer. Seriously.
Bob Smith, Coos Bay, OR	stop mercury !!! Bob
Mary Schaffler, Coquille, OR	I am both am eBay and Prime customer and credit card holder.

	REMOVE these now!
Mark Allison, Corvallis, OR	Do the right thing. Don't dig in your heels, Jeff, and make us sue you. Put some limits on your obscene and dangerous anti-social greed. Immediately remove these poisons from your shelves.
Tracy Mackenzie, Corvallis, OR	I as a consumer should not have to worry about being poisoned
Carol Soth, Corvallis, OR	It's the humane thing to do!
Jeanne Lubber, Dallas, OR	All skin care products whether to lighten skin or for make up purposes need to be chemical free. Jeanne Lubber
Deborah Pedersen, Damascus, OR	Amazon and EBay- STOP selling poison skin lightening products! These are very harmful!!!
Scott Van Den Akker, Damascus, OR	Mercury is a very toxic and poisonous and shouldn't be used as a beauty aid. You are in a tremendous position to reduce its use. Please do not sell.
Laurie Doscher, Elmira, OR	Help protect consumers!
Shari Peterson, Estacada, OR	Please do what's right!
Kathryn Anne, Eugene, OR	Consider yourselves part of causing serious health problems for women. Don't take yourselves out of the equation. If you make it easy to buy these products your are as quility as those who manufacture them. Money is not the answer to everything. Let kindness and compassion be part of your bottom line, too!
Patricia Baker, Eugene, OR	Stop these racist activities now!
Edith Barth, Eugene, OR	We are all human. No race should feel inferior to any other.
Lily Brunner, Eugene, OR	The numbers don't lie. You have a big public health issue that should be addressed. It's far too big a concern to ignore. We're all human- act like it. Don't allow poison to be sold through your website, third party or otherwise. It's wrong, plain and simple.
John Harrington, Eugene, OR	MERCURY! REALLY?? Obviously you weren't aware of this or you wouldn't have allowed this to happen. Please stop this practice. THANK YOU Folks! JOHN HARRINGTON
Don Hildenbrand, Eugene, OR	Not good. Stop it, please
Gwen Jaspers, Eugene, OR	I am horrified. Is this really true? I can't believe anyone would sell such products. Please get with the 21st century and stop disseminating these polluting products immediately!
Mark Peabody, Eugene, OR	Please be a responsible billionaire and reduce your profits by an infinitesimal amount and remove toxic skin lightening products from your inventory.
Francis Roberts, Eugene, OR	Come on! Y'all already have tons of money and influence, just do what's needed so that brainwashed women don't inadvertently poison themselves to death.
Lidona Wagner, Eugene, OR	Your commitment needs to be to your consumers health, not your shareholders pocketbooks.
Andrea Wyckoff, Eugene, OR	It is unconscionable that such dangerous products continue on your shelves, and that you turn a blind eye to removing them. This is not your only offense in the name of your precious "bottom line", but it is so far the most egregious. In the meantime, neither of you will be receiving any business from me, or anyone in my household. Please clean up your operation and stop stocking these harmful products.
Lary Mckee, Gervais, OR	I absolutely agree do not sell illegal mercury-laden skin lightening products! These are extremely dangerous!! I am personally asking you, Amazon CEO Jeff Bezos and eBay CEO Devin Wenig NOT

	TO SELL THESE SKIN LIGHTENING PRODUCTS ON YOUR WEBSITES!!!
Karen Helgesen, Gold Beach, OR	Anyone that has had skin conditions is PREY to these harmful cures. People need protection from these bogus products. Please listen to these warnings from Sierra Club!
S Conrad, Grants Pass, OR	Please, consider your responsibilities
Deborah Dunn, Grants Pass, OR	I'm a white woman. I don't understand why these products are legal and putting our fellow earthlings at risk, let alone the pollutants expelled to create them, point blank period.
Beverly Eckman-Howell, Grants Pass, OR	We have too many toxins; stop this one.
Karen Hicks, Happy Valley, OR	Online retailers must take responsibility for the products they sell on their sites. Buyers should not have to take products to independent analysis labs before they can use these products. If you don't know for sure they are safe to use, you shouldn't be offering them for sale.
Greg Varela, Hillsboro, OR	Im not asking you...Im demanding you bring forth your conscience on this matter concerning the health of other human beings. Otherwise, SHAME TO YOU!
Vinette Kopetz, Hood River, OR	Obviously, your bottom line will not be damaged by dropping these products! Good grief!! Use your heads! Pay attention!!
	These are the decisions you should make all by yourselves!! SHOW SOME CHARACTER!
David and Ingrid Cook, Joseph, OR	Many women use cosmetics without knowing the dangers to their skin from brands that contain mercury. Stop selling these cosmetics.
William Whitaker, La Grande, OR	Don't promote greed over human safety.
Linda McDonough, Lebanon, OR	Please - make enough money with thousands of great, safe items you don't need to sell these horrible products.
Bob Karcich, Medford, OR	Do you give these products to your kids and family??? What is wrong with you people??
Charmion Waller, Monmouth, OR	Hey! This is NOT cool to be selling poison! Please watch out for these dangerous products and make your companies be more responsible! Thank you!
Cheryl Krueger, Neskowin, OR	I am a frequent Amazon consumer with advanced education degrees, but that doesn't keep me from trusting that the products you sell are safe! We are a Caucasian family, with two children who married partners from other countries that value lighter skin despite their darker skin. I'm frightened to the point of our young granddaughter being so easily and ignorantly subjected to these toxic skin-lightening products. Amazon and E-Bay are far more powerful a voice through sales than me as mother-in-law or Grandma. For the well being of your trusting customers and as socially or environmentally conscious mega-corporations Please take in-house action and remove illegal/toxic skin lightening creams from your marketplace!
Jane Civiletti, Oak Grove, OR	Toxins do NOT belong in your bay.
David Seppa, Oceanside, OR	I didn't know that mercury was a cosmetic. How low can you go?
Vina Gardner, Oregon City, OR	Please do the right thing and don't poison your customers.
Ghia Griffin, Port Orford, OR	Anything with lead or mercury is a dangerous toxin that should be banned. Knowing your conscious is clear from not fostering these products because of monetary means will be comforting to your conscious and more formidable towards good karma and not the bad.

Judith Arcana, Portland, OR	There's no reason but greed for selling such products -- and you already have more money than you need, so it'll be easy for you to stop. Moreover, this can be a way to begin examining your business practice, thinking seriously about being&doing good.
Linda Barkus, Portland, OR	Please do whatever it takes to keep these dangerous products off the market! You do have the power to make this commitment!
Mary Faye Bennett, Portland, OR	You are not in need of the profits from these illegal and immoral sales! So stop it!
Jeanne Bernard, Portland, OR	BEZOS, WHAT IS YOUR ETHIC? RICHEST MAN, HOW ABOUT SAVING THE AMAZON AND NORTH AMERICAN OLD GROWTH. HOW ABOUT SEEING THE EARTH AS BEAUTIFUL AND NECESSARY. HOW ABOUT DOING SOMETHING FOR WILD LIFE AND WILD LANDS? HOW ABOUT DOING SOMETHING LIFE GIVING?
Linore Blackstone, Portland, OR	Bezos, you have such an opportunity to save this beautiful planet and its beautiful creatures. Focus all your power and money on saving this earth. Start now.
Erika Bury, Portland, OR	You are hurting people by selling these things. Please stop!
Nykolee Charlton, Portland, OR	We must be ethical in all our affairs, regardless of financial consequences. Please heed this message.
Sandra Decker, Portland, OR	Selling these skin lightening products amounts to racial murder. Both ebay and amazon have gotten too big. STOP SHOPPING WITH THEM.
Nikki Dennis, Portland, OR	PS ... You should immediately stop selling swastikas and other hate merchandise too.
James Derosso, Portland, OR	The world would be a better place without toxic crap we don't really need.
Elizabeth Draper, Portland, OR	Elizabeth Draper
Sandra Dudley, Portland, OR	Mercury? Really?? What were you thinking?
Katelyn Entzeroth, Portland, OR	This is unacceptable.
Judy Arielle Fiestal, Portland, OR	It's time for large corporations that have dominated the marketplace to support your consumers and act in a socially responsible way. Harming your consumers does not add to your customer base.
Julian Fifer, Portland, OR	With your influence, you should hold yourselves to higher standards than the average, not lower standards!
Anna Finch, Portland, OR	Let's sell products that help people not hurt them!
Tim Foulke, Portland, OR	Do the right thing!
Martin Frazier, Portland, OR	Toxins should be better regulated.
Stacy Friedman, Portland, OR	I like and trust Amazon, and I'd like to keep shopping with you?please scrutinize your sellers? products more carefully and stop providing a marketplace for products that are illegal, unsafe, and reinforce racist beauty standards. I'll be watching this effort and will redirect my shopping dollars if I don't see a change.
Bonni Goldberg, Portland, OR	You're both already ridiculously wealthy. It's time to change your focus from bottom line earning to caring and contributing to sustainability of the world that you have acquired so much from.
Steven Groves, Portland, OR	Your skin is not worth the risk.
Linda Hansen, Portland, OR	Responsible stewardship of the products sold on your sites must be the backbone of your business.

Marianne Itkin, Portland, OR	Please do the right thing to promote consumer safety.
DeDe Johnson, Portland, OR	Tell me, is Amazon so greedy that it needs to sell dangerous products. Sure seems like it! I quit doing business with you because you make me sick on so many levels.
Joan Johnson, Portland, OR	It really is immoral to offer such products for sale. Please remove them from your shelves immediately.
Jann Jones, Portland, OR	We all bleed the same colour when injured, whatdoes the colour of ones skin matter for? How about be more interested in stopping those who want to try and change OUR alues to fit their sick, twisted agendas? Those from another country, where women are slaves, and children are raped by grown men, claiming to have "married" these babies?
Donna Khatib, Portland, OR	Do the right thing - stop the sale of these products
Deana Kovacev, Portland, OR	You're hurting people but I'm sure you already knew that.
Kathy McIntosh, Portland, OR	This is particularly heinous because the majority of consumers buying from your sites have an inherent trust that you would regulate your sellers. They trust you would not allow dangerous products to be sold. Please address this issue as soon as possible.
Keith Miller, Portland, OR	Amazon Prime Member that wants you to do MORE
Claire Morgan, Portland, OR	There are already too many toxic chemicals in our lives, please remove this one.
Kelly O'Hanley, Portland, OR	Now that you know - I hope you'll act.
Dee Packard, Portland, OR	Have some (any) integrity, please. What are your values besides protecting your bottom line? Any? You are not looking good continuing to sell and by your brand alone, promote these dangerous products.
Regan Rea, Portland, OR	Please listen to this.
Janet Robinson, Portland, OR	Please do not compromise your commitment to act responsibly and within the law.
Beppie Shapiro, Portland, OR	I am white. It is SO UNFAIR that people want to lighten their skins. On top of that massive unfairness, you are adding another huge burden of health effects. DO PLEASE STOP advertising/selling these products.
Christine Simpson, Portland, OR	I want the government to protect consumers from dangerous and toxic substances.
Marina Soto, Portland, OR	please help us stay safe and healthy
Carrie Tilton-Jones, Portland, OR	Mercury poisoning is where the phrase "mad as a hatter" comes from. Mercury used to be very common in the hat-making process, and those exposed to it through their work suffered severely from it. This is not only about racist beauty standards, it's also about labor justice.
Jean Toles, Portland, OR	No, no product that has mercury in it should be sold anywhere
Shawn Upholt, Portland, OR	I've considered dropping your website...give me a reason to stay with you.
Hazel Wheeler, Portland, OR	Amazon and eBay should not be in the business of letting sellers cloak themselves in a shroud of 'legitimacy' by selling these toxic products through your websites. Now that you know this is an ongoing problem, your organizations are complicit in allowing this to continue to happen. We expect a certain level of standards on your websites: it would be wise to require Materials Safety Data/safety data sheets on the products your platforms are selling. This will protect both your corporations and consumer from harm by bad actors.

William Wilson, Portland, OR	It's disgusting and shameful that this is something that even needs discussion. With Juul and synthetic marijuana as a recent example, there are those who will stoop to anything to make a buck. All responsible people have to stand against these types of exploitation - that is what it is, plain and simple.
Alan Winter, Portland, OR	This reminds me of when producers of baby formula started a trend to get women in the 3rd world to stop nursing their babies the results were disastrous!
Sylvia Zingeser, Portland, OR	Why would you sell products that are harmful? Vet your products before putting them up for sale!
Mary Lou Fitzgerald, Redmond, OR	Don't put profit ahead of people's lives. The suffering caused by mercury poisoning is terrible and permanent.
Kent Knock, Rogue River, OR	All products that have an ingredients label should have a picture of that label on the ad. Illegal ingredients would be obvious.
Judith Mercer, Roseburg, OR	It would be better for you and especially for your customers if you own up to this now. Otherwise it will become another scandal and a PR nightmare for you.
Linette Torres, Roseburg, OR	Make a conscience choice and promote and sell goods that are not dangerous to people.
Ida Brown, Salem, OR	Toxic chemicals of all types need to be banned, but this one targeted at those who may feel they need to change their skin color to fit in or not be discriminated against is even worse.
Russell Fowler, Salem, OR	Stop selling poison.
David Harrison, Salem, OR	As a physician, I urge you to stop selling these toxic products.
Susan Khalsa-Wyborski, Salem, OR	Rome had mercury and lead laden cosmetics, contributing to the Fall of Rome. Thanks guys.
Julie Johnson-Cottrell, Scappoose, OR	Do the right thing!
Joyce Puccini Chapman, Shady Cove, OR	Stop poisoning people of color! Have you no morals?
Eileene Gillson, Sherwood, OR	Product safety should be a priority.
Rouanna Garden, Springfield, OR	OMG, this is toxic and you are selling them, what's wrong with you?
Mary Merwin, Sutherlin, OR	I will continue to reveal the truth to those I come in contact with of your low standard for human life. We are talking about you and your choice of your fat pocketbook over one person's health... multiplied! Raise your standard or lose!
Steff Massie, Tigard, OR	Amazon especially needs to be broken up as a monopoly as well. Their business practices are abhorrent and their workers, our environment and even our taxpayers pay the price.
MI Goff, Warrenton, OR	As a third generation teacher working in science education it is clear that the world that you and I inherited is not the world we are subjecting the next generations to. As large consumer-driven businesses you have the moral obligation to eliminate hazardous products from the supply chain!
Bridget Salvia, Wilsonville, OR	You have the power to remove this toxic product from your sites. Act like you care about other human beings and make this change.
Marsha Hansen, Woodburn, OR	It's very important that you take action on this request. Mercury is hazardous to human health. You must do something to remove these skin lightening products from your websites. If your family members, such as a daughter or son, were dark skinned and wanted to lighten their skin, would you be happy if they purchased mercury laden skin lightening products to do that...products that could potentially kill them? I think not. So get busy and get those products off you website. Thank you.

Daniel Seng, Allentown, PA	Please.....Danny
Ellen Sue Jacobson, Bala Cynwyd, PA	Be responsible to your customers!
Paula Lynn, Bala Cynwyd, PA	Amazon and others are now legally sellers of the product and can be sued for selling a toxic product.
Betsy Lyman, Boyertown, PA	More ?GREED OVER NEED? cases where PROFITS ?trump? (using that word meaningfully) Big Businesses NEED for protecting customers & full honesty to everyone, while PROFITS are not hurt, just lowered to a reasonable level. Perhaps that is why they hide those profits from taxes. MORE is BETTER. ENOUGH is never enough. ?Giving to charity, especially charities with their names on them, takes the place of paying their fair share. To quote our President: 'sAD.?
Jennifer Bentsen, Breinigsville, PA	Would you want your children exposed to this? Please stop!
Roxanne Scheidt, Breinigsville, PA	If you care about the health and wellbeing of you customers, you will remove these harmful mercury laden creams immediately. It's your moral duty to do so. If you persist in allowing these products to be sold on your websites, I will no longer purchase anything there!
Bluma Bluebond, Butler, PA	I can't understand why a company like Amazon would sell products that could be harmful to customers who buy from your websites? Does Amazon not care if what they sell under their name could harm customers? I would think that damaging Amazon's reputation would be a concern. Or is making money the only thing Amazon cares about ?
Alice Stehle, Butler, PA	Women will be injured by mercury laden products. Or isn't that important to you?
Jane Ober, Carlisle, PA	Please remove these skin creams that are harmful to consumers, especially to women who are pregnant. You have been made aware of the toxicity of these products and yet you continue to allow them to be sold through Amazon and eBay. I will be watching to see if you respond in an expeditious and positive manner to my request. If you do not, I will not be buying any products from you. Sincerely, Jane Ober
Albert & Marilyn Eelman, Chadds Ford, PA	We do not want anyone adding Mercury or any toxic substance to their body unless they are fully informed as to the risks involved. Do pregnant women continue to use these products ??
John Herrmann, Chambersburg, PA	Mercury should never be in cosmetics.
Rel Herrmann, Chambersburg, PA	Mercury is a toxic chemical and doesn't belong in skin cream.
Maureen Mchugh, Chambersburg, PA	Mercury poisoning is very dangerous, and a responsible retailer would not expose customers to such a hazard! Remove these dangerous items from your website now!
Matt Miskie, Cleona, PA	Poisoning people for profit is not nice.
William Stropnick, Danville, PA	However, I do applaud you, Mr. Bezos, for your recent actions on climate change!
Marie Carota, Doylestown, PA	This is very disturbing. Not only is it harming people's health But the environment. We can't deal with more toxins. It would behoove your company to do the honorable thing.
Jo Ellen Deasy, East Mc Keesport, PA	Mercury is DEADLY. What are we doing???
Walter Schupp, East Stroudsburg,	You have the power (and responsibility) to stop this. Do the right

PA	thing. Just do it; stop it.
Margaret Watts, Edinboro, PA	Purveyor of racist sentiment while profiteering; horrendous corporate malfeasance.
Jeffrey Kravitz, Elkins Park, PA	As a holder of Amazon shares I do not want to profit from these sales
S A Golden, Emmaus, PA	Stop contaminating fellow humans who are not aware of the dangerous chemicals contained within. We know now so, let's do the right thing. Remove them, stop promoting them for profit. You can lead by doing... better than this!
Maya A, Erie, PA	People should be able to trust the companies they buy things from. Instead they use products from it that they don't know are toxic!
Sharon Furlong, Feasterville Trevose, PA	Personal care products are producers of a goodly number of society's ills, including what has been outlined above. But really, it doesn't stop here....coral toxins, sea contaminants, and so on and so on. People need to make informed choices and in doing so, just might help the planet and it's inhabitants who have no voice or wallet.
Jessica Gieringer, Fleetwood, PA	We are a beautiful world with people of many skin colors, we should not have products available that are color-shaming especially if they are toxic. It is massively unethical to knowingly sell harmful products, please keep our world happy and healthy.
Sonja Hunt, Franklin, PA	We are surrounded by enough poisons and pollutants with our you adding to them. I am sure you make enough money without selling these products.
Martha Edwards, Glenmoore, PA	Disgusting all the way around. Mercury is deadly, more than the effort to idealize "white". Everyone is hurt by this stereotype than's wrong. Nature agrees. STOP.
George Baltz, Glenside, PA	Please develop a conscience and begin to look out for all your customers. If not your base may abandon you. Your foothold on all products may begin to disappear. If profits are all care about.
Regina Cassidy, Glenside, PA	Please, make your company one of the "good guys." Help to protect the health and welfare of your customers.
Karla Schmid, Glenside, PA	I can see a law suit coming, why can't you.
Paul Palla, Greencastle, PA	STOP SELLING ALL POISONS!!
Tonya Eza, Harrisburg, PA	Women already face unrealistic beauty standards. Don't let them kill themselves by selling toxic beauty products.
Francine Cohen, Havertown, PA	Please do the right thing!
Stephanie Chandler, Indiana, PA	As an informed consumer who purchases almost everything online, I expect the products offered for sale in the USA on sites such as Amazon and eBay are safe and legal. I understand that regulation is an extremely complex issue, but that is no excuse for continuing to allow known toxic products to be sold through your websites. Your authority as CEOs of two global powerhouses requires you to act responsibly and ethically, in a timely manner. Thank you for taking appropriate, immediate action.
Larry Borland, Jenkintown, PA	JUST STOP IT. ALL YOUR INTERESTED IS THE ALL MIGHTY DOLLARS
David Kagan, Jersey Shore, PA	Toxic? This action should be a no-brainer!
Barbara Bruce, Johnstown, PA	Anything to make a buck!!!
Janet Condino, Johnstown, PA	STOP!
Andi Davis, Kintnersville, PA	People trust you to provide them with safe and legal products to buy. Please stop betraying that trust.

Mary Rost, Lancaster, PA	Please think about consumer safety more and less about profit.
John Cooper, Lewisburg, PA	I am a chemist and KNOW about the hazards of mercurials. We're trying to keep mercury OUT of the environment, NOT adding to human or animal exposure.
Diane Bastian, Liberty, PA	This is extremely important to me as a consumer. I want to buy safe and effective products not dangerous ones.
Laura Williams, Lock Haven, PA	This is awful and I can't believe you're allowing poisonous products to be sold on your websites! I had thought I could trust your companies- that you were safe and I could trust that what I was purchasing on your sites was safe. If you don't take responsibility and stop selling poisonous products, I will stop buying through your companies and suggest others to stop as well.
Cynthia Myers, Malvern, PA	It is known that mercury is deadly. Why sell products that contain it??! You must remove these products from your inventory and not sell products which contain deadly chemicals.
Joy Y, Mechanicsburg, PA	Skin lightening products with mercury are extremely hazardous to people. Please, stop letting third-party sellers get away with this.
Carl Finkbeiner, Media, PA	PLEASE!!!
Joe Kenosky, Mount Pocono, PA	This absurd, it should have stopped long ago!
Sandra Kell, New Alexandria, PA	Please stop poisoning people by selling toxic skin cream?
Kit Grindstaff, New Hope, PA	Would you give such products to your wives, your daughters, your granddaughters? If not - then you know the right thing to do. Please act on your consciences. Thank you.
Patricia Eichman, New Philadelphia, PA	I am Caucasian and use skin lightener for sun damage on my face. I am sickened to read that it might be poisonous.
Mary Ann Evans, Newville, PA	Seriously, what's wrong with you people? This is not exactly news; everybody knows mercury is toxic. Get your act together and get this crap off your site.
Liz Kull, Pen Argyl, PA	No company should be selling any products that contain mercury. Your companies are some of the biggest in the world & you can set an example by refusing to sell them. Thank you.
Roberta Camp, Philadelphia, PA	Mercury is toxic--poisonous. Stop tempting women of color to poison themselves by using skin-lightening products.
ROBERT M COHEN MD, Philadelphia, PA	Truth is, as both a Human Being and a Physician, I am HORRIFIED to find out you allow the sale of mercury-laden and other illegal and mental and health-destroying products on your platforms! HOW can you go to sleep at night!!!!????!! PLEASE STOP THIS RIGHT NOW!!
John Comella, Philadelphia, PA	No creams containing mercury should be allowed to be sold to anybody. Stop that.
Dale Foote, Philadelphia, PA	I know someone who died from liver damage and kidney failure due to the daily use of skin lightening creams. You are killing people for profit. Class action suit in your future.
Susan L Hurley, Philadelphia, PA	YOU SHOULD NOT SELL TOXIC PRODUCTS TO MAKE A PROFIT. TAKE ACTION NOW TO DROP THOSE ITEMS FROM YOUR PRODUCT LINE.
Sherri Michalovic, Philadelphia, PA	Stop perpetuating racism.
Suzanne Ream, Philadelphia, PA	Be ethical!!!!?
Ana Santana, Philadelphia, PA	I want to know if our health is important for this companies, or the money is most important.

Lucinda Scott, Philadelphia, PA	Please stop selling these products. As they are toxic, you have a responsibility to take them off the market!
Scott H Spencer, Philadelphia, PA	Consumer protection should be of primary importance. I shouldn't have to even tell you that. Do the right thing!
Gail Winkler, Philadelphia, PA	Mercury is not good for any living thing...and that includes the residue washed down drains and into water supplies and water sheds. Get with it, guys.
Angela Ng, Phoenixville, PA	I will stop supporting my purchases of Amazon products unless you remove these Mercury laden, skin lightening products off the market. I used to trust Amazon to sell safe products to consumers, and I hope Amazon can regain my trust.
Michelle Plummer, Phoenixville, PA	Please Remove these Products Before they Cause Real Damage to Someone
Lu Abelson, Pittsburgh, PA	Please protect your customers.
Rebekah Berna, Pittsburgh, PA	Thank you for all of your hard work and careful attention to this issue.
Barbara Brandom, Pittsburgh, PA	Do not expose people to mercury!
k danowski, Pittsburgh, PA	I am both an Amazon and eBay customer.
Natalia Echeverry, Pittsburgh, PA	Protect consumers from unscrupulous sellers!
John Greeno, Pittsburgh, PA	The online marketplace can be a tremendous convenience for consumers. Please don't let it be a haven for the sale of known damaging and even illegal products.
Susan Loucks, Pittsburgh, PA	The politics are interesting but the toxicity makes this a no-brainer. Take these products off the market, post-haste!
Michael and Bonnie Mokotoff, Pittsburgh, PA	Do not profit from people's harmful opinions.
Judith Ruszkowski, Pittsburgh, PA	Amazon must become a leader in ensuring a safe and sustainable world.
Peg Schmidt, Pittsburgh, PA	This is shameful! Stop making a profit on discrimination!!!
Daniel Shapiro, Pittsburgh, PA	Just because a product exists and people buy it, doesn't mean it's ok to profit from it. You can choose to put people over profits.
Jennifer Wernert, Pittsburgh, PA	Mr. Bezos and Mr. Wenig, You are in the enviable position where you can make a tremendously positive impact for human beings around the world. Please help. Thank you, Jennifer Wernert
Sharon Haffey, Pottsville, PA	There are enough products that threaten our health, we don't need these!
Jan Hughes, Reading, PA	Signed, Jan Hughes No Titles
Penny Schoyer, Rochester, PA	Don't profit from any products that are demonstrated to be truly unsafe to the point of being toxic! Don't buy into products that feed into racist stereotypes of female ?beauty ?.
Lynda Albright, Saxton, PA	We need to make sure that cleaner and safer products are available and harmful products are taken off the marketplace.
Dianne Lamonica, Scranton, PA	There are too many poisons added to personal care products, MSG and sulfuric acid; it is disgusting.
Madeline Swaboski, Scranton, PA	Your responsibility is to the safety of others. How can you deny this by irresponsible actions in this regard. Please make peace with yourselves and stop the mercury-based creams.
Nancy Luciani, Silverdale, PA	Please also pay your lowest wage earners a LIVABLE wage. thank you

Barbara Fitch, Skippack, PA	Take these products off your web sites!!
James Gill, Souderton, PA	You have the responsibility to assure our safety buy assessing the safety of all that you sell via your company.
Matthew Polster, South Abington Township, PA	It's not even debatable whether mercury is considered unhealthy. There's no excuse for that kind of oversight
Merrill David, State College, PA	Put consumer protection above profit!
Meredith Doran, State College, PA	Amazon is an amazing platform for consumers to find specialized products--but they trust that Amazon won't direct them to toxic products. Don't let your brand be compromised by allowing sellers to market products that are poisonous to people.
Roberta Riccio, Swarthmore, PA	Please act as responsible companies, as a consumer who typically buys from your company, I will search for other markets if you will not take steps to ensure consumer safety. Thank you I know it takes effort, but you are perfectly capable companies to meet these requirements.
John Furlong, Trevoze, PA	Protect your customers and the planet
Kay Gustin, Troy, PA	You have the opportunity to end this racist practice of selling toxic products to people of color. Please end it now. Thank You.
Eric Thomas, Upper Darby, PA	Genocide in the Market Place? These devils still think they own Black Bodies. I have spent a lot of money purchasing through Amazon. Think I'm going to boycott you. Run, Tell, That.
Victoria English, Villanova, PA	Mercury causes many health problems and should not be used in any skin cream products.
Mark Gioia, Warminster, PA	This is no different than having companies locating environmentally destructive plants that violate the Clean Air and Clean Water Acts within or next to areas where people of color and people of low income live. They are people, too and deserve to drink clean water and breathe fresh air. Please stop selling these toxic products IMMEDIATELY!
Deborah Regets, Washington, PA	Deborah Regets
Linda Hect, Washington Crossing, PA	We have safer options, no need to take this risk!!
Christy Parry, Wayne, PA	Mercury is ruining our health. Please do all you can to not sell anything that contains mercury.
Janet Davis, Weatherly, PA	I can forgo the convenience of these websites and find what I need on other smaller but excellent sites if this is not rectified. The Sierra Club will keep me updated
Kathleen Kapp, West Chester, PA	Your lack of action on this important health issue has caused me to be skeptical of ordering any beauty products from your company on line. I would like to resume ordering from you when I become aware that you care about my health by taking action on this issue !
E Madarasz, West Chester, PA	Stop promoting prejudice.
Ed McConnell, West Chester, PA	You guys have enough money. Don't sell stuff that will make people sick.
Cynthia Sheikh, West Chester, PA	I come from a Caucasian family but married into a south Asian family. It sickens me to see them buy into the racist mind set that causes them to waste money on products to lighten their skins. I wasn't aware that they were actually physically poisoning themselves. Please stop selling these products.
Geraldine Mccarthy, Wexford, PA	The safety of humans is far more important than profit. Maybe your unaware your unaware of toxicity c products being sold on your web site. Maybe a product safety team should be put into check products.

Diane Antosh, White Haven, PA	More products are being proven very harmful. Can we take action to stop what is known dangerous to health? You can.
Joe Bliss, Wynnewood, PA	For our kids and environment we must care even through our government does not... If not us then who!
Deborah Devers, York, PA	These products promote racism by making it clear that lighter skin is better and more desirable.
Tamara Mccusker, York, PA	this is totally unnecessary and sad.
Donald Lambert, York Haven, PA	Stop selling ILLEGAL mercury-laden skin lightening products. How can you dare to put lives behind profits. Shame on your corporation !
Krystal Cabeza, Bayamon, PR	Just because someone likes something it doesn't mean it's going to stop being dangerous. You can't make money out of people's pockets who want to reach an impossible dream.
Aurora Rivera, Cayey, PR	This should equally apply to every consumer product and to every similar company. You being the leaders on the industry must step ahead and give the good example, keep setting the standard. We count on you!
Jorge Isaac Martinez, Guaynabo, PR	STOP! We are not buying your products any longer.
Ajodelpais Pat, San Juan, PR	Stop seducing us costumers. It's psychoterrorism Ley 300.
Janine O'Neil, Cumberland, RI	I am a long time Amazon prime member who has become increasingly concerned with the amount of third party sellers on Amazon misrepresenting their products and/or selling fakes, knockoffs, and unsafe products without oversight or consequences.
Rosemarie Cabral, Greenville, RI	America needs to lead on the mercury issue ! As a grandparent I want my grandchildren to have clean safe skin products with full disclosure of all chemicals and to come with warnings when necessary. Mrs.Rosemarie Cabral
Leila Gill, Hopkinton, RI	Stand up and stop this. You are in a position to do so.
Kristen Fulton, Lincoln, RI	Get it together, and start making mindful decisions instead of always thinking about bottom lines and profits
Arthur Dristiliaris, Providence, RI	Get bad chemicals out of consumer products
Carol Shea, Providence, RI	No one should be selling anything toxic in this day in age in the richest country in the world!!! Shame on this administration and shame on us!!!
Martha Fish, Warren, RI	Come on, it's your kids and grandkids too
Geoff Kaufman, Westerly, RI	I hope you consider yourselves to be ethically responsible for how the products you sell on your sites work. If so you need to get rid of toxic and illegal products.
Robin Aldrich, Campobello, SC	Like it or not you do have a responsibility to protect your customers! you can do something about this! please do!
Barb Bittenbinder, Central, SC	It's time these companies to take responsibility for keeping these illegal products off their sites, even if they are sold through third-party sellers.
Greg Nicholas, Charleston, SC	Unacceptable
Hilary Colacino, Clemson, SC	It's completely ludicrous that anything but thermometers are made with mercury in the 21st century. Come on people, we can do better!
Elijah Adkins, Columbia, SC	As a pediatric surgeon, I see first hand the complications of heavy metal poisoning. While it is technically difficult for Amazon or eBay to test products for safety, to continue to sell a class of products that has known toxicity will surely open the door to lawsuits you have so far avoided. Do the right thing and stop selling them.

Melanie Hansen, Columbia, SC	Mercury is hazardous--why be associated with selling it?
Edith Ley, Easley, SC	Mercury causes brain damage and kills. Are you like other companies who are just for profit or do you care about your fellow human beings?
Gay Claiborne, Greenville, SC	Not one more sale!
Brandon Inabinet, Greenville, SC	My Thai friends fall victim to this poison every year. Colonialism at its "best."
Alexander Field, Irmo, SC	This is a no-brainer. Crack down on people selling illegal products! Make it easy to report, and make sure the report have a swift and decisive follow-through!
Garry Nelson, Johns Island, SC	This is a social responsibility your firms should understand. It's more than just about profits. Please do the right thing. Thank you.
Sheryl Bickley, Lexington, SC	Your company, what it has done for so many, and your leadership role should mean more to you, too, so that you would act on this. You are in such a position to do so much more to benefit your customers, your company, and most importantly our position as ambassadors to the earth and humanity. Please take steps to protect your people and customers that love and rely on your company. It's so important.
Pamela Leonard, Mt Pleasant, SC	I will have to stop buying products from you if I cant be certain of their safety. And we will have to spread the word about your unsafe practices.
Larry Dues, Myrtle Beach, SC	Stop poisoning people
Connie Lewis, North Charleston, SC	I am a Amazon Prime member and a Black woman. I am considering canceling this service in light of this and your canceling the healthcare of Whole Foods workers. Bezoar you're are a disgrace.
Caryl Mlincek, Rock Hill, SC	?Light? is neither right nor good.
Maryrose Randall, Rock Hill, SC	At the very least, you should make sure that the products you sell do not contain illegal and unhealthy levels of toxic substances, such as heavy metals. Besides being unethical, continuing to sell products with known hazards is a liability to your company, which should give you an incentive to investigate and remove harmful products.
Ann Axelson, Salem, SC	We look to the largest corporations to be responsible citizens. When you market and sell products that have been shown to be toxic, you are being irresponsible. Please take these products off of your sites.
Kathy Gardner, Summerville, SC	Lead is deadly both now and in future generations. Please use environmentally friendly ingredients. And only sell environmentally friendly products on your sight.
Margaret Heatherly, Taylors, SC	The chemicals we create are polluting in the making of the chemicals, in the use of chemicals and then in the disposing of chemicals. We all need to acknowledge and take positive steps to prevent further pollution of our air, water and soil.
Julie Turner, Mobridge, SD	No hazardous products should be allowed to be sold to the public.
Amanda Farris, Chattanooga, TN	Harmful products have no place on my skin!
Mary S Gregg, Chattanooga, TN	I have trusted Amazon to know the ingredients in products you sell are safe. Be responsible to your many loyal customers!

Robert Stanley, Chattanooga, TN	These toxic, health-threatening substances should not be sold anywhere, either in stores or via Amazon or E-Bay.
Elizabeth Cunningham, Cleveland, TN	These should be outlawed by the FDA
Larry Wenger, Cleveland, TN	Please stop toxicity.
Calah Gipson, Cordova, TN	Don't add to the colorism problem that is so prevalent in a America and around the world
Cathy Probst-Walker, Crossville, TN	This is dangerous and we should all embrace our own skin color.
Toni Jeanes, Germantown, TN	please stop selling this poison to people!
Colleen Gordon, Hixson, TN	C 'mon now- you know it's the right thing to do.
Pamela Phillips, Hixson, TN	You need to do better on the products you allow to be sold on your site. You cannot claim no responsibility.
Paul Bienhoff, Kingsport, TN	If these products were, say, tanning products used by whites, and there were deaths that resulted, how long would it take for you to stop sales? I suspect I wouldn't have time to sign a petition on the matter...Do the right thing!
Jay Armbruster, Knoxville, TN	Probably those selling these illegal mercury laden products we should just prosecute and imprison those involved in the sale of illegal mercury products. I personally think the executives at Amazon would look good in orange.
Cyndi Mccall, Knoxville, TN	Why would you help in harming, maiming, maybe killing people using your services? How horrible. Money over human harm is Inhumane. I hope it is Illegal.
Paul Simmons, Knoxville, TN	Stop putting profits over people. It isn't difficult to not poison someone.
G Robert Webber, Knoxville, TN	Let's do the right things!
Catherine Dixon, Memphis, TN	Is Amazon ever really going to take the lead with caring about the environment? You can keep toxic products from being sold through your site.
Harriet Surprise, Memphis, TN	This is the right thing to do if you care about the health and safety of your customers.
Roberta Burns, Murfreesboro, TN	This matters not only for the environment, but for the self esteem of young African American women and other women of color, who are taught by advertising that their color is less than beautiful and should be changed.
Stan Jacobs, Murfreesboro, TN	I am a former Amazon employee and ambassador who is urging you to stop putting the customer at risk
Dianne Doochin, Nashville, TN	Ethics make the person and the company. Please care about all humanity and yourselves.
ML Durham, Nashville, TN	It's unfortunate that people even want to lighten their skin, surely a socially-imposed desire, but to then sell them toxic chemicals in order to capitalize on their false beliefs of making themselves "better" in order to make money is not excusable. Cease and desist!
Grace E Keenan, Nashville, TN	It's your duty to protect our citizens.
Christina Norris, Nashville, TN	Stop 3rd party sellers from marketing illegal toxic products containing mercury on your site!
Diana Page, Nashville, TN	It's hard to believe that such practices continue.
Sarah Rowe, Nashville, TN	The dangers of mercury have long been known. Please don't sell mercury-based skin products!

Herbert Dotzauer, Nolensville, TN	please keep our woman folks save.
Alice Feldman, Oak Ridge, TN	Mercury is highly toxic. Selling these products may not be illegal, but to knowingly expose consumers to toxic mercury is unconscionable.
ANNE GIELISSE, Oak Ridge, TN	Would you let your children use these skin creams???
Tom Cullen, Spring Hill, TN	Don't you care about members of your future family?
Sandra Drescher, Allen, TX	How could you???? $$$$
Shelley Holloway, Amarillo, TX	Why do you feel that it is ok to sell products that can harm any living thing? I'm not understanding how people would ? kill off man kind for the name of profits. It shows in your companies as well as in America's own presidency. How sad it is to be human...thanks for not caring.
Barbara King, Anna, TX	I have teen age granddaughters who try all sorts of skin care products. I don't want these harmful products available to them.
Tracey Bonner, Arlington, TX	no more pollution, poisoning or destruction of OUR Environment or OUR Bodies. ENOUGH!!!
Camille Clark, Austin, TX	Please do the responsible thing and stop selling dangerous products!
Juan Dekruffyff, Austin, TX	Aren't there already enough toxins in the world already?
	Juan DeKruyff
Rainbow Di Benedetto, Austin, TX	You shouldn't be selling toxic and illegal products, period! Please do a better job of screening out these harmful "cosmetics".
Dave Erichson, Austin, TX	Shame on you Jeff Bezos. Have you no moral compass? Mercury, you sell products with mercury meant to be applied to unsuspecting consumers skin? Is there no limit to your greed?
Michael Grish, Austin, TX	I grew up less than a mile from infamous Love Canal in New York, and I've spent my career learning about and trying to make our built environment less toxic, so toxic product regulation is a personal issue for me. Toxic products must be eliminated from the choices consumers have.
Yvonne Hansen, Austin, TX	Totally awful product! Get real and live in this world by not contaminating the Earth any more than it is.
Laura Havlick, Austin, TX	Please help protect unwitting consumers from falsely-advertised beauty products that can have harmful effects on their skin.
Debra Hyde, Austin, TX	Illegal is the key here.
Patricia Jones, Austin, TX	BE RESPONSIBLE!!! STOP SELLING THESE TOXIC PRODUCTS!!!
John Lewis, Austin, TX	Hey, Bezos, do you really need the extra money???
Yvonne Munn, Austin, TX	How dare you continue selling skin care (& other products?) without verifying their TOTAL safety for personal use!
Amara N., Austin, TX	While we continue to work to celebrate all skin colors as beautiful and worthy, please be cognizant of products that are being sold through your businesses and help to keep them healthy and safe for all who feel they need them to be beautiful and accepted. If you can not prevent them from being sold (which I don't believe to be the case), at least be sure to label products containing such toxic ingredients as such.
Andrea Reed, Austin, TX	Please don't sell products that are known to be harmful!
Karel Riley, Austin, TX	EBay and Amazon - your reputations are on the line. You must do something about this.

Alexis Roberts, Austin, TX	Selling these products is just wrong.
Shawn Robertson, Austin, TX	We have enough toxic stuff on this planet. We need to reverse effects, not add to the problem. It's one thing people being okay with poisoning themselves but another thing people being ok with poisoning the rest of us through our water supply. This Mercury will just get in our water supply like everything els does.
Martha Rogers, Austin, TX	Mercury damages people and gets into the water and soil. Stop manufacturing these products!
Bill Shier, Austin, TX	Protect your customers!
Cheyenne Weaver, Austin, TX	Unbelievable that these products are in your marketplaces!
Suzy Whitlock, Austin, TX	Get organized, know what you're selling, you're better than this! It's not all about money!
Thom Woodruff, Austin, TX	please stop poisoning people!
Allison Zborowski, Austin, TX	A lot of women don't research what's in their beauty products before purchasing and using them. It's crucial to use the knowledge that YOU as a seller have to HELP those who are making YOU a PROFIT!
RYAN REDING, Baytown, TX	I hate GOVERNMENT and POLICE OFFICERS.
Paul Skiff, Benbrook, TX	You guys can't make enough money without poisoning people? C'mon - you are already making OBSCENE profits and paying NO taxes!!
Brian Young, Boerne, TX	Please do your part to help curb unnecessary mercury pollution. It's got to be a lot easier to prevent mercury contamination than to clean it up after it occurs. Thanks in advance for your consideration.
Bill Caldwell, Brenham, TX	We all know that mercury is a very toxic and damaging substance and can kill. Please do your part and the only right thing to do and remove any toxic products that could harm human beings. Thank you!
Tracy Musgrove, Canton, TX	Are you serious?! Has this country not already used institutional discrimination in every setting to keep people of color down? I suppose then that this insane behavior is just par for the course. We are all ONE race! Geez people!
Linda Fielder, Carrollton, TX	Protect the safety of your customers and stop selling toxic personal products.
Jeanne Jordan, Carrollton, TX	I shop for products on Amazon & eBay on a regular basis. I was surprised to find out that you both were selling products that you knew were not safe. As a customer of you both, I have always felt that I could trust you to sell only products that are safe. Please do what is right and stop selling products that are unsafe.
David Valle, Carrollton, TX	As a longtime customer, this has no positive impact on society and it only distances us from what we should be and I know that we shouldn't make lives harder than self-consciousness.
Janice Phillips, Chappell Hill, TX	These products are harmful
Lola Barello, Coppell, TX	This horrible for humans and mother earth. PLEASE STOP!
John Arguell, Corpus Christi, TX	THIS IS JUST WRONG, AND NEEDS TO STOP NOW!!!!
Martha Johnson, Corpus Christi, TX	This isn't 1819,it's 2019 !!! Quit selling these deadly potions, please ???
Ruth Reid, Corpus Christi, TX	Please sell safe products.
Karen Hernandez, Cypress, TX	If people are stupid enough to use this stuff, 5hey deserve what happens. But on other hand if their selling chemicals 5hey need to be punished. They're just killing people, and they don't care, as long as they are making money they don't care. They need to be stopped.

Greg Kay, Cypress, TX	Thank you in advance for doing the right thing.
Deborah Brown, Dallas, TX	Care about our health! Care about our environment! toxic chemicals need to be banned !
Holly Gardner, Dallas, TX	Seriously - it's a no brainer. No one should wipe their bottom with virgin forest, right?
Eds Gensor, Dallas, TX	You are responsible for ensuring that the products sold on your site Are safe not only for the consumer but also for the environment. This is not something you should take lightly. You must immediately remove any and all products that are toxic and harmful do much better in the future at preventing any harmful products from ever being sold on your site!
Mark Goodman, Dallas, TX	Thanks for reading my letter.
Susybel Gosslee, Dallas, TX	I do my part. Please do your part to prevent hazardous products being on sale.
Ram & Nagamma Kilaru, Dallas, TX	We both are Physicians and urge you to take action. Thank you, Ram
Mark Lee, Dallas, TX	My am a frequent Amazon buyer And Prime member. I'm also an eBay buyer and seller. I will not support either company if this practice continues.
Miriam Matthews-Fields, Dallas, TX	Please stop putting Mercury and other poisons in our products!
Pamela Reeves, Dallas, TX	Put them out of business. They should know better. The Public should know how these big businesses work so they can improve for the better.
Martha Eberle, Dripping Springs, TX	Bad for you, and the message is bad, that you're not beautiful with dark skin. Bah humbug!
Abby Ortegon, El Paso, TX	STOP encouraging self destruction
Didy Vargas, El Paso, TX	Check for FDA REGULATIONS
Guadalupe Yanez, El Paso, TX	Truly sad! You sell anything for money. You really don't care to investigate if a product is safe to use and safe for the environment. Remove all hazardous products that you carelessly are selling. Shame on you, you simply don't care!!!!
Yolanda Alvarez, Fort Worth, TX	Please think about your wife's, daughter's, and Granddaughter's!
Victoria and James Lamb, Frisco, TX	If mercury-based skin creams are being sold at your sites, and I do tend to trust the Sierra Club, then please stop selling them. Besides being dangerous to the users, the concept of aiding in skin lightening is insupportable. But, we'll put that aside and stick to the hazards to the user. Please stop. Fond Amazon user - Victoria Lamb
Robin Touchton, Frisco, TX	I am a Prime member however, finding out you are slowly killing your own people for the love of money is a bad business decision and I will be watching how you handle this! Concerned member-Robin
Mark Daniels, Galveston, TX	Please use your power to do positive things this world needs, and prevent bad products and people from damaging the planet
Diane Wonio, Galveston, TX	Modern beauty and health are not about toxicity.
Charles Newsom, Georgetown, TX	Mercury causes brain damage.
Melanie Schuchart, Gunter, TX	I have come to trust that amazon will not sell items that will harm m. This is very concerning and I don't want to lose trust.
Supporter Unknown, Harlingen, TX	Stop supporting these harmful products. You'll stay rake in thousands of dollars without selling these products.

Ben Garrett, Heath, TX	Plenty of profit to be made without endangering your customers.
Jane & Ben Garrett, Heath, TX	Plenty of profit to be made elsewhere.
Deborah Alvarado, Houston, TX	Deborah Alvarado
Ziba Bastani, Houston, TX	These products have high levels of toxins that put the health of users in jeopardy. Please stop selling these products. All skin colors are equally beautiful. No one needs to change their skin color, especially at such a high risk. We need to change our culture of superficiality, of course, but please, do your part in taking these dangerous products off the market, for now. Thanks for your prompt attention.
Linda Bedre Vaughn, Houston, TX	All skin color is beautiful and women don't have to be poisoned to feel that they are beautiful and the culture needs to shift, not women being poisoned.
Melanie Davis, Houston, TX	We count on you to help protect us....please
Sheila Greene, Houston, TX	How sad it is that the mighty dollar means more to some companies than taking care of Mother Earth and all of the folks who call her Home!
Laurel Hays, Houston, TX	These products are sold under the premise that lighter (or whiter) is better. This is racist! Do not perpetuate a racist premise for profit.
Sara Henderson, Houston, TX	Protect the earth now and enjoy the benefits!! Educate your customers and build your business on values everyone can get behind. Climate is not political, it's a fact of LIFE
Ginger Himelright, Houston, TX	I buy a lot from Amazon and hope you will do the right thing!
Mary Hoffman, Houston, TX	Please regulate safety of products applied to skin or ingested. At least offer warnings on site. I expect this from you as a customer.
Juli Kring, Houston, TX	I have been an Amazon customer for years. Why on earth would you sell mercury based skin creams?
Sue Lehrer, Houston, TX	appreciate your support for world health Sue Lehrer PhD
Esteban Longoria, Houston, TX	Free market and capitalism do not work when people take advantage of others. We trust your products on Amazon and Ebay to be safe, but when companies have no scruples, it hurts all of us. STOP selling products that can endanger the life of others.
Thomas Moore, Houston, TX	I care.
Jay Nair, Houston, TX	Skin lightening creams are a scam and enforce unhealthy stereotypes of beauty on impressionable young people. You've made your money. Now stop selling them.
Chris Nicolosi, Houston, TX	I a big user of both Amazon and Ebay and I agree with this message!
Adam Robertson, Houston, TX	It is abhorrent that Amazon and eBay would shirk their moral responsibility to monitor the safety of the products.
Ann Sever, Houston, TX	Please do your part in correcting this wrong
Elizabeth Smith, Houston, TX	Please take a stand to help our environment.
Johnny Whitright, Houston, TX	Please take action now.
Anthea Wray, Houston, TX	CRIMINAL!!!
John French, Irving, TX	I am very disappointed to learn that you would allow unsafe products to be sold through your company. I wonder what else you're allowing to be sold that could be dangerous. Please don't make my Amazon Prime into Amazon Crime and Ebay into Ebad. You have the power to do so much better! Be brave and do the right thing for us. Thank you!

Laurie Harris, Irving, TX	People shouldn't have to suffer just because they want or need to use cosmetics on their skin. Donald Trump uses cosmetics on his skin but he can afford to purchase cosmetics that don't contain deadly mercury. The rest of us want to purchase safe cosmetics so that we don't have to suffer for it. I want to keep mercury out of cosmetics so people don't have to suffer. Is that asking too much?
Loretto Daza, Katy, TX	Amazon needs to screen better these Chinese sellers. not all but most are crooks and unethical sellers that only care for profit
N R, Katy, TX	Skin lightening cream is racist. Mercury kills.
Pam Evans, Kemp, TX	stop selling this poison now!!
Martha Garza, Killeen, TX	Please see for the good of others it could be your family using these products as well.
Alessandra Gamboa, Kingwood, TX	The health of a living being is more important than the sale of a product. Please remove harmful products from your websites to prevent them from being sold to people who mistakenly think they are safe.
Eric Newby, Kirbyville, TX	Making more money is NOT a valid reason to sell ANYTHING that causes harm to ANYTHING...
Jessie Wheat, Krugerville, TX	Don't hurt women with those products.
Pam Knab, Lakeway, TX	This is appalling and disappointing!
Jay Groppe, Lancaster, TX	Losses to Jeff Bezos- infinitesimal. Losses to people and planet-severe. Please stop this crime.
Dominique Boschetti, League City, TX	You are hurting people! Invest in a unifying and countenancing campaign to reduce colorism! We are all humans Dominique Boschetti
Nara Wood, Leonard, TX	You should sell no products that are a danger to buyers. Mercury is an extremely dangerous product and you should not be selling any products that contain it. At the very least, you should include a Surgeon General's warning complete with details of the effects of mercury on human health.
Lisa Black, Lewisville, TX	Quit selling stuff that poisons people! After all of we all die , who going to buy all your crap!?
Stephanie Barbuschak, Lubbock, TX	Please stop the sale of toxic products. Please promote natural beauty instead and encourage true health in your customers.
Edith Reed, Manchaca, TX	We need to protect our citizens and our environment, not promote unhealthy practices
Maria Cristina Beato-Lanz, Manor, TX	How can you allow this???? Don't you realize you are complicit in a crime?
Sharon Bramblett, Manor, TX	Stop poisoning people of color. If you don't make these products available, they won't be compelled to buy then.
Cindy McReynolds, Mansfield, TX	I feel certain that you as a responsible corporate executives are made aware of the dangerous nature of the mercury in skin lightening products you will take immediate action to remove them from sell by your organization.
Kathy Cott, Mesquite, TX	I use some skin lightening products for my dark spots on my face. I don't want to be exposed to mercury.
William Forbes, Nacogdoches, TX	Global trade needs to be responsible.
Carol Creech, North Richland Hills, TX	As a public health professional I am extremely concerned that you are not adequately vetting your third-party sellers in order to prevent the sale of illegal and/or toxic merchandise. Given the huge profits that you generate, the least you could do is hire enough employees to adequately vet and remove dangerous products from your sites.

Felicitto Guerrero, Paige, TX	I don't understand why this is happening. What sort of corporate employees are condoning selling these illegal materials. This is unnecessary and I urge you to improve your corporate image by stopping these sales.
Letha McClure, Paige, TX	Please send a message to the manufacturers of these dangerous product's that you care about your customers to much to endanger their health.
Jason Nino, Pampa, TX	It is somethong that should matter to all of us. We need to make sure that those products won't be sold and we have to make sure that people doesn't feel like they need to use those products. If we don't nothing will change.
Renee Fox-Turbush, Pasadena, TX	Because I care
Harley Williams, Pasadena, TX	Please show you care about people above money.
Sylvia Guzman, Pearland, TX	Simply put, this is just the right thing to do.
Kathy Stageberg, Plano, TX	I want to be able to depend on and trust your products. If I cannot do so, I am forced to shop elsewhere. I do not personally use the products listed above, but I wonder about other products you are selling.
Laurel Piersol, Richardson, TX	My goodness, Mercury is a toxic heavy metal that is a biohazard/biowaste they won't even take at the dump. It has no place on people's skin! Please do not sell these toxic creams! I am a person who has fought my way back from a chemical and mold injury, so I know how awful being sick from contaminants is.
Linda Sears, Richardson, TX	I happen to think that dark skin is beautiful. But we live in a culture that discriminated against darker skin people. Is it any wonder desperate people fall victim to products that are purported to make them more successful? Please have no part in spreading this hateful idea that dark skin should be lightened. Do not allow sellers of psychological and physical poisons on your sites. These lightening creams are dangerous. Thank you for listening and being responsible for the products that you sell.
Lois Essells, Richmond, TX	As an Amazon Prime member I hate to think that I am participating in a business that harms others through products they sell. Please stop selling these dangerous products.
Madeleine Runyan, Richmond, TX	If you do decide to regulate or limit these products. Thank you.
Christina Campos, San Antonio, TX	There is no place for colorism- or toxic products- in our world or on Amazon. Integrity over profit please
Mae Ersson, San Antonio, TX	What are you thinking...?!!
Christopher Hathaway, San Antonio, TX	Mercury is highly toxic. You should be doing better than this!
Lisa Johnson, San Antonio, TX	Just because people aren't aware of how dangerous some products are, making money from selling them is NOT a good reason to sell them. Stop it!
Louise Landress, San Antonio, TX	If the FDA won't protect us, you must.
Shirley Lee Sanders, San Antonio, TX	Please ?just stop ?
Richard Searles, San Antonio, TX	We should expect large corporations such as yours, which are known to almost everyone, to only sell products which are legal and safe. Strong warnings should accompany any product that might be harmful to a user or purchaser.
Rebecca Yost, San Antonio, TX	Good grief. Black is beautiful and and even worse you are selling stuff that is toxic? You make enough money as it is . This won't hurt your bottom line. And life is more important anyway. Get with the program. Life is good

Joanne Coffey, Seguin, TX	Amazon and eBay companies are taking advantage of women who think that to be beautiful, they need to buy products to lighten their skin. Please stop selling these products.
Marvel and Bobbie Maddox, Seguin, TX	Every corporate citizen should be invested in the protection of people for the common good. It's the only decent thing to do! Please put people before greed!
Charlyn Kinter, Sugar Land, TX	No Mas
William Davis, Tyler, TX	I am not a person of color but I think it is deplorable that skin lightening products with mercury are sold to anyone.
Linfa Filgo, Waco, TX	Please?
Staci Pippin, Weatherford, TX	please stop selling these things!
Gun-Britt Barkman, Unknown, UN	I will leve
Marina Bekker, Unknown, UN	respect the skin! ALL SKIN!
Angela Brooke-Ward, Unknown, UN	You need to be responsible for your advertising and selling!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
Jeanne Bulla, Unknown, UN	Please do not support the internalized racism that says lighter skin is worth dying for.
Brittany Daniels, Unknown, UN	I refuse to use any skincare products that contain high levels of mercury.
Maki Diaz, Unknown, UN	Stop selling illegal mercury-laden skin lightening products!
Linda Gregg, Unknown, UN	You have credibility problem selling these products - why risk the health of your customers, let alone do the decent thing? you may not-believe it but money isn't everything
Mark Jones, Unknown, UN	I see that making money from beauty products that hasten the enfeeblement, and later death, of Amazon customers with known poisons is a deeply despicable thing to do!
Skip Jones, Unknown, UN	Wrong is wrong... I buy from place that do the right thing... No longer time for tolerance or acceptance it is time for anti racism...
terry lewis, Unknown, UN	I am a loyal eBay member for the last 10+ years and would like eBay to stop the selling of such items!
Libbi Logue-McFarland, Unknown, UN	Stop perpetuating this insidious process.
Bente Millek, Unknown, UN	you are slowly killing innocent naive victims by allowing this to happen. your rep is now disgusting. makes me wish i had not used your sites at all
Robin Mize, Unknown, UN	We are prime members and hope that you will become more environmentally conscious!
gefen mor, Unknown, UN	promotes negative beauty standards and normalizes it by continuing to market and advertise for it!!
Lisbeth Slabotsky, Unknown, UN	How can you sleep at night?
Gay Spies, Unknown, UN	Skin colour should not be relevant in today's world. I urge you to stop selling and advertising products which purport to whiten skin which at the same time expose the users to toxic and harmful chemicals.
Carolyn Jackson, Bluff, UT	Ultimately, I would prefer that a government agency ban these products, but until that becomes reality, you as a corporation have an obligation to protect your customers.
Sharon Rothe, Cedar Valley, UT	Stop coning the american women to thinking they are getting a wonderful product that can help them when it is not so. Please remove these harmful products from your marketplace.

Steven Smith, Centerville, UT	We need less hazardous things in our life not more.
Robert Townley, Heber City, UT	Bob Townley
Anna Eyring, Holladay, UT	Companies like yours can help protect the public. Please do the right thing for all of us.
Lisa Rutherford, Ivins, UT	There are enough entities working to undermine our health, please have Amazon be a company that stands for health.
Brenda Woolstenhulme, Lehi, UT	It's terrible to contribute to racism by selling such products instead of programs for inclusiveness! Put your money towards unifying people!
Claudia Blyth, Logan, UT	It's sadly irresponsible that your companies are making money by selling products which cause harm to your customers.
Daniel Anson, Salt Lake City, UT	If you care at all about the health of this country then you know that you must make the choice to prevent toxic chemicals from harming people.
Pinar Bayrak, Salt Lake City, UT	Please make world is better place with the power you have.
Carrie Black, Salt Lake City, UT	Do you really want your companies associated with selling mercury for people to rub on themselves?
Amy Bridan, Salt Lake City, UT	My daughter is black and I don't want her to ever get the message that black isn't beautiful. By selling these products, you are perpetuating that racist myth. Please stop! She is so beautiful with her chocolate brown skin.
Felicia Marie Cotton, Salt Lake City, UT	colonialism is toxically killing people of color.
Heather Dove, Salt Lake City, UT	Many of these products also contain high levels of lead! These products should not be sold in this country or anywhere else.
Myrna Fisher, Salt Lake City, UT	To continue selling dangerous products once the danger is known constitutes reckless endangerment: and hopefully, if you are stupid enough to keep it up, you will eventually be sued (you are aware, are you not, that Monsanto has a several billion dollar judgment against it from the sale of Roundup's role in causing non-Hodgkins Lymphoma. Somebody is eventually going to get the idea to sue the sellers as well, as knowing accessories. Can't be too soon! Knowingly profiting from the cause of the misery of others should be a criminal offense as well.
Nidia Mc Mullen, Salt Lake City, UT	Selling these illegal products to make money at the cost of people's health is unacceptable. As a consumer of your companies for many years, utilizing your services, I cannot support companies that don't put the health and well-being of their consumers before the prospect of making money. Please eliminate these products that do people harm. Thank you!
Reba Reiser, Salt Lake City, UT	You are one of the few people in our country who has the real resources to make the biggest difference. Please do the right thing and help save this amazing planet.
Holly Stuart, Salt Lake City, UT	This should never have been an issue in the first place. It certainly should have been cleared up the instant it was brought to your attention. Fix it now.
Madeleine Walker, Salt Lake City, UT	All colors are beautiful.
Tristana Yegge, Salt Lake City, UT	Thank you for taking these concerns seriously, Tristana
Kathryn Albury, Slc, UT	We want to be able to trust that what we buy from you is safe. Please demand that your sellers provide proof from reputable labs about the safety of their products.

M Garrett, South Jordan, UT	I am an Amazon customer and I want action on this issue immediately.
Vern Juchau, Spanish Fork, UT	Please prove that you are a responsible organization by banning the sale of toxic products to the public
Ken Cross, Washington, UT	trump is a thug and a moron
Karen Edwards, West Jordan, UT	Thanks
Isabella Morillo, West Jordan, UT	We get it if it aint white it aint right but we love our color and dont need that type of negativity in our lives.
Joan Adair, Alexandria, VA	Although I am white, I'm upset that you don't look into the effects of items you sell. When those items affect one human, they affect us all.
Susan Boyd, Alexandria, VA	I am deeply concerned that the source everyone turns to for shopping sells products that are so dangerous.
Sharon Dunfrund, Alexandria, VA	It's terrible in this day and age that shoppers can't trust the suppliers to be selling safe products. If you are so lax about something as dangerous as Mercury in products applied to the skin, how safe is anything you sell?!!!!
Patricia Rowell, Alexandria, VA	Gentlemen, such dangerous sales are not necessary for you to rake in tons more money. However, your sales can injure many innocent people and all in our environment. Show some common sense and empathy and stop this greediness.
Susan Samuels, Alexandria, VA	You will feel good about yourself. Many Blessings.
Michael Carter, Annandale, VA	do the right thing---and selling these products aint it. wake up bezos and wenig
Teresa Laughlin, Appomattox, VA	Safety should always be the #1 concern in products consumers routinely purchase. But sadly, it is not. Amazon and eBay, being some of the largest online sites, could easily remove mercury-based products from their website. Think of the impact this action would have on the safety of the people purchasing your products. I would anticipate loyalty would skyrocket if you removed mercury-based skin creams from sale on your sites. People appreciate it when large companies stand up and say "No More" to products known to be a safety hazard.
	Thank you for your time and patience in reading my comments.
	With Kind Regards,
	Teresa Laughlin
Dean Amel, Arlington, VA	As a resident of Arlington, VA, I'm glad you're coming to town, but please stop selling products like these.
Elizabeth Deogratias, Arlington, VA	My mother had vertiligo and thank God she did not use skin bleaches. This is something that could kill women of color. It has no reasonable use except for evil-doers to make money by persuading women that lighter skin is preferable to their own color. STOP MAKING MONEY OFF RACISM.
Barbara Nash, Arlington, VA	By taking this step, Amazon can be part of the solution rather than part of the problem.
Linda Schneider, Arlington, VA	Your businesses should want to protect their reputations for selling legal and safe products. Consumers using your websites should have the confidence that at least the products you sell are legal and free from substancaes that have been banned as harmful. I recognize that beauty products may not always do what the advertisers claim, and that is for the consumer to evaluate, but consumers should not have to worry about being harmed by substances that they apply to their skin, where they are readily absorbed into the body. Overall, your businesses need to do a better job of screening out toxic or illegal products, and these especially.

Debra Marcum, Aylett, VA	Please do the responsible thing and stop selling these products.
Elizabeth Struthers Malbon, Blacksburg, VA	What a cheap and immoral way to make money--on the basis of prejudicial attitudes!
Jay Howard, Centreville, VA	Please don't market life endangering products.
Dorothy Johnson, Centreville, VA	I am a Registered Nurse concerned about public health and safety.
Louisa Bradford, Charlottesville, VA	Are you thinking? I am an Amazon stockholder. Please reconsider what you are doing.
Adrienne Eichner, Charlottesville, VA	Please stop selling these products. It's 2019 and we shouldn't have to discuss this at all. Things should be better in the buying market and as a consumer it's scary to think that you're allowing products that are hurtful to be bought and sold through you at your profit.
	Adrienne Eichner
Rich Gregory, Charlottesville, VA	Stop poisoning people. Do you want to face litigation like the Roundup people?
	rich
Rebecca Keller, Charlottesville, VA	It would also be better not to sell any chemicals known to be toxic to individuals. You have a giant corporation, lots of leverage, and this would be a great opportunity to do something good. I don't think it will really effect the bottom line either
Richard Mcgrain, Charlottesville, VA	You're selling dangerous products! Don't say you haven't been warned!
Susan Washko, Charlottesville, VA	What could be more important than NOT POISONING your customers?!?
Gladys Overton, Chesapeake, VA	YES, ABSOLUTELY STOP!!!!
Bleu-D'A... Matthews, Chesterfield, VA	Ban such toxins from the consumers marketplace!
John Mcpeek, Fairfax, VA	You grow your business by removing your customers' skin? wotta plan!
Terry Orie, Fairfax, VA	Please be a true Leader. The world needs real Leaders now. Tomorrow will be too late.
Tammy Tayman, Fairfax, VA	Please do the right thing and stop selling these toxic items! Thank you!
Steven Vogel, Falls Church, VA	Our personal boycotts continue...
Sandra Howson, Fredericksburg, VA	To be trusted as a company, you must not poison your customers!
Lindsay King, Grundy, VA	I buy significantly from both eBay and Amazon. Please stop!
Dorcie Jasperse, Haymarket, VA	Sadly our society is not strong and ethics matter. Do the ethical thing, keep products on you sites clean and safe.
	Dorcie Jasperse, Virginia
Joanne Fairbanks, Henrico, VA	I'm only one person, but I'm representative of many thousands. If Amazon and ebay continue to use their heft to sell dangerous products, I will have to consider divorcing myself from these companies.

Mary Ann Mcfarland, Keswick, VA	As a lifelong user of beauty products, I am outraged that a company of Amazon's size and influence would sell skin-lightening products containing toxic ingredients such as mercury. I could have unknowingly bought and used such products and suffered their harmful effects.
Erika Boka, King George, VA	Help people to help themselves by refusing to sell harmful products.
Amanda Fordyce, Leesburg, VA	These products are wrong & make me uncomfortable.I can't help but have pale skin,I was born with it.But to use toxic chemicals on your skin is wrong & unnatural.
Kd Kidder, Leesburg, VA	Do the right thing
Tamara Prince, Linden, VA	Trump is already poisoning us: food supply, air, drinking water. DON'T ADD TO IT.
JP Sarr, Manassas, VA	Mercury is extremely toxic to people and animals. About 10 percent of people, due to genetic polymorphisms, are even more at risk of chronic toxicity, due to a reduced ability to excrete mercury. Mercury is toxic to the brains of children and fetuses. Time to take mercury toxicity seriously!
Rekha Nadkarni, Mc Lean, VA	Please stand up for Corporate Responsibility!
Beverly Bugos, Phd, McLean, VA	Your action on this matter would help show that you are not just another greedy company just out to make a profit - no matter how.
Nelda Snyder, Mechanicsville, VA	Please stop selling that stuff
Louise Buttermore, Newport News, VA	our genius enabled you to build a world-class company. Now it's time for you to find some social conscience and start doing the "right thing."
Roberto Lovick, Norfolk, VA	I Totally agree
Lynne Miceli, Norfolk, VA	Why isn't it illegal to advertise this? Amazon & E-bay need to stop participating.
Ann Bicking, North Chesterfield, VA	This is sick
Sharon Lommel, North Chesterfield, VA	I was born and raised in St. Cloud. This matters to me because the population faces enough problems existing in St. Cloud without this danger.
Maria Sickinger, Oak Hill, VA	Consumers deserve better. Please do the right thing.
Karen Miran, Oakton, VA	Please help keep your clients safe from proven dangers!
Tara Wheeler, Oakton, VA	Happy Fall!
	Take care & God Bless All . . .
Kathy Batkin, Portsmouth, VA	I like to think your company has the good health of your customers in mind and will work to protect their health when necessary. This is one of those necessary times.
Shayna Bowman, Portsmouth, VA	We have the ability to ensure that only safe products make it into the hands of consumers. Let's take action!
Mary Curro, Portsmouth, VA	There is enough pollution in the world as of now...to add to it is inhumane!
Julia Grothaus Veal, Purcellville, VA	Mercury is dangerous to anyone. It is especially dangerous for anyone under 25, the age at which the brain has finished maturing for most people. Minors and young adults are at risk for more damage than older adults. Please do not import mercury hazards into the country.
Suzanne Hamilton, Reston, VA	I ask this because there are too many people who unwittingly buy products that can have devastating effects on them. Please stop seelling these dangerous products. Suzanne Hamilton

Linda Hertz, Reston, VA	The FDA/Government is not doing what it should be doing, protecting Americans.... so please you make sure that mercury-based creams will not be sold through Amazon.
Jane Mccubbin, Reston, VA	Too many people think if something is for sale it has to be safe....
Brooke Pridemore, Reston, VA	Protect your consumers from harmful ingredients. As well protect them from continuing racist ideals of beauty in the form of lightening creams.
Kathryn Moore, Richmond, VA	Don't sell toxic and dangerous products
Denise Pascal, Richmond, VA	For generations, women have had to starve to fit into societal norms of unrealistic VOGUE norms of perfection. We are now claiming our own beauty; all sizes and COLORS. This is insulting, as women we should boycott Amazon and EBAY.
Mary-Helen Sullivan, Richmond, VA	Companies should also be proactive in protecting consumers!
Elaine Becker, Roanoke, VA	Stop letting them poison people!
Carol Pruner, Roanoke, VA	Please consider people's health and don't sell items that threaten people's health.
Luci Wright, Roanoke, VA	Not only are the components of the products toxic, but so is the message that people are not acceptable with their natural born skin color. We need tolerance and good health for all. Do not contribute to the demise of either.
William & Judith Dent, Rockingham, VA	It would disgrace any company found to be marketing such toxic products. Remove them and preserve your reputation!
Tamsin Stewart, Ruckersville, VA	As a Prime member I'm appalled to learn this! We must openly CELEBRATE dark skin as the beautiful asset it is! Please stop? Thank you!
Gretchen Boise, Salem, VA	Get with it.
Sani Gray, Stafford, VA	Be proud of who u r & stop copying fr mags, tv ads, etc. A
Emma Jones, Sterling, VA	Please stop selling these lightening creams. It sends a message that skin needs to be white to be acceptable. Emma Jones
Elizabeth Krome, Toano, VA	We should be able to trust that the products we buy on Amazon are not toxic. Please honor our trust!
Linda Hayes, Va Beach, VA	Because it's the right thing to do.
Janet Keane, Vienna, VA	When I buy a product from Amazon, eBay or any other business, I naturally assume that if you market and sell it, it has left your facility with your name and assurance of a safe quality product. It certainly would have a serious negative impact on your company name and reputation. Needless to say, if your customer generously slathers this product on their skin as directed it could not have toxic substances like mercury. Surely your product has been screened for safety. If it has your company name, it must have your assurance it is a viable safe product!!!
Stephen Hackney, Virginia Beach, VA	Heavy metals, including especially Mercury in its many forms, are toxic to the human body and don't belong on our skin at any time. These products that are formulated with Mercury are technically illegal to be sold on the open market and are definitely poisonous to all of us! Stop selling these toxic skin-lightening creams...!
Sam Inabinet, Virginia Beach, VA	Your actions and inactions regarding this and all related concerns have been, are being and will be remembered by all of us who will live in the world that you are shaping with your decisions right now, in addition to being a matter of public record. We are all on it together.

Jane Montoya, Virginia Beach, VA	Pleas be more responsible. It is essential that we ALL do EVERYTHING we possibly can to restore our environment. I am a biologist who has done a lot of research in this area. It's a terrifying time. Please take it seriously. Thank you
Ellie Clark, Washington, VA	You wouldn't give these dangerous products to your own children, or your parents! How can you in good conscience sell them at all??
Susan Thames, Williamsburg, VA	Yuck! Why would you support this?
Erica Hebert, St Thomas, VI	Please do the right thing. It shouldn't always be about making money. Thank you
Sharon Liebert, Braintree, VT	You are in a position to take a leadership role here and to make a real difference. Please start now!
Diana Bain, Bridport, VT	Killing or poisoning people is no way to sell products!
ERIN MAZUR, Bristol, VT	Amazon's reputation is on the line here. Its becoming more and more of a gamble to buy products from Amazon.
Kieran Edraney, Burlington, VT	I like to think of eBay as the ethical amazon so please don't make me stop using you. Amazon, just straight up do better.
Sue Westin, Dorset, VT	To not make these changes is unconscientiable! Do in the U.S. what you are voluntarily doing in Europe.
Ann Schroeder, Dummerston, VT	I didn't even know about this issue but it's terrible! I can't believe mercury is being sold to lighten skin It is so toxic. I will boycott both Amazon and eBay until this is removed from your products. Ann
Lillian Pickering, Essex Junction, VT	Please just stop being harmful knowingly, it makes you the textbook definition of EVIL. Just stop!
Barbara Lantery, Fairlee, VT	Do not sell any product containing mercury!
Kate Kenner, Guilford, VT	Such racist products are abhorrent. For years black women have been told that light/white skin is better. it is not and the skin they are born with whether light or dark is perfect. Stop promoting racism and the false belief that white is right. You endanger their feeling about themselves as black women but also their health. As if black/women do not face enough problems you also want them poisoned?
Carl Bucholt, Manchester Town of, VT	Is it really necessary for you to sell these harmful products? Aren't you making enough money without them?
Miss Novella Adoue, Manchestr Ctr, VT	Let me say this....here is an opportunity to BOYCOTT both of you....it appears to me that you want to annihilate the human existence on this planet due to your negligence.
David Giguere, Montpelier, VT	You do not need to sell these whiteners. Do the right thing.
Giordano & Lorraine Checchi, Plainfield, VT	We sure use your services a lot, but we can also do without them.
Judy Grant, Poultney, VT	Have a conscience! These products hurt people.
Madeleine Wennerstrom, Randolph, VT	Perhaps the products you sell should be vetted before you offer them to the customer. You don't want to poison your customers now do you?
Judith Lusk, Roxbury, VT	Convince me that you want the thousands of dollars I have spent on your sites each year! I'm close to leaving.
Marie Luhr, Shelburne, VT	I believe being a large and powerful company carries huge responsibility to the public. Selling false and toxic products is shameful.

Dan Robinson, Shelburne, VT	These compounds pose significant safety risks. Please stop marketing these skin creams.
Iris Darling, South Burlington, VT	I try so hard to avoid harmful substances in my skin care. Please help me in my quest for safe products.
Eliza Ferry, South Royalton, VT	Would you allow mercury to be an ingredient in Viagra? Mercury in skin-lightening products is no different.
Frederick Cressman, Thetford, VT	Remember the Mad Hatter
Janice SolekTefft, Underhill, VT	I have been a Peace Corps Volunteer in several different countries and have seen the terrible results of these skin whitening creams! Please have INTEGRITY and STOP SELLING THEM!
Richard M Roderick, Wells River, VT	You have the ability to do what is right and be a business person protecting your customers or you could continue to be a money grabbing a profiteer who doesn't care about your customers. Your choice.
Alex Howe, Williston, VT	The availability of skin-lightening creams is part of a system of racist beauty expectations that put down people of color, often women.
Shelly Peterson, Anacortes, WA	Thankyou for your time and consideration on doing the right thing by taking this issue very seriously.
benjamin Wilmot, Anacortes, WA	Please help protect uninformed consumers
JoAnn Johnson, Auburn, WA	My granddaughter buys make-up from your sites, or rather she used to. My daughter as well. When we found out you didnt check out your third party sellers, they both stopped asap. We are all very cautious of what we buy from your sites now. And i have nearly stopped completely. If we can't rely on you to sell safe quality products, low prices and free shipping aren't going to persuade any of us to continue to shop with you. Honesty and integrity should be standard and encouraged.
I. Danilovs, Bellevue, WA	Use Trump spunk!
Oolaa Kaplan, Bellevue, WA	How dare you Mr Bezos sell a product with poisonous ingredients to people of color!
Rebecca Nimmons, Bellevue, WA	Doing the right thing is always the right thing to do. I can't imagine intentionally endangering others when there is knowledge of the potential danger.
Carol Essick, Bellingham, WA	Do the right thing. Be responsible.
Peggy Gardner, Bellingham, WA	This matter is very concerning. Mercury is an incredibly toxic substance and no one should be putting it on their skin. People should not be encouraged to lighten their skin for your profit!
George Lawrence, Bellingham, WA	As a retired physician and former associate professor of medicine, I have long had a serious interest in public health issues. Mercury, especially its more biologically active forms of methylmercury and dimethylmercury, is a particular toxic heavy metal. Its effects are particularly prominent in children, but problems occur also in adults with coordination, vision, balance and coordination, speech and visuospatial awareness are central. Kidney damage is another important non-neurologic toxicity. Historically, the disease was sometimes called mad-hatter's disease, since these artisans used mercury in curing some of their materials for manufacturing hats.
Nina Nancarrow, Bellingham, WA	Marketing these products is damaging to your reputation. People trust Amazon - they shouldn't. Please keep these products off of popular retail platforms.
Patricia Higgins, Blaine, WA	Anything for profit! You are disgusting! Where do you think these products go as they are washed down the drain? Oh, I forgot. You could care less about health and our environment..

Jerilyn Hall, Bonney Lake, WA	Access your conscience and integrity--do not harm your customers!!!!
Jerilyn And David Hall, Bonney Lake, WA	Protect your consumers from harm. We will appreciate your integrity.
Elizabeth O'Day, Bothell, WA	Thanks for making the safety of people a priority over profit!
Karen C, Bremerton, WA	This is abhorrent in this day and age. You talk about helping the environment and climate, yet allow mercury to be sold to people in skincare creams. Please do the right thing. Thank you for your time and consideration.
Melissa Cole, Camas, WA	As a licensed esthetician and skin care specialist it's pertinent that we make the step to removing such toxic products off your market not only are consumers misinformed about how these products work to lighten the skin but they look to you as a seller for trust that you would not be selling them toxic products. Ironically most consumers are aware of the dangers that could be associated with using lightening products but many women are willing to take the risk and use lightening products regardless of the long term affects in order to conform to present day beauty standards. Let's take the step together and change that. By removing non-plant based lightening products off your market place we can start a revolution for tomorrow and change society's standard of beauty for the better. Thanks for your time
Lynda Cunningham, Camas, WA	Unethical and shameful to continue.
Lynda Cunningham, Camas, WA	Shameful to sell such products.
Lyndee Cunningham, Camas, WA	Shameful ethics.
Monica Jolley, Carnation, WA	I am certain that you all will take the morally correct action! ?
Janet Hull, Coupeville, WA	Do unto others as you would have them do unto you
Patty Ensign, Covington, WA	Please STOP selling these toxic products on your web sites!
Jack Mackie, Edmonds, WA	I don't purchase anything from Amazon and I quit e-Bay.
Jamie Harker, Everett, WA	Yiiiiikes.
Margo McGinley, Everett, WA	Mercury is very poisonous. The Dental industry put it in amalgam fillings years ago, but stopped. I know this as I was a Dental assistant years ago!! You should do the same!!!
Michael Mendiola, Everett, WA	STOP SELLING ILLEGAL MERCURY-LADEN SKIN LIGHTENING PRODUCTS! And Pay Your Fair Share of Taxes!!
Carol Simmer, Ferndale, WA	Carol Simmer
David Meier, Index, WA	As an Amazon and ebay shopper, I ask you to, please, do the right thing.
Cheri Sayer, Kent, WA	As one of the largest marketplaces, I expect you to live up to high standards of integrity in the products available through your website. Difficult as it may be, it is important that these products be removed from your websites.
Robin Hordon, Kingston, WA	EARTHCARE...not...SKINCARE!
Marco De La Rosa, Kirkland, WA	STOP selling POISONOUS Mercury-contaminated Lightening products... or we will STOP buying things from Amazon !!
Kc Young, Kirkland, WA	As a corporate leader you have a moral obligation to sell products that are safe for the public!

Irene Blanchard, La Conner, WA	Unconscionable greed - so being sued wasn't a sufficient wake-up call? Imagine these users are your friends, your family. Is that how you want to be - a money-making, sell-anything-to-make-a-profit, we-can-afford-the-penaltie$, kind of marketplace? Shameful.
Glen Anderson, Lacey, WA	BOYCOTT YOU !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
Joel Carlson, Lacey, WA	Global warming fossil fuels must stay in the ground to save us from the 6th great mass extinction of life on earth! We must only use lower cost solar and wind energy in the future. We must plant new forests, switch to sustainable plant based farming and restore estuaries that save carbon in the ground as well. This is urgent!
Dianne Hurst, Lacey, WA	These products sound very dangerous!
Gloria Harris, Lake Forest Park, WA	Please stop poisoning our neighbors.
Murnna Pesce, Lake Stevens, WA	Ban these disgusting products. Boycott Amazon & eBay!
Glenda Poukkula, Lake Stevens, WA	Please pay attention and put protocols in place to protect your consumers and loyal customers and show you care!
R Duncan Bond, Langley, WA	This is just completely insane! STOP! Enough already.
Wanda Cucinotta, Lummi Island, WA	Thank you for taking action to insure our safety from using your sponsored products.
James Haas, Lynnwood, WA	Companies must stop selling harmful products. Profits should NEVER be put ahead our health. If companies don't start acting responsibility then we need to shut them down.
Carolyn Boyles, Mead, WA	I can't believe this is a thing. Just don't sell poison.
Gloria McClintock, Mount Vernon, WA	I have a rare blood disease and need protection against toxins in my environment.
Lisa Ceazan, Olympia, WA	As an act of social and racial justice in addition as a concern for public health, refuse to sell these products!
CJ Estabrook, Olympia, WA	Down with Jeff Bezos! He is essentially a James Bond villain and if left unchecked he will succeed in global domination.
Katherine Larrabee, Olympia, WA	Do the right thing!
Janet Hobart, Port Ludlow, WA	Do the RIGHT THING!
Toni Sammons, Port Ludlow, WA	Talk about nuts.
Kim Wilson, Port Orchard, WA	Kimburli Wilson
William Miller, Port Townsend, WA	The wellbeing of its citizens is an underlying responsibility of every government official- elected and appointed
Melissa Rubin, Poulsbo, WA	I stop a lot on Amazon! I understand it is difficult to regulate everyone, and if anyone can do it Mr Bezos you can! I do not shop on ebay very often but here is another reason not to! Thank you for your attention!
Johanna Zamora, Pullman, WA	The environment, stupid!
Lauren Tolle-Bulley, Puyallup, WA	I have always assumed that products sold via Amazon & eBay were safe and stand corrected. Toxic chemicals need to be carefully used in ways that meet EPA standards. It seems like we are giving ourselves and our children a world that has a thousand paper cuts. My grandchildren will be darker skinned so this issue is important to me and also new to my awareness. Please take prompt action to take mercury-laden skin lightning products off your websites.
Pamela Meyer, Renton, WA	Please do the right thing, and cease selling these potentially harming products that directly affect people of color. Thank you.

Victoria Velategui, Riverside, WA	These companies have lost my business because of their insatiable need for profit regardless of harm to consumers and nature. Amazon and eBay need to lead in a sustainable direction, the new world value for movers and shakers.
Judith Allen, Seattle, WA	If we are going to survive on this planet we must stop the use of all toxic chemicals, especially those that are applied directly to human skin. The time for change is NOW! All the profit you make from selling these toxic products will be for nothing in the end because the effects of climate disaster will get you in the end too!
Elizabeth Cunningham, Seattle, WA	Do you have mercury in the ingredient listing? If it is not there people cannot make an informative choice.
Dr. Demian, Seattle, WA	Also consider that the mercury is washed off of the skin and deposited into sewer systems, to join other toxic waste, eventually run into treatment plants and land fills.
	Thank you.
Ola Edwards, Seattle, WA	Because it is criminal to manufacture and sell toxic products. It is a crime against the earth as well as to the innocent buyers.
Ahava Goldwater, Seattle, WA	This is dangerous, so don't sell it! Ahava
Elizabeth Johnston, Seattle, WA	As my small contribution to the collective health and well-being I am no longer buying products that willfully contribute to the destruction of necessary natural resources. As such, I no longer buy skin lightening products products. I would if they were environmentally sustainable as a lowest benchmark of what makes a good consumer product. You are large distributors to say the least, why not be a leader in healthy distribution as well?
F Loeb, Seattle, WA	Why this matters to me? Given the information that exists today about the effect of toxic metals, I think it is cruel and inhumane to poison a person with mercury. More so, if the poisoning is motivated by profit.
Janice Maher, Seattle, WA	You can do it!! You care! You are concerned about toxic products, thank you, Jan Maher
Sue Minahan, Seattle, WA	People's skins and flowers have the same beauty of describing gorgeous shades and colors! Our population's ready to embrace the great reality of seeing people described by nature in different hues! Diversity makes every essence in nature stronger and humanity needs to recognize that every skin color presents a fascination to glorify just as every flower has uniqueness.
Gregory Mullin, Seattle, WA	Why perpetuate this mindless practice? It makes no sense.
Kellis Parker, Seattle, WA	As a prime member of many years I do hope I can rely on Amazon to take action.
Carolyn Sperry, Seattle, WA	It seems more than obvious that two of the biggest online sales businesses should be concerned about products that put people's health at risk.
Ralph Stephan, Seattle, WA	You are morally liable for potential harm to those who buy your products. Please end these sales!
Victoria Urias, Seattle, WA	I didn't even know this kind of product was on the market!! Mercury is deadly.
Marcy Valencia, Seattle, WA	Mercury is toxic!
Aleeta Van Petten, Seattle, WA	Not only is this unethical, you will very likely be found legally liable for this in the future.
Judith Von Kleinsmid, Seattle, WA	Thank you.
carol hartsock, Sedro Woolley, WA	We must begin now to make a difference! Think about the children if you can't do it for yourself!

Marti Campbell, Sequim, WA	How can you be so unconscionable to allow a poisonous product to be marketed. Please remove anything you have that contains unhealthy ingredients from your marketing and sales.
Carol Grady Macrae, Sequim, WA	A mistaken sense of vanity compels women to buy these products even though they are harmful to users. Continuing to make them available is an abdication of responsibility!
Megan Michaels, Shelton, WA	Selling products that are dangerous makes me not trust you to sell products at all
Valerie Murphy, Shoreline, WA	You're not just a forum for 3rd party sellers. People buy from amazon & eBay because they are trustworthy sources. Allowing toxic & illegal products to be sold is a violation of that trust & a cheap way to dodge responsibility. Take ownership of quality & credibility.
Noel Orr, Shoreline, WA	My god, can't anything be on the market that doesn't kill people or cause extreme illnesses?!?! CARE about the people whose money you take and do due diligence to actually make sure products are safe!
Marie Yarborough, Silverdale, WA	Please do your part in stopping these hazardous products in the market.
Judith Fordham, South Cle Elum, WA	It is a shame that in spite of your protests you STILL sell products on your sites that damage.
Barbara Baumgarten, Spokane, WA	How can you be so insensitive and cruel?
Dr. E. O'Halloran, Spokane, WA	If you do not, you are responsible for brain damage and death. You should go to prison.
Samantha Solomon, Spokane, WA	You must take proactive action. The damage caused from mercury based creams is devastating. It destroys lives.
Gretchen Hoff, Sumas, WA	Please make decisions that positively impact the environment
Pamela Boyles, Tacoma, WA	Selling harmful products just to make a few more dollars put you in the same league with trump.
Judith Miller, Tacoma, WA	We are in a time where our own Government agencies set up to protect us have been compromised. Please, help to bridge this failure of Government by using the information available and protecting the public. We have trusted and supported you with our business, please do not let us down in this period of Government crisis!!! Thank you!!! A Loyal Customer
Marcia Pearson, Tacoma, WA	Please stop selling these toxic products. There are products available that do not harm people and the relative profit you make from these potentially dangerous ones does not justify betraying a standard of quality your customers will respect and appreciate.y
Shelly Early, Tonasket, WA	Vanity is a sin. Stop advocating vanity.
Robin Youngblood, Tonasket, WA	In the first place, people use those products because they're ashamed to have darker skin tones - a true symbol of racism. Secondly, it's mostly people from poorer countries who buy these products, and they are often also the least knowledgeable about the product's components. Please don't let these two uncaring corporations allow these products!
Emily Willoughby, Tukwila, WA	Just a note to let you know I am actually reading and signing the note.
Johanna Barron, Vancouver, WA	There are too many toxins! Please be responsible.
Joni Berinstein, Vancouver, WA	Please use your power as a leader to help all of us in these challenging times.
James Pearl, Vancouver, WA	a product with no real value endangering everybody is grotesque

Ariella Schaaf, Vancouver, WA	Please make it illegal to sell skin-lightning products on Amazon and eBay.
Bonnie Desteiguer, Vashon, WA	There are several things about your business practices that I hate, such as selling books that are not always accurately reproduced, but selling toxic skin care products is the worst!!
Lynn Sharp, Walla Walla, WA	You cannot pretend that because you didn't make the product, you're not part of the problem. You enable all kinds of businesses, most legitimate. To protect the integrity of yourselves and those businesses, you need to not support illegal businesses. You can't test everything, but once evidence is brought to your attention, you can refuse to sell illegal products. It's that straightforward. Please do it.
Marilyn Roberts, Winlock, WA	Why make things that harm people? Would you want your loved-ones to use these harmful products?
Jane Dolence, Adell, WI	We cannot survive without biodiversity. Stop using poison to kill off things that don't fit your idea of worthy. You represent a lousy 1%.
Michael Forster, Appleton, WI	I'm an eBay and Amazon Prime member asking you to stop selling mercury laden skin products!
David Van Grinsven, Appleton, WI	White is not right.
Josh Gilbert, Ashland, WI	Please, help to ensure corporate responsibility.
Katherine Zimmerman, Boyd, WI	There is no point in selling something that is illegal! There is a reason why it is illegal, just like drugs are illegal, do you think those are safe? No, then stop selling products that are hurting others and the enviroment!
Rose Braun, Cudahy, WI	Unbelievable. How can you in good conscience continue to sell something so toxic?
David Zehms, Eau Claire, WI	Do the right thing. Take responsibility for the safety of products sold on your marketplace or loose your profits to the lawyers you need to hire to defend you in the product liability lawsuits. I would encourage you to be proactive and concerned for the safety of your customers.
David Lea, Fish Creek, WI	Both your companies have a great burden of responsibility to the public that supports you!
Laurie Kowing, Fitchburg, WI	Stop poisoning for profit!
Megan Siebert, Fitchburg, WI	These creams teach people to value lighter skin over darker skin and it is truly horrendous to see kids learn colorism from products like these. I teach Kindergarten to 5th grade students, and I already see it at that age. Aside from that, another horror is that these mercury laden products will disproportionately put people of color at risk for harm. Be a responsible company and stop selling these doubly toxic products!
Raymond Litzsinger, Green Bay, WI	I share the concerns of the Sierra Club.
Michael and Susan O'Loughlin, Green Bay, WI	This is absolutely ridiculous! Stop selling these foolish products at once.
Susan Vande Hei, Green Bay, WI	This is a no-brainer!
Gloria Kopke, Greenfield, WI	Please do the right thing!
Adrianna Jereb, Kendall, WI	I hope the FDA shuts you both down if you don't stop selling these dangerous and harmful products.
Anne Winkle, Kenosha, WI	This is the country which has for the most part always supported the GREEDY and AMORAL and IMMORAL oligarchs over life. This country has been a perpetuate of hate and selfish ness except on a few rare occasions. Now the trend is backwards thanks to the brainwashing by the selfish and GREEDY oligarchs who figured out that by mixing religion in the minds of the people, they could kill us all for another dime profit, but then who would be their indentured servants.

Kristine Ziesemer, Kenosha, WI	Please show some responsibility in the products that you are involved with. Stop this immediately!
Sandra Kujak, La Crosse, WI	I am also very upset with Amazon's nasty & I think possible illegally underpricing of merchandise to drive out other companies. We as Americans need to stand up! We are losing our competition & choice.
Mary Mutch, La Crosse, WI	Mercury-based skin cream are among the most hazardous products available for sale on line. I find it very unnerving that you would even consider selling these and promoting them at the expense of thousands of people in this country and elsewhere. And your motive is even more unsettling. Please show serious concern about the danger and health problems your actions will take for the many persons who use them. Thank you for your consideration. Mary Mutch
Alan Ausel, Madison, WI	Mercury and skin are NOT compatible so be aware of the content of your products. Thank you! Alan R. Ausel
Jami Crespo, Madison, WI	Given the size and power of your companies, you should lead by setting an example of what is right. Please make the right choice for the health of people.
Diane Duechting Wilson, Madison, WI	I am shocked !
Jennifer Lanham, Madison, WI	Customers deserve protection and companies must be held to moral and ethical standards.
Louise Lund, Madison, WI	Prejudice lives, obviously, but using toxic chemicals to make a skin change is unacceptable.
Rita Meuer, Madison, WI	I won't buy from you!
Susan Michaels, Madison, WI	It's bad enough that more products are on the market that reinforce racism and artificial beauty standards. The fact that these products are harmful to health as well as illegal only add to the outrage.
Joy Rosenberry Chase, Madison, WI	WHY do we even NEED a petition about this? Seriously? it kills people, poisons them, and causes irreparable nerve damage! Why are you still selling these things?! Stop poisoning your customers!!!
Erin Wilichowski, Madison, WI	Not to mention that these products are racist and gross! Do we really need to encourage colorism?
Kristen Zehner, Marshall, WI	Selling skin lighteners is disgusting. People need to accept the way God and nature made them, including their skin coloring. These products are bogus ways of fleecing (mostly women I suspect) from emptying their pocketbooks stupidly. Stop making cash your only goal in life, and find another way to make a buck.
Kevin King, Menomonee Falls, WI	You guys can help make the world a better place by not selling products that hurt people. Please do a better job vetting the products that you allow to be sold on your platforms.
Lindsay Buell, Milwaukee, WI	Please stop selling these toxic products! It's beyond reprehensible.
John R. Carroll, Milwaukee, WI	My daughter-in-law's mother used one of the products offered on Amazon and destroyed her face, which is now pitted and scarred. Who knows how much mercury was in it? Use your incredible resources to protect your customers from unsafe products.

Gregory James, Milwaukee, WI	It is irresponsible to allow your companies to sell products like this.
Lydia Lague, Milwaukee, WI	Please help set the trend & be on the "right" side of this issue! For a better world, a better life for all.
David Lindberg, Milwaukee, WI	Please do this.
Kevin McDonald, Milwaukee, WI	It's a no-brainer.
Mark Medrek, Milwaukee, WI	Do the right thing.
Rosemary Oliviera, Milwaukee, WI	Don't you know people's health is more important than your profits?
Helen Marie Skierkowski, Milwaukee, WI	I did not know about the toxins in skin lightening products. Now that I know I want to add my name to those asking you to stop selling such products.
Leslie Stanick, Milwaukee, WI	Stop selling Mercury-based skin creams. These are toxic, cancer producing substances which have no place online where youth can buy them. Stop selling cancer-causing mercury-based skin creams.
Suzanne Stone, Milwaukee, WI	Please stop supporting the pollution of our natural resources!
	Consider your moral responsibility given your influence.
Caroline Fribance, Monona, WI	It is outrageous to think that these large entities permit these types of products. As mentioned, Europeans know and avoid these products, so it is not breaking new ground to do the same in the US. Should be simple, except for the financial gain end of it. Forget the money, Bezos, and eBay, you have quite enough, Do the Right Thing!
Mary Juneck, Mukwonago, WI	Don't we have enough toxic chemicals all around us? Do we need to find them in our makeup and skin creams? Stop selling these harmful products and spare people from more toxicity in their lives.
Wayne Gerlach, Muskego, WI	I am a customer of both businesses and would like to see them respond positively to this campaign.
Herbert Allen, Neenah, WI	I suspect your marketing adds to the longing of some people of color to look more like a white person. I suppose that would be acceptable if your products were legal and not toxic, but to profit from products that are poisonous and illegal is profoundly unethical and essentially a crime. Please do the right thing.
Susan Mitchell, New London, WI	Do not allow toxic products on your sites without disclosure to consumer that they could be harmful. Thank you
David Huebsch, Osceola, WI	Your greed kills
Helen Peel-Roelofs, Osceola, WI	It's your turn to take action and remove these products from your online sites. I will buy my products elsewhere if you don't take action and become more responsible.
Christa Lee Brynwood, Oshkosh, WI	Mercury exposure can cause an array of health conditions. Mercury doesn't belong in an beauty products or cosmetic product.
Kim Bednarowski, Pickett, WI	Thank you for saving our younger generations from this poison.
Pamela Caserta Hugdahl, Port Washington, WI	Consumers blindly trust that the products they see for sale are safe when used as promoted. Not to mention these products shame people for the natural color of their skin. Please protect people and water by removing these misleading, antiquated and toxic products from your site.
Pat Walsh, Port Washington, WI	Mercury-based skin creams are among the most hazardous products available for sale online.

Bongo Praninsky, Racine, WI	If ?lighter skin? is so desired, why do so many white women flock to tanning 'spas????
Janice Siska Hjelmgren, Racine, WI	So taking these precautions in Europe but not in other places seems lazy at best and sinister at worst. Whichever is true, please give even more are and attention every where you sell. Thank you.
Patricia Orthwein, Scandinavia, WI	You, as the providers, are responsible for damage from these products. Do the right thing!
Cheryl Koehler, Shawano, WI	Poisoning the population doesn't sell products.
Suzy Clarkson Holstein, Shorewood, WI	The whole idea of skin-lightening products is problematic; surely your multi-billion dollar companies can do without this line of business.
Chris Casper, Stevens Point, WI	So racist!
Dan and Mary Cornell, Thiensville, WI	Please show corporate responsibility on this issue.
Patricia Nadreau, Tomah, WI	As a prime member I would like to think that the things I am buying are safe - WTH
Rose Bohmann, Verona, WI	There's plenty of honest ways to make a buck. You who are in charge of the largest sales platforms ever can certainly afford to enforce safety standards for the merchandise you profit from.
Mary Cimbalk, Wales, WI	You certainly don't need to do this. Why do you?
Colene Lee, Washburn, WI	Dear Jeff, Do you really need the money from the profits on these creams? Do you realize in selling them you are an accessory to committing mayhem on those who purchase them because they've been brainwashed their skin is ugly?
Audrey Wolter, Watertown, WI	Hard to swallow that a company with the profits you enjoy would allow harmful products to the public. But greed is powerful.
Marcia Geiger, Waunakee, WI	Helping people die for lighter skin is crazy. Make certain that they ;understand just what the real cost is.
Sandra Grieger-Block, Waunakee, WI	Please say it is not so.
Arlene Kanno, Wisconsin Dells, WI	As if people of color don't have enough entities taking advantage of them! Despicable marketing!
Christine Atwell, Alderson, WV	Mercury is toxic in very tiny amounts, and people should not ever come near it. Mercury makes people irritable, makes them unable to learn, and is otherwise dangerous to the nervous system. Products containing mercury should not be sold.
G Paul Richter, Buckhannon, WV	As a chemist whose area of interest is inorganic chemistry and the chemistry of non-metals and metalloids, I am quite aware of mercury compounds? toxicities. Safe practice mandates no mercury compounds for cosmetic and trivial uses on or in the human body. Furthermore, excess use of such compounds ends up in public waters, further endangering human and aquatic animal health
Lee Mitchell, Charleston, WV	If you think mercury is harmless - add it to your food . . . think about it!
Maggie Loudon, Hedgesville, WV	Only sell safe personal care products
Carolyn Dickens, Huntington, WV	Stop the evil sales of horrible Mercury products.
Damon Mills, Huntington, WV	As your customer, I'm against you selling these substances.
Robert Bacharach, Lewisburg, WV	SERIOUSLY ? ! ? As fellow human beings - you have to be asked / told to stop selling products containing poisons / toxins ? Should that not be included in the definition of one guilty of CRIMES AGAINST HUMANITY ? SHAME ON YOU !!!!!

Elizabeth Gatt, Martinsburg, WV	Now that you know of this issue, your prompt removal is needed immediately!
Alice Wilson, Martinsburg, WV	This is scary, knowing people are using toxic products on their skin. The worst thing is that someone would be making toxic skin cream. I don't consider it your fault, amazon or eBay. But please do not continue to sell these or other harmful products. Thank you, AHWilson
Deborah Stowe, Cheyenne, WY	Enough is enough. Stop!
Cynthia Willson, Cheyenne, WY	Come on - do what's right!!! Cynthia
Pamela Marks, Sheridan, WY	Please PREVENT HARM by halting the sale of these dangerous products!
Joseph Appleton	Clearly the word immoral doesn't mean much to you. How about the word illegal?
Allison Duncan	Mercury has no place in any skin care products. Please help take these products off the market.
Demetrios E Lekkas	At the other end of the line, they are selling, someone is buying. By free choice. Who is buying this crap and why?
Roxanne Friedenfels	You need to take a look at your ethics and improve.
Anne Jones	I have a relative who developed a severe skin condition after using a skin-lightening product. Please check such creams BEFORE putting them on the market.
Lori Koon	Making people sick for beauty is just irresponsible
Sheila M.	How insensitive and antiquated!! All skin tones shine a light, regardless of their unique tone .. Stop the bias!
Vicki Quarles	This is a thing?! I had not idea. I thought it was a joke when I first read this. This is such a no-brainer. Do you all really need to make more money? Do the right thing and stop selling this crap. Like life isn't hard enough. Money isn't everything.
Andrea Reed	You can choose to do the right thing, but you haven't. Shameful.
Martha Siebe	Mercury is toxic. It should not be available for purchase in this form.
Grace Silva	My name is Grace Silva and I support the Sierra Club's message.
Hans Steiner	Please put the health of your customers before your profits. Thank you.
Mary Tierney	I shop at Amazon a lot! It makes sense that I not knowingly do business with a company that harms others
Heather Tisdale	some people want to lighten their skin Look at Michael Jackson although he didn't say he had done it. If some want to change their color from their own color & its ok with their families & back ground culture then I don't see why they cant do it, unless its dangerous to use these products then I say no to the use of if their are certain products that have dangerous side effects to the skin then they should not use it & it can therefore ruin your skin as well as your looks. So if they buy the products not knowing what its going to do to them, then more fool them for not checking on the contents personally I would love to have a sun tan glo but I wont buy a product that will do it & since the sun , "so they say" gives you cancer then I only stay out in it for about 10 min or so.
Jonda Travis	Stop
Christa Tremel	Protect the dignity of every single human being!
Penelope A Wong	Please just stop selling these products to unsuspecting consumers!
